Our Turkeys.

Our turkeys. There are more than 30,000 of these royal birds in our own locality developing rapidly into luscious holiday servings...

The wild turkey of the eastern and southern woods, such wonderful prize game birds of our forefathers, never were so luscious as these.

The national bird has been grown wherever agriculture pursued its ways in our America. It was grown in the valleys, on the plains, and on the mountain slopes...

We are duly proud of our turkeys. Also, we are duly proud of our growers. They work studiously and scientifically in their efforts to achieve this nearly perfection...

Do You Want the Dam?

Then go and get it. When Portland wanted a dam, and more dams, it went after them with all the energy it possessed.

Why Wait?

Why must we wait for oil on the diagonal and Butter Creek highway? The road is graded and gravelled, and is now the most wash-boarded, car-rattling, stretch of road in the whole state of Oregon...
