CHEMURGIC

Chemurgic is a new word, but it has an important meaning in our agricultural, employment and industrial progress. The farm chemurgic council, a meeting of which is to be held in Spokane March 22 and 23, will discuss methods and facts pertaining to the uses of farm products for industry, or in the manufacture of soil crops into other than the usual marketable forms. For instance the fiber of roots may be used for twine and cloth. Grain may be reduced to power alcohol. Plastics of soy beans may be used for telephone receivers, radio knobs and other materials that have to stand greater strain than wood, and can yet be moulded. Sugar can be made from Jerusalem artichokes and the roots of dahlias. A whole series of plants can be processed into tanning materials.

It is claimed that by these processes in chemical manufacturing will supply a much larger industrial stomach as large as the human and animal stomachs of today. According to statistics 40 per cent of all industrial products are bought by farmers, and industry has commenced to realize that it must increase the purchasing power of the farm by providing better markets for the products of the farm. This plan is timely in our own locality because of the new developments of cheap power for manufacturing uses which may come soon to the very gates of our own farm homes.

Progress Edition.

The Progress Edition of the Walla Walla Daily Bulletin surpasses other annual editions in its story of progress in the Walla Walla valley. The edition carries 93 pages and eight sections and is filled with stories on business and financial progress, agricultural progress, industries, cannery development, the implement business and denotes the progress made in neighboring towns tributary to the Walla Walla valley. A. W. Neilson, traveling reporter, has done a fine job of covering towns in this territory, stories of which appear in the edition.

WHO WAS HE?

From The Bulldog.

Last year I asked her to be my wife and she refused, so to get even I married her mother. Then my father married the girl. When I married the mother the girl became my daughter and since my father married the girl, he became my son. But when my father married my daughter, she became my mother. Now, if my father is my son and my daughter is my mother, who am I? Since my daughter is my mother, then her mother must be my grandmother and then being my grandmother's husband I must be my own grandfather—so there you are!

HUMAN DRAMA IN 'GROWING PAINS'

OFFSPRING PROVOKE PARENTS

From The Bulldog.

The senior class of '37 will present "Growing Pains," a comedy of adolescence in three acts, by Aurania Rouverol, in the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, March 18, under the direction of Miss Lavina May Lynch.

No one escapes the joys and sorrows of adolescence and few fail to respond sympathetically when these experiences are presented to them in books or on the stage.

Aurania Rouverol is a master hand in depicting family life, and in "Growing Pains" she has taken children for her subject and gives an illuminating and authentic drama of real human beings.

It is certain that anyone witnessing this comedy will emerge with a greater degree of understanding and tolerance and a fuller measure of love and devotion toward the children around them.

The plot centers around Professor McIntyre, Mrs. McIntyre, and their two children, Terry and George, and the action is laid in the sun room of the McIntyre residence in a university town in northern California.

You'll enjoy a peek into the McIntyre home, you'll adore Terry and George as you watch them grow, you'll think Professor and Mrs. McIntyre two of the most lovable and understanding parents you have ever seen, and too, the neighborhood kids are swell.

Laughter piles upon laughter as the play progresses, and genuine pathos interspersed makes the pattern complete and the end is bright and promising.

BULLPUP NEWS

From The Bulldog.

The junior high is working hard on the operetta "Sunny of Sunnyside," to be given March 19th.

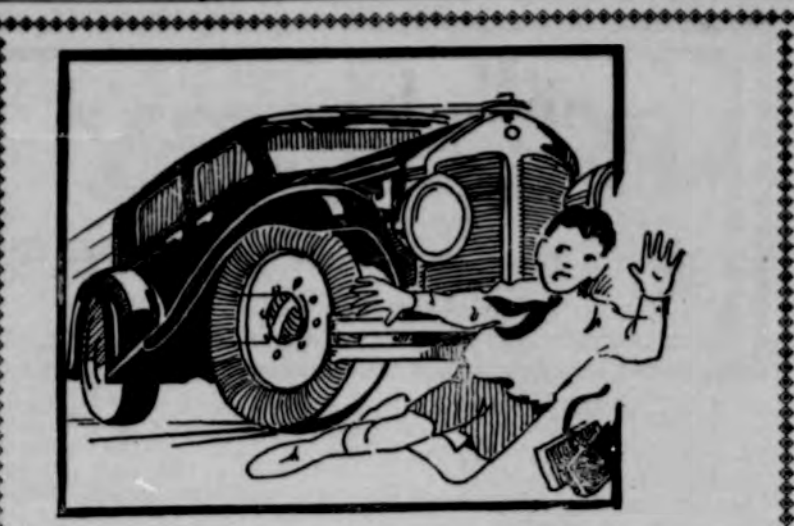

The story of the plot is about Sunny, a lovely little orphan girl, the favorite of the other orphans of the Sunnyside Home. Returning from the hospital where she has recovered from injuries received in saving the life of another orphan, she finds her playmates excited over the news that a wealthy patroness of the home, Mrs. Raleigh, is planning to adopt one of the orphans as a companion for her niece, Eileen. No one knows who will be chosen, but each girl hopes it will be herself.

Sunny, however, putting aside all thought of herself, finds plenty to do settling disputes among the orphans, reassuring Paul, the new boy, who is afraid that his tough big brother Slim will drag him away from the home and force him to steal; and trying to comfort Jimmy, the crippled orphan, whose one absorbing passion in life is to be cured of his lameness. Bitterly disappointed over the failure of Mrs. Raleigh to send him to a doctor, Jimmy steals her purse containing a large sum of money. In a moment of belated remorse, he confesses the theft to Sunny, who, to shield him, sturdily shoulders the guilt herself.

The purse, stolen in turn from its hiding place by Amos, finds its way into the hands of Slim. Slim's effort to kidnap the younger brother is thwarted by Sunny, who thereby gets kidnaped herself. Her escape from her captor and her success in clearing her name, recovering the stolen money, finds herself a real home with Mrs. Raleigh and Eileen.

CHURCH NOTES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
 "MIND" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 21.
 The Golden Text was, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding" (Prov. 3:5).
 Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Rom. 11: 34, 36).
 The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is God, and God is not seen by material sense, because Mind is Spirit, which material sense cannot discern. . . . All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation, for God is All-in-all" (pp. 310, 468).
