LOCAL METHODIST CHURCH CLOSSES A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The board of the Methodist church reports a good year, closing June 30th. The local benevolent budgets were raised in full. Old debts, interest and back taxes were all removed. The pastor's allowance was raised fifty percent and other items in the local benevolent budget were advanced proportionately.

Several minor improvements are contemplated for the property of the church this year.

The organization experienced a growth of ten percent during the year in spite of epidemics, quarantines and much bad weather. The Sunday school is being reorganized and its future promises to be a good one.

The Epworth League will send a large delegation to the Suttle Lake Institute next Monday. The Ladies Aid has had a fine year, helping with various local projects of the church and community. It has included in its activities a missionary study, which certainly will aid materially the Christian viewpoint.

A reception for Rev. R. R. Finkbeiner and his family will follow the fellowship and pot luck dinner Sunday, July 12, in the basement of the church.
