A MESSAGE TO EVERY MEMBER.

BUTTER CODE AND BUTTER IMPROVEMENT IN OREGON.

Four men representing the Oregon Butter Industry met with local creamery operators and employees at the library in Hermiston on the evening of April 30th. They were E. L. Martindale, H. C. Rayen, Dr. G. H. Wilster of O. S. C., and J. D. Mickle, Dairy and Food Commissioner of Oregon. G. A. Brown, manager of Interstate Associated Creameries was also present. Creamery operators from near by towns in both Oregon and Washington were present, as well as employees from the several towns.

The purpose of the meeting was to choose a local committee for enforcement of the butter code for Oregon which was put into operation on April 16th. Cream grading is compulsory under the code will be paid for according to grade. "A" grade cream must be good enough to make 92 score butter. "B" grade cream must make a 91 or 90 score butter. Cream delivered less often than twice a week will receive the "B" grade or if of poor quality, will be graded "C". There will be a differential of one cent per pound between each of the different grades. Butter prices will be regulated accordingly.

A national cream and butter improvement campaign was explained at the meeting and will go into action without delay. The committees in charge of this work will conduct meetings in various parts of the communities in the state. Educational material will be provided by the Oregon Dairy Council for carrying on a program of education among the dairymen. Demonstrations will be given and when possible some entertainment will be provided at these meetings, which will be held in convenient places.

The national educational program is to be carried to the consumer as well as the producer and it is through the consumer that the dairymen will be able to get relief. A very small increase in consumption of butter will prevent accumulation of surpluses such as we had last year which resulted in a demoralized market. Butter consumption in Canada is 30 pounds per capita, while in United States it is only 18 pounds per capita. The climate in parts of Canada being somewhat colder than in the United States would make some difference in the consumption of fats but should be only a few pounds more. Canada has better butter as a whole than we have, and people will eat more of good butter than of the poorer quality.

The Federal Food and Drug Department is checking up on the purity of butter in the Eastern and Middle Western states and thousands of pounds of butter have been condemned as unfit for human consumption. This work will soon be carried into the Western states before long, and it means that we must clean house. The creamery using out of date methods as well as the careless dairyman will be able to prepare himself for the big cleanup through attendance of dairy meetings to be held for this purpose about the country.

All dairymen will soon receive a letter from the State Department of Agriculture with regard to the provisions of the butter code and producing high quality cream.

TIME LIMIT ON EMERGENCY OF LOANS ANNOUNCED.

Time for receiving emergency crop loans has been extended to the 15th of May in order that all contracts may be in the Salt Lake office by the 15th of the month, it was announced this week by Garnet D. Best, assistant county agent.

MILK CONTROL TOPIC

FOR RADIO ADDRESS

EUGENE, Ore.—The problem of milk control, one of the most interesting topics now before the people of the state, will be the subject of a radio address to be given May 9, from 8 to 8:20 p. m., over station KOAC, by P. M. Brandt, mayor of Corvallis and head of the division of animal industries. Oregon State college. The address will be one of a series sponsored each Wednesday by the Bureau of Municipal Research and Service of the University of Oregon and the League of Oregon Cities. The next address, scheduled for May 16, will be delivered by C. Lyle Kelly, professor of business administration at the University of Oregon.

Cold Storage Plant.

Installation of machinery is now being completed. It is only a question of how long it will take to build the lockers until the plant will be opened for business. Work on the lockers has been progressing and while some of them will be ready in a few days, it is not advisable to start freezing before they are all nearly ready, for the low temperature would make it nearly impossible to get anything done in the locker room. As soon as a number of lockers are completed the work of assigning them to renters can be started. A competent butcher will be in charge of the chilling and cutting of the meat, but those desiring to do their own cutting may do so after the chilling has been done. A sausage grinder will be provided so that waste of meat should be reduced to a minimum. It has been suggested that two or three days be allowed for visitors to inspect the plant before opening and this can be done while the lockers are being completed. Every thing should be ready by the fifteenth of May, and possibly sooner, so it would be well to plan on moving in about that time. The definite date of opening will come out in next week's Herald, if nothing unforeseen happens in the meantime. Come in to see the place next week about Friday and Saturday, or on Sunday.

UMATILLA CO-OP. CREAMERY.

WHEAT FARMERS WARNED; NEGLECT OF WEED CONTROL

Farmers in the wheat belt are becoming considerably concerned about the weed problem in connection with the wheat allotment program.

Reports are coming to the Allotment Committee of the Umatilla County Wheat Production Control association to the effect that some farmers are making no attempt to control the seeding of weeds on their contracted acres and upon the land being left unplowed for contracted acres in 1935. It is apparent that in several instances the failure to control weeds in the very near future will result not only in seeding the lands of the farmer neglecting to control his weeds, but will become a public menace through the distribution of weed seeds to the lands of farmers attempting to keep their places clean.

It is not contemplated by the Wheat Control association that weeds should be neglected, and the Allotment Committee is reliably reported as having indicated that such neglect would probably constitute a violation of the contract with the Wheat Administration. This might lead to serious difficulty for the farmer failing to take care of his weeds. A breach of the wheat allotment contract is a serious matter, according to the allotment committee, and in order to avoid such breach of faith with the association, it is important that farmers see to it that weeds are controlled upon all lands having wheat allotment contracts.

Transfers Now Available.

The Allotment Committee of the Umatilla County Wheat Production Control association is interested in letting it be known that forms are now available for the proper transfer of contracts where changes in ownership or tenancy, or both, have taken place since the contract was signed. These forms are available at the office of the Allotment Committee in the post office building in Pendleton, and parties involved in any such transfers of interest in crops or lands under contract should get into touch with the allotment committee very soon in order that proper arrangements may be made for the preparation of checks due contracting farmers for the payments in connection with the 1934 crops. Failure to execute these agreements may result in considerable delay in the receipt of payments for 1934.

DALLAS — The wheat yield in Polk county is expected to be considerably decreased this year due to Hessian fly, aphids, rust and lack of sufficient soil nitrogen, believes J. R. Beck, county agent. Hessian fly is said to be damaging some fields of fall wheat to such an extent that owners will plow up at least part of them, Mrs. Beck says. In some cases entire stools of wheat are being killed, and in others just part of the branches. The heavy outbreak of the fly is thought to be due to the open fall, early planting of wheat and the large amount of stubble left in clover fields last fall. There is no field treatment for controlling this pest.

FARM BUREAU CO-OPERATIVE

"OLSEN'S BIG MOMENT," WITH BRENDEL, AT OASIS.

It is rare that a motion picture presents pure comedy in all its elements. Yet "Olsen's Big Moment," which plays at the Oasis theatre Sunday and Monday, is just such a picture. From the very inception of its story to its execution on the screen, "Olsen's Big Moment" is a solid laugh.

The story concerns itself with a diligent janitor who is catapulted into a romance between an inebriate and a beautiful young girl who is in love with somebody else. He is taken from his simple dusting and sweeping into an atmosphere of fireworks that involves a run-in with desperate gangsters, the police and an irate mother-in-law.

El Brendel is here given a story that sets off in bold relief all of that comedian's inimitable humor. As the innocent who is thrown into machinations entirely beyond his control he is unsurpassed. Brendel is one of the funniest men on the screen and here is the picture that proves it admirably.

As though that were not enough, Fox Film has seen fit to complement their choice of star and story with the engagement of Walter Catlett as the chief support of their Scandinavian comic. Catlett has been funny in the past; Brendel is responsible for numberless laughs in his long and merry career. But together they are a perfect team for hilarious proceedings.

WHEAT MEN TO SAVE MUCH BY UNCHANGED SMUT RULE

Oregon wheat producers stand to save—or perhaps avoid losing—from $60,000 to $100,000 annually through the rescinding by the secretary of agriculture of a former ruling lowering the tolerance of smut in wheat, estimates George R. Hyslop, head of the farm crops department at Oregon State college.

A new rule had been put into effect which would have started smut dockage at 10 smut balls in 250 grams instead of 14 as at present. When word first reached the northwest concerning the action, the Eastern Oregon Wheat league, the college experiment station, the state department of agriculture and several private concerns joined in a vigorous protest over the action.

Congressman Pierce, after enlisting the aid of other northwest congressmen in the fight, was informed by Secretary Wallace the last week in April that the latter had cancelled the order, thereby returning the regulation to its former status.
