GOOD WILL TOUR DELEGATION EXPECTED HERE TUESDAY NOON

SPECIAL PROGRAM ARRANGED BY LOCAL BUSINESSMEN.

Commercial Club Will Welcome Visitors At Luncheon; Dodd Urges Umatilla Rapids Promotion.

A record attendance of twenty-seven local businessmen were present at the Hermiston Hotel Tuesday night for the regular Commercial Club meeting.

President E. P. Dodd announced that he had been informed by the Walla Walla Chamber of Commerce that a caravan of cars composed of men making a good-will tour of Umatilla county would be in Hermiston Tuesday, October 17, for noon luncheon. The main purpose of the tour, Mr. Dodd said, was to create more interest in the work being pushed for the construction of a dam at Umatilla rapids in order to complete the development of the Columbia river to make it navigable to the mouth of the Snake river.

Mr. Dodd appointed a committee in the persons of H. T. Fraser, H. A. Fankow, and J. S. Burnham, who will head the reception committee and make arrangements for the luncheon.

The tour will be directed by R. B. Bragg of Walla Walla, who has routed the tour through Umatilla, Hermiston, Stanfield, and Echo. It was indicated at the meeting that approximately twenty local businessmen would be on hand to welcome the visiting delegation. It was suggested and favorably voted upon that a high school boy be selected to deliver the address of welcome to the group.

Other business coming before the meeting was the need of improvements in roads adjacent to Hermiston and in city street construction, which was pointed out by O. O. Felthouse, a strong road booster in the community. Mr. Felthouse also suggested that another bigger and better clean-up day be sponsored by the club in the near future. Members of the road committee were instructed, by the president, to take immediate action in these matters.

Dodd Urges Promotion.

Following the regular business session of the club, Mr. Dodd gave a report on his work as executive secretary to the Tri-State Development League which is working for the further development of the Columbia river at Umatilla rapids, and explained the need for further promotion in the work by the people of the Inland Empire.

Mr. Dodd said that his brief of facts and information had been sent in to Marshall N. Dana, regional advisor for the public works administration, who had previously informed him that the committee's report was ready to be sent to Washington immediately upon receipt of the brief from the Tri-State Development League. These two reports, he said, were compiled following a Columbia-Snake river hearing in Pendleton several weeks ago.

A committee from the local club was appointed and instructed to conceive a plan of procedure in furthering the work, by cooperating with other towns and organizations. Members of the committee are H. J. Stillings, chairman, Chas. Taylor, Sam Moore, J. S. Burnham, and W. W. Felthouse.

Coyotes Raid Chicken Pen.

Forty-one laying pullets in the Dr. Theo. Beletski flock of White Leghorns were killed Tuesday morning when coyotes raided the pen. The pullets were still ranging about the brooder house prior to being transferred to the laying houses, and were inclosed by wire netting, over which the coyotes jumped. Dr. Beletski said he was getting three dozen eggs from these pullets before the invasion, and suggested that poultry raisers take precautionary measures against similar invasions in their own flocks.

F. L. Metz Place Sold.

Ray N. Null and family from Kansas are moving onto the F. L. Metz 8-acre tract this week. The farm is located south of the old experimental station and was purchased from the estate recently.

POSTER TOWLE ASSIGNED STANFIELD PROJECT ENGINEER

Poster Towle, member of the engineering staff of the Owyhee project the past few years, is now on the Stanfield project to study the rehabilitation of that project with the $100,000 appropriation which has been allocated to the Stanfield project by the bureau of public works. Towle was sent to Stanfield by R. J. Newell, Owyhee project engineer, who was recently assigned the supervision of the Stanfield work.

The work being done by Towle will determine the actual cost of necessary construction on the project, says F. A. Baker, secretary for the Stanfield Irrigation district. The appropriation allocated to the project was recommended by H. W. Dashore, reclamation engineer, who made a survey three years ago. Mr. Dashore is now working on the Columbia basin project, the Grand Coulee dam in Washington.

Until the survey is completed it is impossible to determine how much employment the construction will create. It is not anticipated there will be any construction before spring.

PENDLETON WINS OVER HERMISTON 18-0 SATURDAY

BUCKAROOS HELD SCORELESS IN SECOND HALF.

Bulldogs Show Fighting Spirit Throughout Game; All Extra Try for Points Blocked.

The Hermiston Bulldogs put up a strong defense Saturday afternoon when they met the heavier team from Pendleton on the local field, but lost by the score of 18-0.

Scoring all three of their touchdowns in the first half, the Pendleton Buckaroos were held scoreless in the second half, but the Hermiston team tightened up and held them for four downs to gain possession of the ball. With the splendid kicking of Paul and Stuart the Buckaroos were pushed back into safer territory.

Graybeal, star half back of the Buckaroos, scored in the first five minutes of the game, running thirty-five yards around left end. A few minutes later when Hermiston kicked, he returned the ball across the goal line for his second and the third Buckaroo score. The Bulldogs successfully blocked all three try points.

Clark Paul, who broke his finger in the practice last Thursday, was seen in action during part of the game. A number of new material men of Coach Cochran's team showed some splendid work during the last few minutes of the game.

A record crowd of approximately 700 people witnessed the exciting game, with a number of cars coming from Pendleton.

This Friday, the Bulldogs journeyed a long way to fight the fast and furious Waitsburg, Wn., gridiron team. Waitsburg has a strong team every year and with the game being played on a turf field, the Bulldogs will meet heavy opposition.

4-H CLUBBERS READY FOR PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL.

Always striving to exceed past records by "making the best better," 4-H club boys and girls of Oregon and the Pacific northwest seem certain to achieve this goal at the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland October 21-28, according to early information gathered by the state club department at O. S. C.

Advance indications are for 75 to 100 pens of market hogs grown out by club members, 75 to 80 baby beeves compared with 30 last year, 100 or more sheep, and scores of dairy cows and calves to say nothing of the poultry, crops and home economics displays.

The club members this year will be working for $3924 in prizes which, with the money received from the annual club fat stock auction will, allow the youngsters to take home from $12,000 to $14,000 from the show this year—and this is only a "by-product" of the training and experience gained, the club leaders say.

The Misses Elaine Goodyear, Inez McClure, Cathryn Collins, Jane Trombley, Dorothy Pierce, Mary Williams, and Lauree Windsor of Pendleton were guests of Ruth Dodd Saturday afternoon. While here they attended the Hermiston vs. Pendleton high school football game.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

You couldn't guess how old C. M. Best is? He told us he was born October 13, 1871. Friday the 13th is just another milestone for him this year. Happy birthday.

Archie Chiselberry isn't the only one who finds himself wide awake at 2 o'clock in the morning, unable to sleep. Ernest Carson, we are told comes home in the wee 'nma hours and instead of getting a few winks of sleep like most ordinary folks, he leaves the light burning and reads a book. The author of the book is to be complimented on composing such an interesting text.

L. C. "Grandpa" Dyer was evidently due home a little before noon yesterday because he was worrying about finding it necessary to call home in the face of the fact that he was late. We might suggest throwing the hat in first.

Ye modern youth—was heard to say "Boy, I'm glad they put those morning exams off until tomorrow. That will give me more time to prepare."
