CONGRESSMAN PIERCE DISCUSSES NATIONAL RECOVERY BILL

ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON BY WAY OF PANAMA.

Explains Reason for Recovery Bill and Intended Benefits; Result of Gold Buying Policy Uncertain.

More than one hundred people heard ex-Governor Walter M. Pierce, congressman from the sixth congressional district, speak Wednesday night in the Union church in support of the present administration's industrial recovery act, and on other topics of national and local interest.

Congressman Pierce and Mrs. Pierce are enroute to Washington, D. C., for the next regular session of congress, by way of San Francisco, Panama Canal, and New York. Mrs. Pierce acts in the capacity of secretary to the congressman and is equally as interesting to listen to as the congressman himself. Mr. Pierce will speak at Mosier Thursday evening, at Arlington Friday, and before the Igo Grange Saturday evening. He goes to Portland Sunday where he is scheduled to give a radio address Monday. Tuesday he and Mrs. Pierce leave for San Francisco where they take a boat for New York, arriving there December 16.

In his talk Congressman Pierce described the scene in Washington last March when members of the house and senate passed the banking bill which was signed by the president and became a law in less than an hour. Mr. Pierce considered the recovery bill the keynote of all bills, which originally included three billion, three hundred million dollars for financing the different sections of the bill. The three main reasons for the bill were for unemployment relief, to divide the fruits of industry, and a system devised to collect sufficient funds to return the borrowed money used in carrying out the public works program.

Under these three divisions the public works program is to relieve unemployment, the business code to avoid monopoly in industry, and the capital tax of 1% on each $1000 of declared capital, together with the gasoline tax and other processing taxes to insure the return of borrowed money used in carrying out the recovery program, Mr. Pierce said.

These available federal funds, he said, are being used in the development of rivers, harbors, highways, and on many projects over the states (Continued on page 2)

Farm Changes Hands.

James Omohundro of the Butter Creek country has purchased the 80-acre farm, owned by S. L. Carson. Mr. Carson recently purchased what is known as the H. W. Klages place on the Butter Creek highway west of town. The Carson place is on the river bottom land on the Brownell project near Umatilla.

Dawson Injures Hand.

Orval Dawson, employe of the Farm Bureau Co-operative, received a painful injury to his hand last Friday, soon after he arrived on the job at the plant. His hand, which was lacerated and bruised, was treated at the hospital, and he is reported as doing nicely.

NRA IS SUBJECT FOR DEBATE THIS YEAR.

(From The Bulldog) Debate tryouts were held November 3, and the following teams were selected out of an unusually large number of candidates: Affirmative, Wayne Powers and Don Serell; Negative, Barbara Reid and Edith Clarke. This year's squad consists of all new members except Don Serell, who was a member of last year's team.

The first debate will be held December 15th, with Hermiston's negative debating the affirmative of MacLoughlin High. Hermiston's affirmative will journey to Milton to meet their negative. This is a practice debate and the following question is the subject: Resolved: "That the United States should adopt the essential features of the NRA as permanent policies."

LEGION AUXILIARY NEWS Unit No. 37

The new Legion hall was filled to capacity last Thursday night when a pot luck supper was given prior to the regular meeting of the Legion post. During the dinner hour Commander Garnet D. Best, called upon J. M. Biggs of La Grande, former commander of the local post and also of the department of Oregon, who enumerated the different activities of this post and unit during the past few years. "Its contribution to the state department work, and its representatives to state and national conventions has been commendable," he said.

Mrs. Biggs and Cecil Kelley also spoke a few words in appreciation of the feed. Officer Petinger of the state police, and membership chairman for the Pendleton post, told of his accomplishments in that capacity, and stated that his post would be over the top this year.

Several musical selections were given by the Auxiliary chorus, and by a mixed quartet composed by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamm, Mrs. Geo. Story, and Garnet D. Best.

After the banquet a short business session was held by the Legionnaires, and then the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and singing.

All Auxiliary members who can sing are asked to meet every Monday night with the group who are practicing songs for Thanksgiving and Christmas. Mrs. W. L. Hamm is music chairman and will be able to inform all those who are interested where the meeting is held each week.

Mrs. Garnet D. Best, president of the Auxiliary unit, is again able to go out following her recent illness. It is hoped that she will soon be able to direct the work of the unit.

"ONE OF THE FAMILY" IS CHOSEN BY SENIORS.

(From The Bulldog) At a class meeting November 15, the seniors accepted the recommendation of the play committee which had as its first choice "One of the Family." This is a three-act comedy and will be given February 2, at the Oasis theatre, under the direction of Miss Margaret Elliott, class adviser.

The play committee consisted of Eugene Pierce, Anna Ray Martin, Melvin Follett, and Helen Jendrzewski.

The class decided to pay for the play books out of the treasury, and to allow no one to try out for a part unless his class dues are paid.

Announcements were also selected at this meeting. The choice of the class was a three-fold card of heavy paper with the class monogram in silver and black on the front cover. A distinctive feature of this announcement is that no separate personal card is necessary.

WASCO TROUNCES LOCAL TOWN FOOTBALL TEAM, 6-0.

By M. T. Matott. The Hermiston town football team motored to Wasco Sunday and played the Wasco Town team. Wasco won 6 to 0.

The Wasco team outweighed Hermiston 15 to 20 pounds to the man. The Wasco line averaged over two hundred pounds but were unable to smudge the Hermiston line, that averaged one hundred and seventy pounds.

On the second play of the game Hermiston shot a pass, Hammond to Yeager, that was good for fifty yards, two yards short of a touchdown. Some one on the Wasco bench said Hermiston was off side and they brought the ball back. That bit of work cost Hermiston a touchdown and probably the game.

Hermiston's passing attack worked very nicely, completing seven out of nine. Wasco completed one out of seven.

Ray Woodward did some nice work on receiving, with Hammond doing some nice throwing. Hammond's fifty yard pass to Yeager, who went high in the air to receive the pass, was the outstanding play of the game.

Wasco will play a return game at Hermiston a week from Sunday, December 3rd. This week Saturday afternoon, the alumni will tackle the Bulldogs, who have shown a strong opposition in the last few games.

Hermiston's lineup:

Yeager	RH	Shafer	LG
Hammond	F	Whitsett	RC
R Woodward	LH	Roberts	RG
Longhorn	Q	Jackson	RT

FEDERAL FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR LOCAL RELIEF WORK

$1500 MAY BE APPORTIONED TO HERMISTON.

Hand Labor Required on Projects Financed by This Fund; Local Work Will Start Soon.

Judge Cheshire and Commissioner Hale of the Umatilla county court were in Hermiston Tuesday calling on Mayor McKenzie, with the information that the City of Hermiston was entitled to its share of the 200-million dollars recently appropriated by the federal government for relief work in states, counties and towns. The money will be proportioned to the states, and then to the counties, and the county will apportion funds to the cities according to their needs.

Projects to come under this relief work in Hermiston will be under the direction of H. A. Pankow, city water superintendent, and anyone wishing to secure employment must register with Mr. Pankow, or at the Oregon Hardware.

A fund of approximately $1500 are available for employment relief in Hermiston from the state fund of between four or five million dollars. The maximum wage paid for labor will be fifty cents an hour, for five hours a day, and six hours a week.

A minimum of 65 per cent of this amount must be used for hand labor, and not more than 35 per cent may be used for materials, power, and trucks.

Work will start Monday on the city water mains and the irrigation district line running south and west from the Farm Bureau.

Beasley-Glascock.

Mr. Francis Glascock and Miles M. Beasley, both of Hermiston were united in marriage at a quiet home wedding Saturday, November 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. New Madden. The ceremony was performed by New Madden, elder of the Mormon church. Only close friends and relatives were present at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Beasley left Monday afternoon for Pomeroy, Wn., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Propst. Mrs. Propst is Mrs. Beasley's sister. While away they will look for a location.

Both are well known in Hermiston and this paper joins with their many friends in wishing them happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kelley of LaGrande were business visitors in Hermiston the first of the week. They also attended the Legion-Auxiliary pot luck supper last Thursday night in the Legion hall.

TWO CARLOADS TURKEYS SHIPPED TO LOS ANGELES.

The second shipment of turkeys to leave Hermiston this season will be enroute to a Los Angeles, Cal., market Friday, going through the Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' association, which held its second pool Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Two cars filled to capacity held 3,509 birds, averaging 47,904 pounds, of which 85 per cent were prime birds.

Due to the warm weather it was necessary to pre-cool the birds before they were allowed to leave for the market.

Besides these two carloads, approximately 4000 pounds of birds were shipped through the Hermiston Produce Co., according to George Wagner. Of these birds 85 per cent were prime.

LOCAL STORE CELEBRATES CHANGE IN NAME

To celebrate the change of its name the local MacMarr store has prepared a large list of values which appear in this paper, and invites you to view the new store front under the new banner of Safeway. Heretofore Hedwall will be retained as manager of Safeway, assisted by Ernest Carson.

The local store has served Hermiston and surrounding territory for over three years, and until the past few months has been known as the MacMarr store.

Bert Little Recovering.

Word has been received here that Bert Little, of Baker, former resident of Hermiston, is recovering nicely from a recent severe attack of pneumonia. At the time he was taken ill he was baling hay for W. W. Felthouse in Wallawa county and was cared for in the Wallawa hospital where he was seriously ill for several days. It is understood that he has returned to his home in Baker.

Unusual Star Seen.

The brilliant planet Venus seen in the western heavens Monday night in conjunction with the moon was a sight rarely seen, although it occurs at regular intervals. The planet Venus appeared at the upper crest of the moon, hanging low on the horizon, and is visible only during a few months of the fall and early winter. A casual observer could not overlook the brilliance and position of the planet.

HERALD WILL BE PUBLISHED EARLY NEXT WEEK.

In view of the fact that next Thursday is Thanksgiving, and a legal holiday, the Herald will be published a day early, in order that the city mail may reach subscribers Wednesday night. The paper will reach readers on the rural routes at the usual time Friday.

Rural correspondence should be in not later than Monday in order to appear in this issue, and all advertising copy should be in earlier than usual.

POSTAL SERVICE URGES PUBLIC TO MAIL PACKAGES EARLY.

Christmas is four weeks away and it is time to start thinking of shopping, and mailing packages. The postal service is urging the public to shop and mail early this year due to the fact that the windows in all post offices will be closed two consecutive days, on Sunday and Monday, December 24th and 25th.

Early holiday mailing will aid both the public and the post office force, and will avoid both mistakes and delays. It has been suggested by some postmasters that if the public will anticipate their needs and buy stamps, envelopes, etc., in advance as much as possible, it will aid in avoiding congestion.

Outgoing mail from the local office closes at 6:00 p. m., and all letters mailed before that time are included. The window closes promptly at 5:00 o'clock, and opens on the week days at 8:00 a. m. The rural mail carriers leave the office at 9:30 a. m.

The rate on first-class matter is "1 cent per ounce or fraction thereof" for drop letters for city delivery; 2 cents for delivery on the rural routes; and 3 cents for out of town letters.

All day train and bus service has now been discontinued, and all incoming and outgoing mail is dropped in Hermiston and carried out at night.

NEW PICTURES GIVES WILL ROGERS OPPORTUNITY

Will Rogers returns again. This time to the Oasis theatre for Friday and Saturday in "Too Busy to Work." The role of "Jubilo" is said to give the famous wit more than the usual opportunities for his humor and is reported at the same time highly sympathetic.

The story of "Too Busy to Work" revolves around the adventures of a philosophical and kindly vagabond and his search for his daughter whom his unfaithful wife took with her when she ran away with a more aristocratic man while he was fighting in the war.

Marion Nixon, who scored successfully in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "Amateur Daddy," has the leading feminine role, dividing the love interest with Dick Powell, a newcomer to the screen who made his debut in "Blessed Event." Ben Ames Williams wrote the story.

Signboards Down.

A representative of the Foster & Kleiser Billboard Co. was in town the first of the week removing the framework for sign boards along the Main street. These are being taken down to be used along main artery highways in Portland and other large cities. This is also being done in other small towns in this part of the state.

Program and Pie Social.

A program and pie social will be given by members of the Columbia Christian Endeavor Saturday, November 25, at the school house. A short comedy entitled "Madison Square at Eight" will be given along with other numbers. No maximum price will be set on the purchase of pies. The girls are requested to bring pies.

Manager of School Paper.

Dan Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Biggs of LaGrande, has been elected manager of the "Bi-Weekly Events," a school paper published by the students of the seventh and eighth grades. The first issue was published November 8. The students are elected to the positions on the paper.

ATHENA WINS GAME FROM BULLDOGS FRIDAY 12-0 SCORE

VISITORS WIN SECOND CONTEST WITH BULLDOGS, 12-0.

Harris Is Outstanding Hermiston Player; Geissel Is Bright Spot in Athena Offense.

(From The Bulldog)

In a hard fought game Friday, November 17, the Hermiston Bulldogs held Athena to a 12-0 score on the local field. Athena had previously defeated Hermiston by a more lopsided score and are considered Eastern Oregon's best team.

Hermiston received and downed the ball on the 20 yard line. After an exchange of punts, Ralph Moore, Athena right half intercepted a short pass intended for Dawson and ran 25 yards untouched to score. The try for point was blocked. After several punt exchanges, Rogers of Athena passed a perfect 40-yard pass to Geissel who was downed in his tracks. A series of driving plays aided by dazzling broken field runs by Geissel, put the ball on the 4-yard line. On the third down again Geissel proved too shifty and scored off a reverse. Clark Paul came through fast on a nice bit of teamwork and blocked the attempted conversion.

The half ended with the ball in mid-field. The second half was scoreless. The Hermiston defense tightened and Clark Paul did some nice kicking to keep the locals out of danger. Harris was the outstanding player for Hermiston, both by his consistent tackling and his hard driving runs. Geissel was the bright spot in Athena's offense. He made several spectacular runs and only alert defensive work kept him from getting away many times.

This is the last regular game for the Bulldogs. Those playing their last game were: Dayton Harris, Fred Reeves, Burke Doyle, Clark Paul, Dale Wells, and Gene Pierce. Athena incurred several penalties for failing to stop a full second after their shift. Hermiston was penalized only twice, both times for off side.

This game was the only game since the first of the season that Athena has been held to less than three touchdowns.

ALONG THE CONCRETE

In his speech Wednesday night Congressman Pierce said the money question was very close to him. It is a close question with a good many people at present. The freshman at O.S.C. explains why a blind date is like a bee hive. You either get stung, or you get a honey. Beverly Walker says there is a new boy at school whose name is "Threodore," and they call him "The."

The bright star seen in conjunction with the moon Monday night is said to have been the start of the "new deal." Sounds rather like Christmas, just so it doesn't burn itself out.

Mrs. Walter M. Pierce, wife of Congressman Pierce, says that if you try to distinguish your husband in the house by his bald head, you are disappointed—all the husband's heads are bald. The one disadvantage in playing contract bridge is that it takes too much concentration to be able to get the low down on the latest local gossip.

Walter Hamm has been having a little trouble with his ear which made it difficult for him to hear at times this week. There is one advantage in that condition if it can be managed about the first of the month. Oron O. Felthouse has evidently been trying out the N.R.A. by seeing how many miles his school bus would run on a gallon of gas. He concluded Tuesday morning that it stopped when the tank was empty. Consequently he left the old Orange crate sitting on the highway while he chased about sixty snickering scholars up the diagonal road. Was his face red?
