EMERGENCY CROP LOANS AVAILABLE TO FARMERS.

Farmers seeking loans from the $40,000,000 emergency crop loan fund will be directed in the near future where to apply in their respective communities, stated Wm. I. Myers, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

It is required by the law that borrowers, as a condition to receiving an emergency loan, must furnish proof of cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The nature of proof of cooperation will be similar to that recently announced as applicable to other borrowers who apply for loans under the Farm Credit Administration.

Each applicant must obtain clearance through or furnish a certificate of cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Farmers who are on this list, if otherwise eligible to borrow will be able to obtain loans.

County councils of the production control associations will certify to representatives of the Farm Credit Administration the names of any farmers who, while not signing acreage control contracts, are cooperating by not increasing their production contrary to the acreage control program.

For the time being, according to Governor Myers, the various regional emergency crop loan offices will handle the applications for loans from the $40,000,000 fund, and these offices will be under the immediate direction of the Emergency Crop Loan division, which is placed under the supervision of the Production Credit Commissioner, S. M. Garwood, and the Governor.

"I COVER THE WATERFRONT" TO BE OFFERED AT OASIS.

The Oasis theatre film fare for Sunday and Monday is "I Cover the Waterfront," which as a film play, succeeds in being a vividly interesting story.

Ernest Torrence, whose last film appearance this was, has contributed a notable characterization, that of a rascal who wins the complete sympathy of the audience. Ben Lyon does a neat piece of work as a waterfront reporter. The things he does and says are not all quite believable, but the fault is the script writer's, not the actor's.

The picture is adult fare. There is no mistaking the nature of a waterfront dive in which the smuggler seeks diversion and makes the girls weep by playing sad tunes on the piano, or the meaning of a love scene that fades out to be followed by breakfast. The waterfront, as Max Miller saw it, is a place where romantic vistas of moonlit water mingle with bad odors, and the picture has preserved this atmosphere.

Humor is provided mainly by Hobart Cavanaugh, a screen new-comer, who plays a bibulous ex-newspaperman. Maurice Black, as the smuggler's mate, contributes a sincere and pathetic character bit, a waterfront ruffian who dies praying after a shark bites off his leg.

The production makes skillful use of its dramatic elements, and the photography is outstanding.
