:SOCIETY:

A delightfully entertaining bridge-luncheon was given Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Enos Martin with Mrs. E. L. Jackson acting as joint hostess. Following the afternoon's play, the prize for high honors was presented to Mrs. Ralph Richards, the cut prize to Mrs. W. L. Morgan, and consolation to Mrs. Logan Todd.

Mrs. Lola Hall was complimented on her 94th birthday Wednesday, February 22, at her home here, and was made happy by the many friendly greetings and remembrances. Mrs. Hall has been a resident of Hermiston since 1915 and is made happy each year by celebrating her birthday together with that of the father of our country. Greetings were sent to her from friends in many eastern states. Her son G. L. Hall of McMinnville was with her.

The last of a series of bridge supper parties were given this week by Mrs. W. L. Hamm at her home. Each was a delightfully unique self-service affair. High honors in the first group were won by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shesely, and consolation by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Norton. In the second group high honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Norton, and consolation by Mr. and Mrs. F. McKenzie. High honors for women in the third group went to Mrs. E. L. Jackson, and for men to Mr. B. S. Kingsley. General prize went to Joe Reeves.

The last of the series was a jig-saw supper party including self-service and many other unusual features. Instead of place cards at each plate, a letter containing instructions was found and the guests carried out these instructions during the evening. Guests were given an achievement test which included a tasting and smelling contest, and their knowledge of art. Each was scored on speed and accuracy. General high score was attained by Miss Margaret Elliott and Supt. R. H. McAtee. Second high went to Miss Myrtle Clayton, and a tie was held between Mrs. McAtee and Miss Esther Sibert.

After making arrangements for his burial and paying the sexton for digging his grave, Fred Peppin of Northfield, Vt., went to the back of an undertaking parlor and shot himself.

Dispensing with haphazard methods, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ginn of Bowman, Ga., have used the alphabet consecutively from B to Q in naming their 16 children.
