HIGH PRODUCING COW IN ASSOCIATION TESTS 57.3.

Out of 34 herds on test, enrolling 519 cows, there were 44 cows averaging a 40 per cent production for the month of August.

The high herd of from 12 to 20 cows is owned by L. W. Owens and has 20 purebred Jerseys, which produce an average of 440.6 pounds of milk and 20.7 pounds of fat.

Enos Martin owns the high herd under 12 cows which is 5 mixed breeds, producing 770.2 pounds of milk and 36.1 pounds of fat.

The three above named herds head the list for high herds to date for the six months since the beginning of the testing year, with the second in each division owned by Alpha Christley, 36 grade Guernsey and grade Jerseys, producing 3675.4 pounds of milk, averaging 172.7 pounds of fat; by Wm. It was shown in the report that six boarders were beefed, and that Alpha Christley had purchased a purebred Jersey bull whose daughters are producing consistently around 500 lbs. butterfat. One exchange of herd sires was made. The R. G. Saylor herd is no longer on test, the report states.

COOPERATIVE COLD STORAGE LOCKER SYSTEM SUCCESSFUL

The following article written by C. L. Upham appeared in the September 6th issue of the Oregon Farmer.

"In the Hermiston district, acknowledged as probably the best-organized cooperative community in Oregon, farmers recently have established a new cooperative service which bids fair to be one of their most successful projects—the establishment of a cold storage locker system.

"A year ago a committee including John Jendrzewski, Garnet D. Best, M. G. Hedwall and C. L. Upham was delegated to inspect such systems with a view to establishing such a plant in the Hermiston district. The system used at the plant of the Walla Walla Dairymen's league, while on a larger scale than Hermiston desired, was found fully to meet the needs of the Oregon community, and work to establish a similar set-up was started.

Directors of the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery were persuaded to sponsor the building and equipment of the plant, and funds were made available by the Farm Bureau and Farm Bureau Cooperative by long-time loans at low interest rates.

Equipment was installed and after three months' operation, the establishment is self-supporting. More than 300 lockers were provided at one-third to one-half the price usually asked by commercial storages and farmers were given first choice in their selection. To add still further to the efficiency of the plant, pick-up trucks of the creamery are now equipped with ice boxes and for a small fee packages are transported from the locker storage to patrons' homes, thus eliminating a trip to town. A small ice plant is operated in connection with the storage, and the last summer has been worked to capacity and a very substantial saving in this item made to mem-

THE ZIMMERMAN SONG.

Some of Peter Zimmerman's enthusiastic admirers have written a campaign song for him, and it is being sung at meetings all over the state. It is fitted to the tune of "Marching Through Georgia." Here it is:

"Marching To Salem"

Zimmerman's a farmer guy with hayseed in his hair. Overalls and calloused hands, he's always on the square. He's our leader while we fight conditions we can't bear. While we go marching to Salem.

Hurrah! Hurrah, for Peter Zimmerman! Hurrah! Hurrah, for his honest banking plan. He's the man to lead us, always fighting in the van, While we go marching to Salem.

Zimmerman's a fighting man who never leaves his post; Cleaned them on the issues and never stopped to boast; Licked the bankers' lobbies, power trust and grafters' host. When he was Senator at Salem.

Zimmerman's a working man; we've drafted him to lead. To muster all our forces out against the powers of greed. Tell him we're in action and we're going to succeed. That's why we're marching to Salem.

Have all working men and farmers join us on our way. Not a slacker in our ranks; no boosters drawing pay. Justice calls to action and to win we'll stick and stay. While we go marching to Salem.

Zimmerman's an honest man who wants no one a serf. All of us forgotten men should surely know his worth. Government of the people shall not perish from the earth. While he is Governor in Salem.

bers. The cooperative creamery, which was organized July 31, 1931, has shown a substantial gain in the last three years, particularly along the lines of quality. Figures available for the month of July at the plant show that the output of 92-score butter was doubled in 1933 over the previous year and in July this year the output of 92-score had again doubled over that of 1933. The creamery now has more than 300 members, taking in territory as far west as Boardman.

The cooperative cannery and laundry, owned and operated by women of the project, is continuing to function for the benefit of the community. The cooperative has recently purchased the building which it has been occupying and many improvements have been made. Last year the cannery processed more than 60,000 cans of produce of various kinds and new machines have been added in the laundry. People from all parts of Umatilla county take advantage of its facilities.

UNCLE SAM HELPS IN MAKING "GRAND CANARY."

Uncle Sam helped in the production of "Grand Canary," based on a novel by A. J. Cronin. The picture has its setting principally at sea and on Grand Canary, one of the Spanish-controlled Canary Islands.

Obviously, it would be expensive to send a company to Grand Canary. The consular service, available to American industry for research data, made photographs completely covering the house and grounds. Artists, construction crews and landscape artists completed the work at the studio and Warner Baxter and Midge Evans are supplied an ideal setting for the development of their romance. The picture comes to the Oasis theatre on Sunday and Monday.

DOUBLE BILL AT OASIS TUES, WED. AND THURS.

The Loudspeaker starring Ray Walker as an ambitious young radio entertainer has many laughs. The Lucky Texan is a novelty western with John Wayne taking the lead. One novelty finds Wayne pursuing the guilty sheriff's son, via a swift ride down a sluiceway, riding a torqued stick in the rushing water. Another shows Hayes masquerading as a woman in order to save Wayne from trial for a murder which he did not commit, which was not committed at all.

A cartoon completes the program for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

"HOOPLA" IS FILM FOR SATURDAY MIDNIGHT MATINEE.

"Hoopla" is a splendid production that delves deeply into the inside life of the "big-top." It offers Clara Bow a marvelous opportunity to display her histrionic abilities. The story concerns itself with a vivacious young carnival dancer who in a bet, attempts to win the love of a young man who is the carnival barker's son. It is not a difficult task for this finished siren, and the soon captures the heart of the boy. But the sincerity of the younger and his naive manner work a change in the nature of the dancer, and she finds herself involved in a true romance.

The boy's father objects to the affair, and there follows a series of thrilling incidents which are capped by a climax that is the outstanding one among all the Clara Bow classics.

Balloons, serpentine and fun makers are to be given away to add to the hilarity of the evening.

New Oat Resists Rust Better.

TILLAMOOK—A recent inspection of a number of oat fields in this county made by Kenneth E. Carl, emergency agricultural assistant, to obtain a comparison of different varieties in regard to rust resistance, showed that while Schoolmarm oats did not show a consistent resistance, the amount of infection varying with different fields, they showed the least damage. Compared with the Kanota variety, Mr. Carl said Schoolmarm plantings showed about 75 per cent less rust and will outyield them 25 per cent. On thu-

Ed Mekker farm where Schoolmarm and Kanota oats were seeded in the same field on the same day at the same rate, the Schoolmarm variety averaged a foot higher than the Kanota and showed very little rust, while the Kanota variety was heavily rusted.
