Even though snow is still on the ground spring tree planting is just around the corner. Just as well be thinking about it and making plans. Tree seedlings will be available at low costs, and every farm on the project should have more trees for shade, windbreaks, wood, posts and the beauty of the landscape. No improvement can add more to the value of a farm than trees, and no improvement costs as little.

Another river hearing will be held, February 16th, at Lewiston. What will be told then we do not know, but one thing should be told in loud and uncertain terms, that the people of the Inland Empire want low freight rates, which will come only through the Umatilla dam and Snake river improvement. Volumes of data and listings of facts have been stacked in every federal office in the west and in Washington, and on the desks of every northwest member of congress. They all know what it is about. The voice of the people should be made thunderous.

Bragging a little we might say we have had it on many localities over the country during January, even though we have had the unusual. The Midwest has had record breaking floods, the dust bowl is still blowing dust, our own coast had a tremendous storm, winds have blown hard in many nearby localities, schools have been closed and highways impassable and thermometers went to the bottom in hundreds of unusual weather exhibitions. We have suffered but little from all these inconveniences, want has not been heard of, feed for livestock has been plentiful and we can say that we have calmly weathered our weather without complaint, and with anticipations of much benefit therefrom.

Out of bread, out of meat, and out of pretty nearly everything else in the way of food and supplies, three hundred residents of Cove, Ore., made contact last Friday with the rest of the world after being shut in by snow for two weeks. Snow-plows failed to break through the huge drifts and for seven days Cove was completely isolated from even its nearest neighbor, Union, only nine miles away.

BOARDMAN

Rev. H. B. Thomas was called to Halfway last week to conduct a funeral, and while there was called upon to preach another funeral. The Boardman town team played a double header with the Stanfield CCC boys here Saturday, winning both games.

The Ladies Aid met at Mrs. Theron Anderson's home Wednesday afternoon. After the regular business meeting a lunch was served by the committee, Mrs. Art Allen, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Souders and Mrs. T. Anderson.

Carma Darlene, a little girl of five pounds, arrived Saturday evening to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Nate Macomber went to Heppner Sunday to see Al Macomber who is quite ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Agee is working at the Porter home while Mrs. Porter is ill with the flu.

Owing to so much sickness and bad weather the Morrow County Pomona Grange officers did not put on the fifth degree work at Pendleton as planned.

Andrew Souders of Missouri is visiting his brother Ed Souders. They had not seen each other since 1912.

TREE-TOPPER
INJURED IN FALL

Oscar McCarty, son of Otis McCarty, was seriously injured Thursday of last week when he was knocked from a tree on the Butter Creek ranch where he was topping trees. A large branch swung back and knocked him to the ground, a distance of about 30 feet or more. His left wrist, arm and elbow were fractured and his ribs torn loose from the breast bone. Dr. W. Martin Marbut set the other fractures, but Tuesday evening Mr. McCarty was taken to Portland to consult a bone specialist.
