

FARM CO-OPERATIVE DIVISION

A MESSAGE TO EVERY MEMBER.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS UMATILLA CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

The cream trucks will gather cream six days a week beginning November 1st. The cream can be made into butter by running the plant six days a week as easily as in seven days during the cool weather, without injuring the quality of the butter, and it will mean a saving in the cost of operating the plant.

The routes are to be arranged as follows:

NOVEMBER 1st:
 Wednesday Columbia Route
 Thursday Stanfield Route
 Friday Boardman Route
 Saturday Columbia Route
 Monday Stanfield Route
 Tuesday Boardman Route

Cold Storage Considered Further.

A meeting of the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery directors was held in Assistant County Agent Best's office Tuesday evening, October 24, for the purpose of deciding on some plan of action on the construction of the much talked-of cold storage room for the members of the cooperatives.

Several men interested in the project were invited in to express their opinions.

It was decided that no action be taken until a more accurate, and complete list of applicants for lockers is compiled.

Some information on the type of lockers now in use in other creameries can be had at the Farm Bureau or the creamery. The sign-up will be continued in the hope that the list may be completed by the first of November.

BUTTER TO BE PURCHASED; WHEAT CHECKS DISCUSSED.

While definite word has not yet been received as to the outcome of the national hearing on a dairy processing tax in Washington, D. C., October 16, much has been happening in the past week in the agricultural adjustment administration of interest to Oregon dairymen and wheat growers particularly, says the current review from the Oregon State college extension service.

One of the most significant moves in the dairy products trade is the definite announcement made at Washington that surplus butter will be purchased by the government for relief purposes, thus tending to relieve the excessive storage surplus now on hand. Foreseeing such a development, Oregon dairy interests sent A. E. Engbretson, superintendent of the Astoria branch experiment station, to Washington to see, if possible, that the Pacific coast is not overlooked in any such market operations.

Another significant move on the "dairy front" is the announcement that manufacturers of oleomargarine are negotiating with the A.A.A. for a marketing agreement, one of the proposed provisions of which is to limit the manufacturers of oleo to the use of domestic fats and oils exclusively. If such an agreement is made effective, it will accomplish at one stroke much that the dairy interests have fought for in the way of traffic restrictions on foreign oils, observers say.

Turning to the wheat adjustment campaign, word comes from Washington warning farmers who have signed applications or contracts, against being persuaded by creditors to assign their wheat adjustment checks to them in advance. This, it is pointed out, is a direct violation of the wheat contract.

"The purpose of the wheat adjustment payment is to put this additional purchasing power into the hands of the farmer for him to use at his discretion — not merely to have him assign his adjustment payment to the first creditor that reaches him," says George E. Farrell, associate chief of the wheat section.

Farmers will be paid in county groups in the order in which the applications are received. Checks will go to the treasurer of the county wheat production control association for distribution by him. Local county association expenses will not be deducted until the second payments are made next spring.

Rat Poison Distributed.

Harold Dobyns of the U. S. Biological Survey, cooperating with Assistant County Agent Garnet D. Best and a committee of Echo citizens, mixed up 32 pounds of rat poison and the same was distributed in Echo. This campaign is to thin out the rats that have been creating so much havoc there recently.

CANNING SCHEDULE.

October 23 to 28.

Meats — Thursday.
 Squash — Friday

A total of 66,000 cans have been processed by the cannery since the first of the year, against 45,000 at this same time last year.

Farm Bureau Closes 5:00 P.M.

Beginning Monday, October 30, the Farm Bureau Co-operative will close at 5:00 p. m., which is in accordance with the usual winter schedule.

Turkey Shipment Soon.

Work on the new shipment headquarters for the Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' association, will commence this week, so everything will be in readiness for shipments on the 8th and 22d of November.

Before cold weather starts, the building is to be insulated, and an office installed so that birds will not freeze when it is necessary to leave them over night in the warehouse.

Farm Bureau Auxiliary Notes.

At the last meeting of the Farm Bureau Auxiliary, held October 19, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. H. T. Clark, president; Mrs. Claud Upham, vice president; Mrs. Henry Sommerer, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Jackson Harr, press agent; and Mrs. Hughes, and Mrs. O. Wells, executive committee members.

The program after election was in the nature of a Halloween party. The club house was appropriately decorated with Jack o'lanterns, witches and black cats. The Halloween stunts and games were cleverly planned and conducted by the committee in charge. Mrs. Henry Hooker acted as chairman.

The next meeting will be Friday, November 3. The subject will be "Christmas Suggestions," and each member is requested to bring something home made and inexpensive for display. Mrs. C. E. Wells, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Upham, and Mrs. Barham will be the hostesses. Visitors are always welcome.

MRS. SAGER WILL CONDUCT STUDY OF MATERIALS.

According to word received from County Agent Holt's office, Mrs. Exallia Sager, extension specialist in clothing and textiles, has arranged with the women in the west end of the county for a meeting at Stanfield Grange hall Tuesday, November 14. The hours are to be from 2 to 4 in the afternoon, and the main part of her subject will be "The Study of Materials and Tests for Detecting Adulterations and Wearing Quality."

This demonstration is valuable in helping the women to obtain the most for their money in the purchase of materials, either by yard or ready-made.

A demonstration was held in Hermiston last Thursday and those who attended plan on being at the meeting in Stanfield.

NEW O.S.C. TRUCK FIELD GIVING IRRIGATION FACTS.

Facts for vegetable growers interested in irrigation are being gathered by the horticultural department of the Oregon State college experiment station which this year established a new irrigated vegetable plot watered from two driven wells. Starting with a stubble field in April, A. G. B. Bouquet, professor of vegetable crops, has brought the two acres into heavy production in the summer months and will soon harvest fall crops of cabbage, cauliflower and other vegetables.

The new experimental plot is on bottom land where two wells driven with three-inch casings 14 feet apart and 31 feet deep give a flow of 140 gallons per minute through a centrifugal pump operated by a three-horse power motor. The wells cost less than $100 to drive.

About an acre of the plot is equipped with overhead irrigation using portable rotating pipe set 45 feet apart. By having it portable only half as much pipe is used. Accurate expense records are being kept which show the cost of applying water this year was only about $1 per acre per month. One acre is irrigated from ditches.

When James Cortner of Chicago entered the hospital for an operation he refused to accept bed No. 13, in his ward, saying he was born on Friday and that the combination was more than he could stand.

FARM BUREAU MEETING SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY P.M.

There will be a meeting of the Umatilla Project Farm Bureau, Saturday night, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Hermiston Union church.

Harold Dean will lead a discussion on forage crops, and anyone who may have anything of value to contribute about the various emergency crops grown on the project this year, is especially requested to be present to give his neighbor the benefit of what he has learned.

Anyone who has any questions to ask about the Farm Bureau Cooperative will also be given an opportunity to do so. Someone will be present to answer these questions.

H. J. OTT, President.

Farm Relief.

The whole program having for its purpose the redemption of agriculture is experimental. If farmers had the genius to organize like labor and business has organized, we would not need to experiment.

The lack of the use of brains on the part of farmers and their failure to organize themselves, as other groups are organized, constitutes the two main reasons why they are down and out.

There is nothing which government may do which will permanently raise the status of agriculture if farmers continue to be individualists and try to beat the game by their own individual efforts. Permanent good may come to agriculture only by efficient organization to the end that buying and selling may be done by group organization. In other words the co-operative movement which includes both buying and selling is the only permanent solution of agriculture.

Inflation will raise the level of all prices. If farmers fail to organize so as to take advantage of the improved price level they will find themselves little better off in the end because the prices of what they have to buy will rise just as rapidly, and perhaps more so, than the prices of what they have to sell.—Sioux County Pioneer Arrow, North Dakota.
