CUB CERTIFICATE AWARDED BY EXECUTIVE HAYES

Blue Mountain Council had qualified for this award during 1933.

Visiting Scouts Introduced.

Devee Brown, scoutmaster for the Umatilla troop, introduced his troop committee, and Russell McCoy, scoutmaster for the Irrigon troop, introduced his assistants and scouts. These visiting scoutmasters were called upon and introduced by H. A. Pankow, local troop committee chairman, as he urged the fathers to cooperate in the "greatest partnership in the world."

Other Entertainment.

The Follett brothers, Melvin and Bruce, are becoming known for their songs with the guitar and ukelele accompaniment, and as a result of their pleasing selections were invited by Scout Executive Hayes to appear on a program at Walla Walla Wednesday evening when the scouts entertained at a banquet celebrating the close of Scout Week.

Morris Pierson, a former member of the Hermiston troop, gave a short talk telling what scouting had done for him, and the advantages realized from its training for boys in later life.

O. O. Felthouse gave a general resume of the life of Abraham Lincoln on the occasion of his birthday. Mr. Felthouse brought out many interesting characteristics of Lincoln.

Appreciation Expressed.

A vote of thanks was given the Order of Odd Fellows of Umatilla for postponing a scheduled meeting to give way for the banquet. Also appreciation was expressed to the ladies of the Methodist church of Hermiston who prepared and served the banquet in such a fine way.
