INTEREST RATE ON FARM LOANS LOWERED MATERIALLY.

The livestock men and farmers of the Northwest who have access to credit through livestock loan companies, agricultural credit corporations or qualified cooperative marketing associations doing business with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane, realize the importance of President Ehrhardt's announcement of a reduction of the bank's interest rate from 3 1/2% to 3%, effective November 15. The rate has been lowered 2 1/2% in two years, as on November 16, 1931, the rate was 5 1/2%.

The Credit Bank's system relies primarily on funds for its use from the sale of debentures, which have always been well regarded as high class investments. Debentures are readily purchased by commercial banks and investment houses because of their liquidity.

The Credit Bank has discounted loans from livestock loan companies, agricultural credit corporations and banks in excess of $115,000,000 from organization to date—a ten year period. It has also loaned approximately $41,000,000 to cooperative marketing associations.

Loans outstanding at the close of business October 31, were: $28,500,000, which according to types of security, are classed approximately as follows:

Dairy Cattle	$ 384,000
Range Cattle	10,170,000
Sheep	13,640,000
Crop Production	2,740,000
General	200,000
Commodity Loans	1,300,000

Due to the recent increased demand for agricultural products, cooperative associations have not borrowed as heavily this past season, stated Mr. Ehrhardt.

"A reduction of one-half of one per cent in the Spokane bank's interest rate means a saving in interest charged to farmers over a twelve months period of approximately $140,000."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 12. The Golden Text was, "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God" (Rom. 8:19).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons. . . . I have made the earth, and created man upon it" (Isa. 45:11, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man in the likeness of God as revealed in Science cannot help being immortal. . . . Erase the figures which express number, silence the tones of music, give to the worms the body called man, and yet the producing, governing, divine Principle lives on,—in the case of man as truly as in the case of numbers and of music,—despite the so-called laws of matter, which define man as mortal. . . . In Science, man's immortality depends upon that of God, good, and follows as a necessary consequence of the immortality of good" (p. 81).

Byrd Expedition "Perfectly" Organized

Ready for the Antarctic Trail

NORFOLK, VA.—When Rear Admiral Byrd sailed the other day for the South Pole, old-time explorers called his the most perfectly organized and equipped expedition ever to leave American waters.

By actual count, there were more than 12,000 separate items of exploration equipment aboard the two Byrd ships, but this in itself did not impress the Polar veterans. What did impress them, however, was the fact that every article of equipment carried by the expedition had been selected only after months of experiments and painstaking research.

The special ski boots which Admiral Byrd and his men will wear on their second dash to the South Pole are an illustration. Knowing that men's lives in the Polar wastes depend upon strong footwear, the admiral personally collaborated with the experts of the Thom McAn shoe factories in New England in designing these unusual boots. With the experts he discussed the extreme weather conditions in Antarctica, where temperatures of 90 degrees below zero are frequent, and winds of 200 miles an hour not uncommon, and how best to avoid the hazards of frozen feet. Above all, he insisted, boots for Polar wear must be BIG. For if the explorer is to be efficient on the trail, his footwear must be large enough to permit the use of a thick felt insole, have toe room for a big wad of Arctic moss to absorb moisture, and still admit feet clad in several pairs of heavy woolen stockings.

Subsequently they experimented, designed and discarded until they were agreed on a model which offered maximum protection to the explorers.

The ski boot pictured above represents the fruit of their collaboration. It weighs 2 1/2 pounds and Admiral Byrd calls it the strongest boot ever manufactured for Polar wear.

Admiral Byrd (above) and the ski boot he designed for service at the bottom of the world. It weighs 2 1/2 pounds and is called the strongest boot ever made.
