CEO. WASHINGTON PORTRAIT PRESENTED IRRIGON GRANGE

A large 22x28 portrait of George Washington was presented to the Irrigon Grange by Congressman Walter M. Pierce and Mrs. Pierce, and was hung in the high school auditorium at the last meeting of the grange.

A feature of the evening's program was two clever comedy skits presented by the grange lecturer, Clay Woods. The next meeting will be the first Wednesday in February, at which time there will be a round-table discussion on the sales tax. Regular meeting nights are the first and third Wednesday in each month.

COMING EVENTS LISTED AS RELATED TO AGRICULTURE.

Among the important statewide conventions or meetings related to agriculture in Oregon and scheduled in the next few weeks are the following:

February 5-7—Commercial Canners' Short Course, Oregon State college, Corvallis.

February 13-14—Oregon Cooperative Council, annual meeting, Portland.

February 16-17—Oregon Dairymen's association convention, La Grande.

February 19-22—Oregon Butter and Ice Cream Makers' association, annual convention and short course, Oregon State college, Corvallis.

BLASTING DRAIN DITCHES HAS LIMITED APPLICATION.

Digging drainage ditches with dynamite is usually an economical method only where a tractor or team cannot be used, but in such places the work can be done quickly and well and at fairly reasonable cost, says Art King, extension soils specialist at Oregon State college.

Methods of blasting ditches have changed greatly in the last few years, since the passing of the surplus low powered war explosives, says King. Now the accepted practice is to use dynamite running 50 to 60 per cent nitro-glycerine. Single sticks of this kind are put in the ground along the line of proposed ditch, and placed shallow instead of three to four feet underground, as was best with the slow powder.

When properly placed in wet ground, such a charge may be set off by firing a single stick with a cap, King explains. The result is a ditch 3½ to 4 feet deep and 8 to 12 feet wide, costing from 6 to 10 cents a foot. The wetter the ground the better the job. In fact, some standing water is no handicap.

Mr. King does not recommend home use of this method unless the aid of the county agent or other experienced person is obtained. Blasted ditches are used only where running water will keep them open, and not for collecting seepage.

Farms Drained and Irrigated.

CORVALLIS—Drainage and irrigation projects have been worked out by two Benton county farmers during the past month with the assistance of County Agent W. S. Averill. A drainage ditch some 700 feet long was laid out on the V. C. Carter farm in north Benton county to drain a swampy place comprising some five or six acres in a field. On the Kelloway farm at Blodgett an irrigation ditch was laid out for a project that will eventually include some 35 to 40 acres, part of which will be in pasture.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Of Members of the Umatilla Co-operative Creamery.

The fourth annual meeting of members of the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery will be held at the Hermiston Union church at 10:00 A. M., Saturday, February 3, 1934.

Business to be brought before the members:

1. Election of one director for each of the following districts: District No. 2, Irrigon; District No. 5, Minnehaha; District No. 6, Stanfield; District No. 7, Echo and The Meadows.

Ballots for the nomination of candidates for director will be sent to members in each district. Members electing candidates for director will mark cross after name of the man he wants for director. The ballot will then be mailed to the creamery for safe keeping until the meeting. Ballots will be counted at the meeting and the two men from each district receiving the greatest number of votes will be named as candidates. Election of directors by ballot will take place at the meeting, therefore each member should be there in person to vote for the director for his district. An effort will be made to seat members who are to elect a director in groups to avoid confusion and to save time.

2. A vote will be taken to decide whether all members will waive notice of annual meetings except notices in Hermiston Herald.

3. Vote on a proposed amendment to Article 5, Section 1 of the by-laws changing the date of the annual meeting to any day of the week except Saturday or Sunday, which will enable all members to attend.

4. Price of butter to members at times when butterfat price is below twenty cents per pound.

5. Vote on special meeting of Boardman members in the future for election of director.

Lunch will be served at noon.

LOCAL EVENTS NOW HOLD CENTER OF STAGE IN AAA.

Local events within the counties and even within the communities hold the center of the stage just at present in the Oregon AAA program, according to leaders in the various educational and organization movements at Oregon State college. By the end of January practically all county educational meetings in the corn-hog adjustment campaign will have been held and many counties will have completed their local meetings and be in the midst of the third series when actual signing of contracts will be carried out.

Interest in the county meetings has been keen and every indication is now for a larger signup of hog contracts than appeared possible at first, says H. A. Lindgren, extension livestock field man and chairman of the campaign committee for Oregon. Growers appear to be satisfied with the terms of the control plan offered by the government and those eligible will in most cases sign up, he believes. Only scattering farmers throughout the state are eligible under the corn reduction plan, but some corn contracts are expected to be signed, particularly in Malheur county, southern Oregon and a few western Oregon counties.

Clarification of a recent announcement that milk marketing agreements hereafter would be directed toward maintaining producers' prices has been given by direct statements from Washington, D.C.

Both Secretary Wallace and his administrator of the AAA, Chester C. Davis, have stated definitely that the only price agreements that will be included in future milk codes or that will be enforced under existing codes, will be the schedule of prices paid producers.

In some instances minimum or maximum resale prices will be established to prevent utter demoralization of a market area, but within such limits free play of competition will be depended upon to regulate prices.

Indication is also given that the AAA will not attempt to maintain producers' prices much above the legitimate competitive level pending the adoption of a national production control plan. Every effort is now directed toward launching such a production control plan in the near future.

Frau Augusta Gurvosch of Hamburg, who died at the age of 87, had outlived eight husbands.

NOTICE OF MEETING.

Stanfield Grange Co-operative in Stanfield Friday, February the 9th, 1934.

The annual meeting of the Grange Co-operative of Stanfield, will be held in the Grange hall in Stanfield Friday, February 9, at 8:00 P. M., for the purpose of discussion and transaction of any business that may come before the meeting.

R. G. PENNEY, Secretary.

LAUNCHING BEEF, CATTLE, MILK PRODUCTION CONTROL PLAN

The most encouraging news to the dairymen that has so far been released in the new deal is contained in the following Dow-Jones private wire message dated January 9:

$200,000,000 DLR Farm Fund Seen.

Washington — Farm administration support of legislation to establish joint beef, cattle and milk production control program appeared certain here Monday. The fund would be used to supplement processing taxes and making benefit payments to producers. A bill which would make beef cattle a basic commodity has been introduced to Congress.

"Discussing the proposed fund, Secretary Wallace asserted it would be advantageous in getting the plan under way as it would permit immediate benefit payments to cooperating producers. He pointed out that placing this money in the hands of producers would create purchasing power before the increased costs to consumers as a result of a processing tax would take effect. This was compared to a more mild form of inflation."

Producers who are in a position to reduce their herds when this two hundred million dollar fund becomes a reality, will fare much better than those who are permitting California buyers to top their herds at the ridiculously low prices now being offered for good dairy cows.

It would be desirable for you to write both your Congressmen and Senators, pointing out the necessity of controlling imported fats and all oleo before asking dairymen to reduce the efficiency of their operations. You realize, of course, that when the amount of churning cream going through your creamery is reduced, it causes an increase in the cost per pound of manufacturing and selling the butter, just as it costs you more per bushel to raise 10 bushels of wheat to the acre than it does to raise 40 bushel per acre.

Dairy Cows as Beef for Unemployed.

Federal funds have been made available to supply each family on relief rolls with eight pounds per week of beef from surplus dairy cows, a letter from the Interstate Associated Creameries, informs dairymen.

In rOegon the plan approved by Max Gehlhar, director of agriculture, is to turn the matter over to the two beef packing firms that have B.A.I. inspection on the basis of 65 per cent to one firm, and 35 per cent to the other.

An appeal was made on January 5, both to the director of agriculture and to an influential member of the Oregon Relief Committee, to have the producers represented in some such way as in Washington. This was done after first being assured by members of the staff of the state relief committee that it was impossible to have the buying done at the stock yards in such a way that the minimum prices to be paid producers for this beef would serve to lift the farm value of all cattle sold for beef to these levels.

In spite of our offer to assist and get producer representation and participation directly in the sixteen Oregon counties where we operate, the contract was permitted to go through with the beef packers as the sole judge of cows they will buy. We are assured that the buyers will at least inspect all cattle our members wish to sell at from $1.75 to $2.25 per hundredweight f. o.b. farm, in whatever part of Oregon they may be located.

For cows with fair coverage of fat this price should average better than $20.00 per head for the three-teaters and otherwise poor producers of your cows at the farm. If you will go to the manager or one of the directors of your cooperative creamery, he will assist you in this matter.
