Our Problem.

A timely move is now on for the construction of a high school building and gymnasium for Hermiston. It is timely not alone because of the present crowded conditions of our school building, but because of the possibilities of obtaining federal funds from the PWA in its 1935 program.

It is true that the present crowded conditions in the school cannot be allowed to continue and at the same time maintain a high standard in educational efficiency. Then there is the need to look into the future with the construction of the Umatilla rapids dam in the offing, which will increase the enrollment by bringing in outside families.

Supt. R. H. McAttee expressed the belief this week that PWA money will be available for such a project, although the program for 1935 has not been definitely announced. In such event the government will want to know what the district needs and plans should be well under way to aid in presentation of a constructive plan.

This is a problem for every resident in the district to consider. It is our problem, one that looks into the future for training of boys and girls who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

No Fraudulent Intent.

Many dairymen have wondered why they should test their herds for Bang's disease now, while the federal program is being carried on and indemnities are being paid for all reactors. The indemnity may be the first consideration. The second reason is due to the fact that it may become compulsory within the state of Oregon if pending legislation now being shoved through the hoppers at Salem becomes a law.

The government is attempting to give the farmer a chance to clear his herd of Bang's disease and make this territory an abortion free area, while at the same time offering an indemnity for all reactors slaughtered within 30 days after such report is returned.

The question of the sincerity of the program has arisen, and the possibility of an unfair deal being shown the farmer. The method of testing is simple. The federal veterinarian takes a blood sample from each cow in the herd over six months of age. This sample is placed in a small bottle marked only with the veterinarian's identification letter and serial number of the cow, which appears on the ear tag, and mails them, along with blood samples from cows in other herds, to the staff by which these tests have been made for years, at Oregon State college. The record sheets carrying the owner's name is mailed separately and is taken care of by a clerical staff.

By this method there is no possibility that the federal government is making an effort to eradicate the small dairyman. Many reports of herds having an enrollment of 50 cows show no reactors, while others have shown a large percentage of reactors, and again one of two cows in the herd enrolling 50 cows is not considered a small dairy.

All appraisals of reactors made in this territory have been reasonably satisfactory to the owner. The government expects the appraisal to equal more than the market value in the animal plus the $20 indemnity.

Undoubtedly it is a blow to a dairyman to find a large percentage of his herd reactors, but the policy of testing at regular intervals should be established.

Co-operative Management Must Be Good.

(From Industrial News Review)

There is much more to the job of administering an agricultural cooperative than is generally realized. Any worth-while cooperative program, for example, must include such complicated factors as adaptation of production to market requirements; reduction of production costs so that farmers may increase profits even when the selling price of their products remain stationary; standardization of products and handling methods in the interest of advancing routine efficiency and distributing waste; regulation of the distribution methods.

Equally important is another and less-known work that is essential to cooperative progress. A thousand and one national and international problems affect the farmer. Questions of tariffs, of monetary standards, of foreign trade, agreements of embargoes and quota restrictions—all come home to roost on the farm doorstep. Cooperative executives must have a wealth of knowledge at their finger-tips—and their training must have fitted them for intelligently dealing with a multitude of diverse issues. Again, they must be able to present facts and information concerning trends to their members, who look to them for guidance and leadership—guidance and leadership which grows in importance during periods of economic stress.

The calibre of the executives of the great farm co-ops is fully comparable to that of any business institution. The success the co-ops have won in the face of adversity is directly traceable to that fact.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"SPIRIT" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 10.

The Golden Text was, "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Cor. 3:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal" (I Cor. 12:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Christian Science, Spirit, as a proper noun, is the name of the Supreme Being. It means quantity and quality, and applies exclusively to God. The modifying derivatives of the word spirit refer only to quality, not to God. Man is spiritual." "A knowledge of the Science of Spirit develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity" (pp. 93, 128).

The local meetings are held at 11:00 A. M. every Sunday in the American Legion Hall.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Thursday night of this week, the Epworth League young people will begin a special class on Race Relations. This class will meet one night each week for a number of weeks. The meeting this week is to be at the parsonage.

Those who attended Mid-Winter Institute at Arlington last week end were: Ernest Sater, Everett Rainwater, Glen Pierson, Mr. Hardy, Omega Sater, Rebecca Pierson, Miriam Swanner and Faith Wilson. These young folks reported on the Institute at church service Sunday night.

Beginning Monday night of next week and continuing for at least a week and longer if interest merits it, Rev. W. A. Briggs will conduct special meetings at the church in Echo. Helping him will be Rev. Joseph Pope of Heppner.

BOARDMAN NEWS

By RACHEL J. BARLOW

Mrs. John Pruter was hostess at a lovely dinner Sunday afternoon in honor of Mr. Pruter's seventieth birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bryson of Ione, Hugh Taylor of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Beverlin, Violet, Emogene and Helen of Condon, and Mr. and Mrs. George Elgert and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Moore of Boardman.

Mrs. Ruth Martin and children have moved from the Ervin ranch into a house in town where they will live.

Miss Mary Harney, Miss Lovedy Burkholder, Miss Clara Ruff and Theron Anderson spent the week end in Portland.

Dale Cox, who is visiting here with his grandparents, spent several days in Condon last week at the Truman Messinger home.

In addition to the regular highway crew Noel Klitz, Joe Byram, Gratton Hoffman, Marvin Ransier, E. C. Russell and T. E. Hunt were employed last week helping to build up the shoulder on the highway near Irrigoo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. W. Kruse were hosts at a dance given in their new home last Friday evening.

Mrs. Clara Beamer of Heppner was a business visitor in Boardman Monday. She is chairman of the county relief committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Knight and son returned to their home at Sunnyside, Monday, after a visit here with the Charles Nickerson family.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Peck and daughters left Friday on a motor trip to the coast.

Charles Barlow and Judge Campbell of Pendleton were Boardman visitors Monday. Mr. Barlow has been appointed as County Clerk to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Gay Anderson.

Miss Vera Lubbes and Louis Bush were here Sunday, February 10, by Rev. W. O. Miller at Umatilla. They left after the ceremony for Portland where they spent several days. Mr. and Mrs. Bush will make their home on the Olive Attebury ranch. The newlyweds were chartered by the Lubbes home late Monday evening.

John Healy was taken to Yakima Friday where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

H. M. Sommerer, Manager of the Farm Bureau Co-operative of Hermiston, was a Boardman visitor Monday.

Mrs. Nelson spent the week end in Arlington with Miss Marguerite Williams.

Mrs. L. V. Root and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barlow motored to Yakima Saturday, where they spent the week end. Stanley Jefford returned to his home at Wapato with them.

The Ladies Aid silver tea was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Hango. At this meeting a kitchen shower was given for the new church basement. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Hango, Mrs. Z. J. Gillespie, Mrs. Claud Coats, Mrs. Glenn Hadley and Mrs. James Howell.

A double header basketball game was held in the local gym Friday evening between the Lexington and Boardman town teams, and the grade school teams of each town. Boardman's town team won by a score of 42-31, and the Lexington grade school team was victorious by a 19-6 score.

At a meeting of the city council last week an ordinance was passed to put a water main up the alley to the corner of the church property.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. W. Kruse and Lois have moved into their new house, south of the Broyles home. They have made their home on the Broyles ranch since coming here from Condon. Mr. Broyles, daughter and her husband will move to the ranch here from Colfax.

A crew of men are at work on the range building this week, tearing down the partition and remodeling the rooms. The Farm Bureau feed store has a space in the new building, of which A. R. Barlow is the new manager. Mr. Barlow plans to move his grocery store into the corner room of the building within a short time.

High School News.

Saturday night the local basketball team met Arlington on the floor there. Both the Boardman first and second teams lost. The school bus took a load of rosters to the game.

Herbert Parsons was a visitor in Baker over the week end.

Elsie Wilson and John Healy have been absent from school for several days.

The Home Nursing class for adult education will form at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday in the school cafeteria.

LIFE OF A LEGISLATOR

By Clinton P. Haight
Editor, Blue Mountain Eagle
Canyon City, Ore.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Ore.—Let's chatter. These spring days make us twitter like a bird.

Spring. Glorious spring. There is only one crop that is harvested in the spring—the law crop. And what a crop! The legislature has adopted about fifteen state codes. These codes may have as many as 250 regulations, and each regulation has the effect of a law. They include every human activity. And then we took on the NRA (state court enforcement) with its 500 codes, with a potential 250 laws each, making a modest 137,500 regulations, covering everything from a corn doctor to a lead nickle in an unlawful slot machine. And two weeks yet to go.

Bills, bills, bills! At home we get our bills on the first of each month. At the legislature we get them every day in the month, with more than four hundred now in the House alone. There will be 56 bills coming up Monday for final passage. We suggest that we vote for them, ten at a time, and then, flip heads to determine whether we vote yes or no for each block of ten.

Our working principle. Contrary of course. In law the defendant is presumed to be innocent until he is proven guilty. In the legislature we prove law on you and be sure that it is not a foster father. Be sure that some lawyer is not practicing law on you an dbe sure that it is not conceived in greed, born of selfishness and nurtured in deception and even then not many mistakes will be made by voting no.

Fight. The House can be so dull that it is stupid with the reading clerk droning along with the monotony of the first and second reading of bills. All is quiet, peaceful and happy. Fish. Somebody said "Fish" and a dozen men were off their feet ready to go over the top. They are fighting interests fish with a long line, and a little, innocent bill can be a dynamite factory. Fish. The fight is whether the fish shall be put into a basket or into a tin can. Sounds innocent. But if you mention "Fish" in these historical halls you ought to have a warning sign on like a catcher in a baseball team.

The kids. Now we are on a subject that we will fight for—the kids. Fish don't interest us but if anyone says anything about our kids they will have to take our measurement overcoat. We are proud of them. A fine lot of youngsters—clean cut, alert, courageous and making very creditable appearances upon the floor—they are all under 30. Millard Rodman, 24, of Crook is our baby; Roscoe Krier of Wagon is 25; William Knight, Douglas, is 25; Lyle Thomas of Polk, 25; Walter Norblad of Clatsop, 27; William Dickson of Multnomah, 28; Walter Fruher, Marion, 30; and Harry Boivin of Klamath, 30. Oregon, to you we dedicate these youthful soldiers.

Children. That reminds us. They enjoy the legislature; it reminds them of their debating societies. Nearly every day the children from some school will visit the legislature in a body and they feel like rooting just like they do when they go to a football game. We would like to take the lid off some day just to hear them.

Reading clerk. He is Jim Vernon. He reads for hours, and then he has a machine to spray his throat with, for after reading old dry bills for an hour his neck gets tired. At first we thought that he was cut of wind and was pumping himself up like a spare tire.

Here are the bad children. Booze, beer, wine, speakeasies, hotels, restaurants, beer halls, dance halls; all fighting one another with legislation for each wants the money—greed, selfishness, deception. But of course the saloon won't come back. They are already here. The fire will fly when the booze bills come in. More fire—chain stores, tax exemptions, tax bills, labor bills and election changes. But a fight can start any time on anything.

Cigarettes. There are only three women members in the House. And so a tax on cigarettes would be taxation without much representation or the ladies would have to pay much of the tax on cigarettes. And then the proposed tax on cigarettes is the entering wedge for the sales tax. It is a start. We are independent for we smoke Bull Durham and roll our own.

No major legislation has reached the House but it will be fast and furious for the next two weeks—maybe longer.

FORD GAVE YOU THE V-8 TRUCK ENGINE . . . THEN THE FULL FLOATING REAR AXLE

Now - Forward Load Distribution

Obtained by mounting front springs ahead of axle and moving V-8 engine forward. This places more load ahead of rear axle, more weight on front end.

Another ADVANCED TRUCK FEATURE

TRUCKING entered a new era of economy when Ford engineers gave you the V-8 truck engine, the full-floating rear axle and the other truck-built features that are today saving money for thousands of Ford V-8 users.

For 1935, Ford engineers have added improvements than enable you to make new demands on your truck—that will further reduce your operating and maintenance cost.

Perhaps your tire wear is okay. Perhaps your brakes are giving efficient, long service. Maybe you have no complaint about the way your truck is standing up or handling. Even so . . . the new Ford Forward Load Distribution will improve on all these. In addition, you can now use full-width semi-trailers—and make acute angle turns.

No other truck in America, regardless of price, offers the combination of features brought to you by the 1935 Ford V-8. Don't fail to test these trucks on your own job, with your own drivers! . . . 131½ and 157-inch wheelbases.
