Help Do the Job.
 The appeal for help in this issue should be read. New facts must be presented to the U. S. Army board and to senators and congressmen, and then on up to Secretary Ickes and the President. Somebody must do this and it must be done now.
 The Bonneville dam is established and the Grand Coulee has received its appropriations, and both have been authorized for all future developments. The Umatilla dam stands next in the engineers' recommendations and has risen newly to the forefront.
 The Grand Coulee was brought about by just such effort by a few communities like Ephrata and Coulee and Almira and Wenatchee, and was kept going by the four bit donations of the farmers in that region, to James O'Sullivan, Rufus Woods and a few others who never laid down on the job.

 Three thousand men working, 2000 more men to take care of their needs; market for all home produce of the farmers; honest jobs for those who need places; increase in values of surrounding farms, and better conditions in all our own towns nearby, is something to work for. Every man and woman should be proud to have a part in the final achievement.

PURCHASE INTEREST IN THOMPSON GROCERY STORE
 Announcement was made this week that Vane Boynton has bought an interest in the Thompson grocery and will take over complete management of the store March 1st. Mr. Boynton has had a wide experience in the grocery line, having been with various chain stores over a period of seven years.
 It was pointed out by Mr. Boynton, and Mr. Davis of the meat department, that high quality at lowest possible prices has always been the policy of those managing the store, and Mr. Boynton realizes that operation on a cash basis would enable the management to offer even greater savings. They feel sure that their customers will be glad to avail themselves of these extra savings, when, beginning March 1st, the store will be operated on a strictly cash basis.
 The public is cordially invited to inspect the new enlarged stock in the store. The Thompson-Boynton grocery and Davis Market appreciate your patronage and endeavor to make your dealings with them pleasant and satisfactory.
