Right Attitude Toward Cooperatives

There is a lot to be learned by studying the cooperative farm organization movement in Hermiston and vicinity. There are very few farmers in the adjacent territory to Hermiston who do not have a part in making these cooperatives successful.

The farmer who joins a cooperative with the idea that mere joining will immediately broaden his market, raise his prices and bring him prosperity, is doomed to disappointment.

When enough farmers join with the intention of working with and for the cooperative, loyally supporting it and seeking new members, in order to build for the future, they will get what they are seeking for. This attitude has been taken by farmers in this locality and the result has been that the Hermiston irrigation district is known as one of the most outstanding agricultural sections in the Northwest.

Lavada Nudo was operated on Sunday in Hermiston to relieve an infected throat gland from which she has been suffering for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Childs are being congratulated upon the birth of a son in a Walla Walla hospital Sunday, Feb. 5. Mrs. Childs was formerly Beth Martin.

Complimenting her husband on the anniversary of his birthday, Mrs. Martin Refvem entertained with a bridge dinner Wednesday evening. Besides the members of the family, guests present included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Greathouse, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ernest Sires, and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Starkweather.

Mrs. J. M. Richards is indisposed at her home east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Emery (Kathryn Attebery) of Pendleton announce the birth of a daughter Erlene in St. Anthony's hospital Tuesday, February 7.

The town basket ball team played the Pendleton National Guard here Friday evening and came out victorious in a score of 33-29.

Mrs. C. E. Greathouse and Mrs. E. B. Fires were joint hostesses at the brides home Saturday afternoon for seven tables of brides. Top score was received by C. M. McCall for the men; Mrs. D. B. Starkweather high for ladies; Mrs. C. M. McCall and Frank Sloan; family prizes to the Starkweather and Sloan families. The Valentine motif was used.

Mrs. Thomas A. O'Grady gave an interesting talk on the life and works of Harvey W. Scott, and Joaquin Miller, at the study club at the home of Mrs. F. B. Stuart Thursday afternoon.

Harvey W. Scott was editor of the Oregonian for 40 years and was the first graduate of the Pacific University. Probably no other man contributed more to the development of the Northwest, or had a larger part in determining the character of its growth.

Joaquin Miller has been called the poet laureate of the Northwest. A part of the ten years of his life which he spent in Oregon were lived at Eugene, and the rest near Canyon City where he practiced law and held a judgeship for one term. He planted the first apple orchard in that part of the state. Some of the trees still stand and a few still bear fruit. He died in 1913.

Pollyanna will meet next Wednesday, February 22, with Miss Lena Wade.

(Too late for last week.) Local Masons were hosts to their ladies Thursday evening with a "ground hog dinner" prepared by the men. Later in the evening, indoor horseshoe was the main diversion of the evening.

On Thursday afternoon the ladies aid observed guest day in the church parlors, with about fifty ladies present. In the absence of the president, Mrs. William T. Reeves, Mrs. F. A. Baker presided. Program numbers included a vocal solo by Rose Hooster, with Jane Gibson at the organ; skit by Billie Hedrick and Vivian Croner; and a reading by Myrta Martin. At the conclusion of the program, a relay race was staged as an ice breaker and the fun was on. Mrs. E. A. Hooster, Mrs. G. E. Greathouse, and Mrs. M. Refvem were social hour hostesses.

At the meeting of Stanfield Grange Monday night, Dr. T.K. Johnson and Harry McCormack were given the obligation. The Grange voted to accept the proposition of the Hermiston Herald providing it is ratified by the other cooperatives and farm organizations. The lecturer's program consisted of readings and a skit by Myrta Martin, Billie Hedrick, Vivian Croner and Sophronia Rhea, members of Mrs. Cora Olday's dramatic class. Doughnuts and coffee were served by Mrs. F. B. Stuart and Mrs. Emma Penney.

Sammy Fuscalds returned to Portland Tuesday following a week end visit at the home of his sister, Mrs.

The cooperative movement is gradually bringing agriculture out of chaos. It is laying a foundation on which permanently profitable prices and good markets can be done before any progress at all can be made, precisely as, years ago, it was done in major industries.

Cooperation, then, is simply enlightened self-interest. It isn't a quack panacea for all the farmers' ills. It is akin to the treatment of a first-class surgeon who knows that whenever possible he must get his patient in good general condition before attacking precise troubles. And the cooperative movement holds, perhaps to a greater degree than we realize, the future of American farming.

The Hermiston community will continue to grow agriculturally through its cooperative movement if such loyalty as has been shown by farmers in the past, is maintained.

STANFIELD NEWS NOTES

Members of the Stanfield-Hermiston Grange Cooperative held their annual meeting Friday, Feb. 10, in the grange hall. Two directors were elected to serve for a term of two years. A. S. Power to succeed himself and H. J. Ott to take the place of C. M. McCall.

The Stanfield branch is now operating in the building formerly occupied by the Home Building association with Dorris Garrison in charge. In addition to their regular line they expect to stock a variety of Farm Bureau feeds.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 12.

The Golden Text was, "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard; which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved" (Ps. 66:8, 9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live" (Isa. 55:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and this one never included in a limited mind or limited body. Spirit is eternal, divine. Nothing but Spirit, Soul, can evolve life, for Spirit is more than all else. Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as Immortality brought to light" (p.335).

Courage and Character

George Washington

First National Bank of Hermiston will be closed all day Wed., Feb. 22nd, in honor of Washington's Birthday.

To George Washington the nation pays tribute once again. It is fitting that we recall the sterling qualities of this man of destiny who so ably led a badly equipped and poorly trained army to victory. No crisis ever demanded more versatile ability and knowledge than that of 1776. And it is to the courage and the true character of Washington that the United States owes its very existence. Aggressive in the very face of defeat, Washington's courage carried on. Today in the nation's need of courage we add our tribute to Washington and the character for which he stands.

All-Fun Show.

"The Half Naked Truth", comedy feature, "The Floorwalker", a Charlie Chaplin comedy, and a Tom and Jerry cartoon make the Oasis program for this Sunday and Monday as filled with merrit.

"The Half Naked Truth" is a tale of the exploits of a press agent. Lee Tracy, with his glib tongue and excessive hands, is perfectly cast as a press agent. Some of the tricks he puts over to reach the front page rival some of the real-life exploits of the most spectacular of publicity men, the late Harry Reichenbach. Nothing seems to daunt Tracy. Not even the fact that some of his stunts ring a lot of trouble as well as money. His fertile brain and colossal nerve are equal to the occasion.

Lupe Velez, in the role of an oriental dancer in a carnival, whom Tracy makes a star in a Broadway show by his daring publicity method.

Cowboys and Indians in Europe.

Tom Mix, the greatest Western star, and his famous horse, Tony, will appear on the Oasis screen Friday and Saturday in "My Pal, the King."

Plenty of action and thrills with all its western glamour and color but the settings are transferred to a new and unusual background, a mystical little European kingdom called Olvaina. Mix and his cowboys put on a real wild west show in this little empire and it is through this performance that he strikes up a friendship with the ten year old king whose life he is later called on to save from scheming political enemies.

The supporting cast includes Mickey Rooney who plays the boy king, Noel Francis, Jim Thorpe, and James Kirkwood.

This exciting and rapid-moving picture is good, clean, wholesome entertainment for everybody. Grown ups will like it as well as children.

Each adult will be entitled to bring one child in free this Saturday night.
