DISEASE TESTING WORK WILL START SOON ON PROJECT

The government dairy cattle disease testing work is well under way in the coast counties of Oregon now. No definite or official statement can be made, but it is believed that the testing will be started here within the next six weeks.

"Every effort as being made to get the work started in Umatilla county as soon as possible," states Assistant County Agent W. A. Sawyer. This is highly important because of a feed shortage existing on many dairy farms.

Those dairymen who have not filled out and mailed the post card that was sent out with a letter regarding cattle testing, from County Agent W. A. Holt, should do so as soon as possible. This letter and return card was intended to get the work organized so that testing could be done at regular intervals, but since the government plan was inaugurated, the assistant county agent is using these cards to give a check on the farmers who would like to take advantage of the opportunity to clean up their herds.

By notifying Assistant County Agent W. A. Sawyer of the number of cows to be tested, the farmers may be able to speed up the program when the actual work starts here.

Any dairymen who for any reason does not want to wait to have his cows tested, until the government program is started here, should notify Mr. Sawyer to that effect, and he will arrange to have the work taken care of. There have already been a few requests for immediate testing of herds and any other requests should be sent in as soon as possible so the state veterinarian can be notified.

When the testing is done by the state, a 10 cent per head fee for laboratory costs, is charged, but the government testing will be done free of charge if and when the necessary agreement is signed.

TOMATO AGREEMENT APPEALS MAY BE RETURNED

A request has been received from Mr. Thompson, assistant manager of the Oregon-Washington Melon & Tomato Marketing Agreement, that refunds may be secured by all growers who have unused stamps if they will return them to the place of purchase before November 1, '34. Roy Penney at the Grange Co-operative sold stamps in this locality.

Mr. Thompson also wishes to thank all those who cooperated with officials during the marketing season, which helped put over the agreement successfully. Approximately 40 growers purchased stamps from local headquarters.

NO PATRONAGE REFUND PAID DELINQUENT MEMBERS.

According to the by-laws governing the Co-operative Service Station, no patronage refund can be made to any member who has allowed his membership to become delinquent.

Information as to the status of any membership is available at the main office of the Farm Bureau Co-operative.

Hours for Closing Advanced. Starting with November 1st the Farm Bureau Co-operative of Hermiston will close at 5:00 o'clock instead of 6:00 o'clock p. m. This is being done in observance of winter business hours, Manager H. M. Sommerer, says.

O. S. C. BEEF CATTLE REGAIN CARLOT RIBBON FOR STATE

The grand championship for carload lots of fat beef cattle is back in Oregon after many years in neighboring states as the result of the winning of sweepstakes at the Pacific International Livestock exposition by Oregon State college stock raised at the livestock branch experiment station at Union.

This carload of Herefords won first in the breed for fat cattle over one year and under two in age, championship for all ages in the breed, and then grand championship over all breeds and ages.

The winners are strictly of Oregon breeding and raising and are really a sort of by-product of the experimental work at the station in finding the most economical method of raising baby beef, explains D. E. Richards, superintendent at the station.

The calves from which these were raised were dropped in April, 1933, all from the station's regular herd of beef cows, sired by bulls of the Herberd Chandler pure bred Hereford herd at Baker. The calves ran with their mothers in the national forest all summer, and then in the fall the 35 young steer calves were put into experimental feeding pens for the winter.

STATE GRANGE OFFICERS TO BE AT CONFERENCE

A district conference meeting for Umatilla county grangers will be held October 26 at Cold Springs hall beginning at 10 A. M.

Several of these district conferences have already been held with much success, the State Master, Secretary, Lecturer and two other members of the Executive Committee being present.

All subordinate officers and members are urged to be present and register at 2 P. M. whether they are members of the County Council or not.

The school feature of the conference will center around a drill contest in which all Grangers in the district can participate. The drill is to be used for seating the officers of the Grange. Time will be about eight minutes. The one winning the first prize will receive five dollars and the second prize will be two dollars and fifty cents. Also, the executive committee is offering a prize of something suitable for a Grange hall, such as a Bible or ballot box, and this will be presented to each Grange which has every one of its elected officers present, including the executive committee.

HOLC SUPERVISOR RELEASES HOME OWNERS INFORMATION

Geo. R. Lyman of La Grande, district supervisor of the reconditioning department of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, was in Hermiston Friday with information on services rendered by his department to home owners.

The Reconditioning Division of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation has been organized to secure for the home owners funds for repairs, modernization, rebuilding and enlargement of homes. Those eligible to receive service are:

1. Those who have already obtained loans from the Home Owners' Corporation.
2. Those eligible to have their mortgages taken over by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.
3. Those who own their homes free of mortgage and who are unable to get reconditioning loans from private agencies.

Every home needs some reconditioning every year. Reconditioning is easy to put off and in the past four years of financial strain home owners have postponed repairs. Observers assert that three out of every five American homes now need extensive repairs.

Reconditioning includes three distinct operations. Repair and maintenance is first, including all work designed to restore a house to its condition when new, such as painting, pointing of masonry, caulking of doors and window frames, re-roofing, replacement of gutters, downspouts, floors, plumbing and other outworn equipment.

Remodeling is next in order, involving structural changes, such as enlargement of the dwelling, addition of a bathroom, a porch, a window, re-arrangement of rooms or any other alteration in the design.

Modernizing, the third operation, involves installation of new equipment, such as insulation, heating plant, electric lights or running water.

J. S. AIDS MANY AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Eugene, Oregon—Employment has been provided for 260 students of the University of Oregon by the federal government this fall, thus enabling this number to continue their university education. It is announced by Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary here. Half of these are new students, entering the university this fall.

The students are permitted to earn up to $15 per month, according to their needs. They are employed at secretarial work, research assistance and various other campus projects, and are paid at the rate of 35 cents an hour. The university has been included as part of the national project, which has made it possible for approximately 100,000 students to continue higher education this fall.

LAND BANK SALES WILL BE MADE IN THIS TERRITORY

In response to the active inquiry for land in Oregon this year, based upon improved farm income and rising real estate values, the Federal Land bank is making a special sales offering of its acquired farm property in this territory.

N. Kimball will be in the Bank of Stanfield building in Stanfield on October 22 to give full information to prospective buyers. E. C. Hendershot will be in Boardman, October 24.

With this part of Oregon being widely recognized as a "bright spot" on the agricultural map, inquiries for land in this region are coming to the land bank in large numbers, many of them from drought-hit sections of the midwest.

BULLDOGS UPSET FOOTBALL DOPE IN IONE DEFEAT

son gave Hermiston the ball on the one yard line where Stewart carried it over for the third score and converted the extra point. Then with only a few minutes left to play the visitors resorted to passes in a desperate effort to score. On one of these, which netted them a gain of 20 yards, the receiver all but got away for a touchdown. However, their offensive drive was stopped on the 50 yard line, and as before mentioned it was here that Hensel wrote a fitting climax to the exciting game by racing half the length of the field for the third touchdown.

The game was one in which the winning team won by letting opportunity enter when she knocked as well as creating opportunities and then taking advantage of them. Throughout the game good sportsmanship prevailed. The boys from Ione did well, very well. Their yardage from the line of scrimmage totaled 90, while Hermiston made 187 yards. By subtracting Hensel's mad 50 yard dash, the two teams are put on a more nearly equal basis from this standpoint. The visitors made five first downs from scrimmage while Hermiston has seven to their credit. The Bulldog line did excellent defensive and offensive playing. In the backfield Stewart, Jendrzewski and Hensel showed up especially well, although Sisson, who was playing his first game in a backfield position, showed up by winning the honor of running a punt further back than anybody during the game.

The Hermiston line-up was as follows: Whittsett, W. center; Knerr and Seeliger, guard; Conrad and Reeves, tackle; Cox and Dawson, ends; Stewart, fullback; Hensel and Sisson, halfback; Jendrzewski, quarterback. Albert Kennings acted as referee and Logan Todd as head-linesman.

Bulldogs Get Treat.

As the result of winning the game from Ione the Bulldogs were honor guests of L. A. Moore at the Oasis theatre Friday night when they saw "Charlie Chan in London." The boys and their coach enjoyed a pleasant evening.
