A MESSAGE TO EVERY MEMBER.

FOURTH ANNUAL TURKEY TOUR INSPIRATIONAL TO MANY

tion. Dinner was served to approximately 200 people.

One of the main speakers on the program was A. Willardson, sales manager for the Northwestern Turkey Growers' association, in the Los Angeles trade area, who explained advantages offered growers in an educational and financial way through cooperation with their association. Mr. Willardson stated that they expected this season's volume of business to run about average with that of 1933.

Other speakers on the program were: H. E. Cosby, extension poultryman from O.S.C., who touched upon general marketing conditions; Ray Darling, district manager of Western Poultry Producers association; J. C. Leedy, manager and secretary-treasurer of Oregon Turkey Growers' association; of Portland; T. R. Kiley, manager of the Egg & Poultry Producers' association, of Sunnyside, Wn.; Harold Dobyns, with the U. S. Biological Survey, of Pendleton; Walter Holt, county agent for Umatilla county; Joe Belanger, county agent of Morrow county, from Heppner; and Geo. Dewey, Smith-Hughes instructor in the Pendleton schools.

J. Jendrzewski, resident of the local association, expressed appreciation for the work of the committee which arranged to tour and picnic. He complimented Mrs. G. E. Tilden the results obtained as chairman of the food committee.

Mr. Jendrzewski pointed out that 89 per cent of birds shipped through the pool by growers last year were prime birds, compared with 51 per cent prime birds shipped the first year growers were organized here. "This," he said "has been accomplished through the cooperation of members."

Original Composition Favored.

An original song composed by Mrs. J. H. DeMoss and her son Donald, played by the Cub Wranglers, was received favorably. Visiting guests requested that the musicians might visit the turkey show at Oakland, Ore., this fall and resent the number there.

Miss Shirley Brownson of Hermiston pleased with two piano selections, and Rev. W. A. Briggs lead group singing.

RAMS FROM FAMOUS FLOCKS TO GO TO PENDLETON SALE.

Buyers attending the eighth annual Oregon ram sale at Pendleton, August 27, will find the offerings there in keeping with the high standards of past years, according to Walter A. Holt, secretary of the Oregon Wool Growers' association, sponsors of the sale.

Among the 550 high quality animals already consigned to the sale will be 25 Rambouillet rams from the famous breeding establishment of John K. Madson of Mount Pleasant, Utah. Rams from this flock have averaged the highest price at the national sale at Salt Lake during the past ten years, and during the current year had the highest average at both the California and Texas sales.

Another important consignment is that of 35 head of what the breeders call the "New Rambouillet," a breed of rams with "not a wrinkle in a carload," from the Deer Lodge Farms company of Deer Lodge, Mont. This company has sold the three high studs, the high pen of five and the highest average at the two most recent Casper, Wyoming, sales.

The largest sections of the sale will include 200 each of Rambouillets and Hampshires, with the remainder of the 550 head divided among Lincolns, Romneys, Romeldales, Cotwolds and Panamas. Colonel A. W. Thompson of Lincoln, Neb., will act as auctioneer. The sale will open at 10:00 o'clock in the morning at the Round-Up grounds in Pendleton.

"Buck buyers throughout Washington and adjacent territory are invited to this sale, which will offer the finest consignments of the various breeds gathered together for any similar sale at any point in the far west," said Mr. Holt. "Persons wishing to improve their special matings through the purchase of stud rams will find their needs supplied by this sale, and the range operator can meet his requirements of the breeds mentioned in any numbers to suit the purchaser."

A similar sale will be held at Klamath Falls, September 18, Mr. Holt announces.

NO PATRONAGE REFUND PAID DELINQUENT MEMBERS.

According to the by-laws governing the Co-operative Service Station, no patronage refund can be made to any member who has allowed his membership to become delinquent. Information as to the status of any membership is available at the main office of the Farm Bureau Co-operative.

MINIMUM PRICE ON TOMATOES REDUCED.

The minimum price to the retailer on all tomatoes sold in Oregon and Washington will be 40 cents for each 20 pound box, effective in producing sections, Tuesday, August 14 and in consuming markets August 15.

This new price was agreed to Saturday, August 11, by the executive committee of the Oregon-Washington Melon and Tomato Marketing Agreement which has the power to set minimum prices on all melons and tomatoes sold in the two states.

This board consists of Morton Tompkins, chairman of Dayton, Oregon; C. H. Dills, Wapato, Wn.; C. Wesley Williams, Roseburg, Ore.; H. N. Hampton, Haver, Wn., and Roy Hewitt, Salem, Oregon.

F. B. Auxiliary Meets.

The Farm Bureau Auxiliary met at the Columbia park club house Friday afternoon, August 17, at which time members voted to accept another order of "Betty Bright" dishclothes which will be sold as a means of securing funds. Mrs. H. M. Sommerer and Mrs. E. E. Wells served on the program committee. The next meeting is scheduled for September 7.

EMERGENCY SEED LOAN LIMIT RAISED TO $400.

Advances to farmers in both primary and secondary drought counties, for purchasing winter wheat seed, rye or barley, have been raised to a maximum of $400 out of the emergency crop loan fund supervised by the Farm Credit administration. Increase to the $400 maximum also applies to summer fallowing needs, but in no cases may the new loan, together with previous advances this year, exceed a gross of $750 to any one individual borrower. These loans will continue to be made until September 15.

Applications are made through county drought committees, of which the county agent is usually the secretary. These committees are also handling applications for feed and hay loans in drought-hit areas where emergency aid is required to help farmers carry through.

4-H COOKING AND CANNING CLUBS HOLD FINAL MEETING.

The We-Can Canning club and the Kookie Kooking club held final meetings last Wednesday, August 15th, at the Hermiston Union church. Four teams were chosen to demonstrate at the Umatilla Project fair, September 21-22. They were Marie Skovbo, Esther McMullen, Jane Jackson and Frances Dawson for cooking; Margaret Clarke, Helen Jendrzewski, Nina Rae McCulley and Mary Rodda for canning. A demonstration of methods of making two kinds of sandwiches was given by Rebecca Pierson and Virginia Todd. After this refreshments of sherbet and cookies were served.

The next meeting will honor the mothers of club members and will be held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. A. W. Turnblad. This meeting was held Wednesday, August 22.

FAMILY'S FOOD BUDGET REDUCED TO $4.56 WEEK.

An average family of five, including two adults and three children aged from 3 to 12, can live comfortably and safely on a food budget of approximately $4.56 a week, according to foods and nutrition specialists at Oregon State college. They point out, however, that this can be accomplished only if the homemaker spends her money wisely and plans her menus carefully.

Specific directions as to just how to purchase and prepare food to come within such a budget are contained in a new bulletin issued by the home economics division of the Oregon State college extension service, entitled "Low Cost Menus for One Month with Recipes." It was prepared "as an aid to the thrift program of those Oregon homemakers who are maintaining for themselves and their families a desirable standard of living with little expenditure of money but with a very substantial investment of time, abilities, skill and interest."

Menus included in the new bulletin were planned to meet nutritional needs and to provide as much variety as practicable with the limited expenditure. While variety adds zest to appetite, it is pointed out that menus planned on a very low cost basis can cater only to healthy, normal appetites. Evaporated whole milk and dried skim milk are inexpensive and easily handled and are valuable foods, the bulletin points out. It urges families following low cost menus to provide each child with a quart and each adult with a pint of whole milk each day. Eggs, at least three or four a week for each child under six years, are practically essential in supplying the necessary iron in the diet, and wherever possible each member of the family should have an egg a day, according to the bulletin. Butter, another diet essential, is used at least as a spread once a day.

Cod liver oil is not included in the $4.56 budget, nor is bread. If there are infants from one month to two years they, at least, need cod liver oil, the bulletin says. It is assumed that flour will be provided through relief agencies.

While first developed as an assistance to relief committees, the menus, recipes, market list and other suggestions in the new bulletin have been planned to guide the meal planning and food preparation of every family which independently is cutting food costs to a minimum. Copies of the bulletin can be obtained free from county extension offices or from the college.

HOUSEWIVES URGED TO BUY TOMATOES NOW.

Housewives are urged to buy tomatoes now, according to Morton Tompkins of Dayton, Oregon, chairman of the Melon and Tomato Marketing Agreement for Oregon and Washington. "Tomatoes are at their very best for canning right now. They are firm and well-flavored, which makes them excellent for either solid pack or canned tomato juice. The present minimum prices are the lowest that will be quoted this season," Mr. Tompkins said.

WEATHER CONDITIONS "STEP UP" NORTHWEST FIRE LOSSES.

That the northwest has been the center of a heavy fire attack on the eastern front due to weather conditions, is shown by the ten-day forest service report to August 1, covering the twenty national forests, comprising this North Pacific region. Prevalence of lightning storms with extremely high temperatures, brisk winds and low humidity have marked what the United States weather bureau calls one of the worst fire weather periods east of the Cascade mountains for the past ten years. Total fires of this ten-day period, according to the report, were 205 against 74 for the corresponding period last year.

Lightning caused 142 fires in the ten-day period, bringing the season's total lightning fires to 349 against a total of 82 up to this time last year. One hundred and seven of these lightning fires occurred in the Colville, Chelan, Snoqualmie, and Wenatchee forests of Washington.

"Smokers" are the second contributing cause, being charged with a total of 40 fires in the ten-day period and 155 fires to date. Total smoker-caused fires last year for the season ending August 1 were 102.

OREGON STATE PREPARES FOR BIGGER ENROLLMENT.

With freshman week, the introduction to the regular fall term, only a month away, workmen are busily engaged in getting the Oregon State college campus and buildings ready for what is expected to be a somewhat larger number of students than were at the college last year. A crew of workers has been on the job most of the summer painting and making necessary repairs, the first on many of the buildings for several years.

E. B. Lemon, registrar of O.S.C., reports the heaviest correspondence from prospective students in four or five years. The preponderance of the requests for information ask about the possibilities of obtaining employment, he says. Many of the prospective students declare they will not be able to attend college this fall unless they have some financial assistance. Although the federal government, through the state emergency relief administration, will distribute nearly $2500 a month to needy students at the college, this and other agencies will be hard pressed to meet the great demand for student employment, Mr. Lemon believes.

Advance applications for admission to the college give every indication of a healthy increase in enrollment, the registrar reports, and the outlook is encouraging.

Freshman week, a period set aside for beginning students to become oriented and to have plenty of time to consult with their advisors, will begin Monday, September 24 and close the following Saturday. Sophomores, juniors and seniors will register Saturday, September 29, and regular class work will begin Monday, October 1.

DOUBLE BILL AT OASIS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

"Let's Talk It Over" and "The Black Cat" make up the double bill to be presented at the Oasis theatre Friday and Saturday.

You all remember "Frankenstein!" And can you forget "Dracula?" Now they clash together, with a horrifying impact in Universal's caster-thriller, "The Black Cat."

It packs a terrific wallop and is crammed full of fantastic situations. A girl's heart, plays funny tricks on her sometimes. One of these queer quirks which sometimes cannot be explained occurs in "Let's Talk It Over," with Chester Morris in the starring role of a "roughneck" sailor and Miss Clarke playing opposite him in the part of a society heiress.

"ONE MORE RIVER" MADE INTO PICTURE

One of the most tensely dramatic screen stories of the season is "One More River," which will be at the Oasis Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Diana Wynward, whose performance in "Cavalade" literally made her overnight, was an ideal choice for the starring role in "One More River." An exceptional supporting company includes Frank Lawton, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Colin Clive, Regional Denny, Jane Wyatt, Lionel Atwill, C. Aubrey Smith and Alan Mowbray.

The original story was written by John Galsworthy, outstanding English novelist and playwright, and tells of an absorbing British divorce, what led up to it, and what followed. All the action of the story takes place in London and its suburbs.
