Guineas' Safety Alarms

Always alert and watchful, guinea fowls have a special value as danger alarms and safety leaders for other poultry, particularly the rattle-headed turkeys. H. L. Shrader of the United States Department of Agriculture suggests that turkey growers will do well to include a few eggs of guinea fowls with each incubator lot of turkey eggs. They have the same period of incubation. The guinea chick is brighter, more alert. It teaches the turkey poults how to find the feed hopper and the warm spots under the brooder. As the two grow older and range together, the young guinea sounds the first alarm when strange animals or predatory hawks appear. To see a few guineas in a large flock of turkeys reminds one of a motorcycle policeman weaving in and out in crowded traffic. Guinea fowl also give variety for the table, and many consider the gamey meat a great delicacy.

Artificial Breeding

Simplified methods for artificial breeding of poultry, which in tests produced higher fertility than natural mating, have been developed by poultry scientists of the United States Department of Agriculture. A 97 per cent fertility of eggs was obtained by these new methods as compared with an average of 85 per cent in the natural matings at the National Agricultural Research center, Beltsville, Md. Ordinarily, poultrymen provide a male for each 10 or 15 birds in their flocks.

OREGON AAA WORK SHEETS EXCEED EARLY ESTIMATES.

County and state committees in charge of the agricultural conservation program are now busy checking and listing more than 20,000 work sheets which were turned in by Oregon farmers in preparation for applying for grants under the program. All work sheets must be checked and the data on them totaled in order to proceed with the assigning of final farm yield factors on which class I payments are based.

Close to 3000 more work sheets were turned in than were expected in early estimates made by the state college extension service which was in charge of the organization and informational work in connection with the program. While Umatilla county continues to lead in the number cooperating, as it did under the old programs, a far greater number of western Oregon growers have indicated intention to cooperate than were included in all of the former AAA projects.

Following are the latest totals turned in to the state office on numbers of work sheets filed by the closing date, July 3:

- Baker 600; Benton 337; Clackamas 1160; Clatsop 65; Columbia 497; Coos 400; Crook 218; Curry 185; Deschutes 300; Douglas 800; Gilliam 400; Grant 140; Harney 25; Hood River 350; Jackson 700; Jefferson 235; Josephine 315; Klamath 375; Lake 142; Lane 1305; Lincoln 290; Linn 1305; Malheur 652; Marion 1318; Morrow 650; Multnomah 255; Polk 900; Sherman 550; Tillamook 437; Umatilla 1620; Union 700; Wallowa 540; Wasco 440; Washington 800; Wheeler 124; Yamhill 900.

CHURCH NOTES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"SACRAMENT" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 12.

The Golden Text was, "But to do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased" (Heb. 13: 16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me" (Luk. 22: 14, 17, 19).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true sense is spiritually lost, if the sacrament is confined to the use of bread and wine. The disciples had eaten, yet Jesus prayed and gave them bread. This would have been foolish in a literal sense; but in its spiritual significance, it was natural and beautiful. Jesus prayed; he withdrew from the material senses to refresh his heart with brighter spiritual views" (p. 32).
