A Basic Science Law.

In order that the people's choice of a doctor, engaged in the healing arts in Oregon, may be from a group which has qualified in an examination of the basic sciences of human anatomy, human physiology, human pathology, chemistry, and hygiene, which is given by the State Board of Higher Education, the Basic Science Law was written into our state constitution.

Law was written into our state constitution. On November 6th the people of Oregon will vote on an amendment to this law which would establish "respective boards of examiners of each art or profession" giving no definite basic sciences standard of qualification.

The present basic science law provides that the law shall not be construed to affect or prevent the practice of the religion of persons who endeavor to prevent or cure disease or suffering by prayer or other spiritual means in accordance with the tenets of any church.

If the amendment is accepted there is grave danger of an influx of unqualified doctors into the state, who have received degrees from schools of low scholastic requirements.

Vote 305 - No.

Vote 302 or 303!

If a sales tax is desired, voting for the constitutional amendment to limit taxes on taxable property is a sure road to travel to get to the ultimate objective. Passing this amendment would be tantamount to ducking about ten teams from the famous 20 mule string without throwing off any of the load.

Of course there are some who argue that the cost of government should be trimmed down. There is too much inefficiency and needless expenditures. All this is true, but notwithstanding the passing of the proposed amendment will necessitate throwing off more than non-essentials; most of the load of borax will have to be dumped.

Then there is another important angle to this amendment: Even those who have long advocated a sales tax to relieve the property tax and place the cost of government where it most rightfully belongs are turning thumbs down on this measure. On the face of the matter it would seem that their attitude is inconsistent. Here is an opportunity to get by an indirect method what is wanted, yet they refuse to travel the road.

There is little question that those who sponsor this piece of legislation have the right idea in mind, relying on a property tax as the chief source of revenue to finance government within a state is coming to be recognized as archaic. It belonged to an economic area that has been dead more than half a century.

Vote for Raley Peterson FOR REPRESENTATIVE IN THE LEGISLATURE He is an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt and the "New Deal". He stands with Progressive Democrats and Progressive Republicans who are supporting the President. He is against Hooverism and Hardingism and all reactionary principles of old political leaders who are responsible for the depression and for governmental scandals during the twelve years before President Roosevelt's inauguration. He believes that in times of emergency active partisan politics should adjourn and all good citizens work harmoniously for the general welfare of their country. In state affairs, he will be with the farmer, laborer, dairyman, small business man, and work for their interests. He will help to repeal or greatly amend the vicious "truck law" enacted by the last legislature of which James H. E. Scott, one of his opponents, was a member. This law has forced hundreds of small truck owners off the highways on account of tyrannical regulations and prohibitive fees. Farmers are hard hit by this law. Many wood haulers using their trucks to support their families, have been put out of business; farmers who generally helped their neighbors by hauling their produce to market, had to quit doing so, as they were required to file schedules of rates, to take out permits, post bonds, and submit to strict and burdensome regulations in performing neighborly acts. Give Mr. Peterson a chance to represent you in the Legislature. HIS NUMBER ON THE BALLOT IS 36. (Paid Adv.)
