BULLDOGS SCORE 6-0 AGAINST CONDON ELEVEN

PENALTIES MANY TWO MEN DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR SCORE; MEET ATHENA TEAM FRIDAY.

Although losing enough ground through penalties to add up a dozen touchdowns, the Hermiston Bulldogs eked out a single touchdown for victory in the closing minutes of the game with Condon here last Friday afternoon. They failed to convert, making the score 6-0.

The lone touchdown came when Seeliger, after failing in several attempts to make a good return, broke loose and returned the ball 30 yards from the middle of the field. Two more plays brought the ball for first down on the Condon seven yard line. Pulling himself out of line, Captain Stewart, 200 pound Bulldog tackle, bucked the line in the first play to within half a yard of victory. Seeliger then took the ball over the line.

With only a few minutes left in the game, the Condon boys went forward to make long end runs. Stewart, by a dandy tackle, stopped the Condon player who was headed for an open field.

In the Bulldog's anxiety to win the contest, numerous penalties were called for off-sides. These were especially costly when the Bulldogs lost yardage after making long end runs.

Hermiston business men gave their support by closing their places of business to attend the game. This was the last home game until Armistice Day when the Bulldogs tangle with their ancient rival, Heppner.

The Bulldogs met the strong Athena team at Athena today (Friday).

Games won and lost to date are: Pasco 0, Hermiston 9; Waitsburg 9, Hermiston 0; Condon 0, Hermiston 6.

TEXAS FILM SCHEDULED

"The Texas Rangers," King Vidor's historical epic of the men who molded a state from the territory of Texas, comes Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Oasis Theatre.

The picture features an all star-cast headed by Fred MacMurray and Jack Oakie, and including among its headlines Jean Parker, Lloyd Nolan, Edward Ellis, Bennie Bartlett and a score of others.

Filed on location in Texas and New Mexico by a company of several thousand persons, with the assistance of officials of both States, "The Texas Rangers" combines a fast-moving, action and thrill-filled story and a panoramic view of the unfolding of the history of the Lone Star State.

Banded together under an oath to "drive out hostile Indians, stop feuds, destroy cattle and horse thieves, gangs of stage and train robbers, kill or capture murderers, and make Texas a reasonable safe place in which to live," the Rangers contributed much to the color of the State's early days. Both MacMurray and Oakie join the fearless band in the course of the motion picture.

Encounters of Ranger companies with bands of marauding Indians and with stage coach robbers are a part of the plot development.

ELEVEN AMONG DISTRICT TURKEY PRODUCERS

SEVEN TELL STORIES

A. E. Bensels Among First Growers; Increase in Production Indicated for 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bensel are among the eleven turkey producers who are going into the turkey business with an increased flock this year, and plan further increase for the coming season. They formerly lived in the North Hill district, moving into the Minnehaha district three years ago.

The flock of 450 bronze birds which the Bensels have this year were brooded in a new 24x60 brooder house. It is built into the bank south of the house, with cement gravel walls covered by boards on the interior. A cement floor will be poured for the building this fall.

Mrs. Bensel was probably the first person on the project to raise turkeys. The first year she raised 35 birds, out of which she shipped 18 to Seattle receiving $75.50. The birds were brought to maturity in an improvised home-made brooder consisting of a large box with burlap sacks as covers. The birds ranged in a small pen made of boards to break the wire but with no covering. The only artificial heat used was when jars of hot water were placed about the pens. This system was used for five years, or until the brooder house was built this spring on their present farm.

The second year Mrs. Bensel raised 150 turkeys and these she sold to W. A. Mikesell, who fed the birds until market time and sold them at a fair profit.

For a few years Mrs. Bensel did not raise turkeys and then in 1929 she cleared $1000 on her flock of 400 birds. Since that time she has raised them regularly and expects to keep between fifty and sixty hens for breeding stock this year.

The first incubators hatched about the middle of April and one machine which had a capacity of 155 eggs hatched out 150 poults. This did not prove to be an average hatch, however, and later hatches ran much lower.

An increase in the flock is anticipated next year with 1000 birds placed on the range. Feed for the birds is purchased from the Farm Bureau Co-operative, except corn which is planted at an early season. This is fed to the birds for two months before marketing, through the Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' (Continued on Page 3)
