DAIRYMEN SEEK HERD IMPROVEMENT

Interest is growing in the dairy business in this area, states J. T. Pierson, assistant county agent, and particularly is interest growing in the desire of dairymen to select their seed stock from herds where the quality has been proven by tests made by the Umatilla-Morrow Dairy Herd Improvement association. More farmers are manifesting a practical study of the benefits to be gained by having good cows and maintaining a good herd by testing for good producers and weeding out the boarder class. They are also making better preparation for feed and pastures and the general care of their stock.

Mr. Pierson says this is an excellent region for dairying and if properly carried on will lead to very successful farming here. Bob Townsend, herd tester for the association, has compiled the following report for March, 1937, which has just been completed:

Of the 22 standard herds on test, there were 280 cows tested during the month. The average production per cow for the month was 592 pounds milk and 22.3 pounds butterfat. High herd honors in the 1 to 12 cow class go to James Duncan of Adams. His herd of 11 grade and registered Guernseys averages 573.2 pounds milk and 32.8 pounds butterfat. High herd honors in the 13 to 20 cow class go to F. A. Baker of Stanfield. His herd of 18 grade and registered Jerseys produced 609.3 pounds milk and 29.8 pounds butterfat per cow. In the 20 cow and over class, honors go to Dell Christley of Hermiston. His herd of 30 grade and registered Jerseys produced an average of 575.2 pounds milk and 26.3 pounds butterfat.

The high cow for the month was a grade Holstein, 3 year old, owned by Nick Falser of Boardman. She produced 1519 pounds milk and 72.9 pounds butterfat. The second high cow in the association was a grade Jersey owned by Dell Christley. She produced 1267 pounds milk and 58.5 pounds butterfat.

One cow made the honor roll, which is 70 pounds butterfat or more during the month. There were no cows listed in class A, which consist of mature cows making over 60 pounds of butterfat per month. There was one cow in class B, which consist of 4 year olds making over 45 pounds butterfat. Three cows in class C, which consist of 3 year olds making over 40 pounds butterfat. Three cows in class D, which consist of 2 year olds making 35 pounds butterfat.

One cow was sold to the butcher because she proved unprofitable. Three other cattle were sold for breeding purposes. A substantial list of dairy cows has been recorded at the assistant county agent's office "for sale."

Turkey Growers Will Meet.

A meeting of all turkey breeders has been called by John Jendrzejewski, president of the board, for Saturday, April 10th, at 8:00 p. m. in the Assistant County Agent Pierson's office. The meeting has been called for the purpose of arranging for disposing of breeding stock. Anyone interested is invited to be present at this meeting.

WESTLAND H.E. CLUB WILL CLEANHALL

The Westland Grange Home Economics club will meet at the Grange hall Wednesday, April 14th, to have a general clean-up of the hall and all ladies are asked to bring a pot luck dinner dish and cleaning equipment. At the last meeting of the club a $15 scholarship was voted to the most outstanding girl in home economics. This went to Joyce McCulley. The grange scholarship of $15 went to Bob Jackson.

CLUB PROJECTS DEVELOPED

(Continued from Page 1) and also a club member. Arilda Foster, was elected president, Marion Ott, vice president, and Robert Pierson, secretary. A new member, Albert Schipp, was added at the last meeting and their program of work has been made out for 1937.

New Projects Introduced.

Several boys and girls have expressed interest in one or more of the crops projects which consist of a corn project grown for grain, seed, or silage; a potato project grown for seed, family, or commercial use. A vegetable garden project consists of the growing of five varieties of vegetables for home use or market; a seed project, or special crop, grown for seed purposes which will include wheat, oats, barley, rye, vetch, clover or alfalfa. The forage crop project consists of the growing of one to five of any forage for hay, grain, feed, silage, or pasture.

The minimum requirements on corn is 1-8 of an acre, the most desirable units would be from one to five acres. The minimum requirements for the potato project is 1-8 of an acre, the suggested unit one to five acres. A vegetable garden should consist of at least 600 square feet and up to 1-4 acre. The seed project requirements is one to five acres for irrigated section and 10 to 20 acres for dry land. The forage project requirements one to five acres being more desirable.

Records will be kept on the labor involved in preparing the land, cultivating, and harvesting of the crops. It will also be necessary to estimate the amount of water used in irrigating the crops and a record of the production in terms of yields and the number of animals pastured must also be kept. These records should not take a great deal of time on the part of the 4-H club member because special sheets will be distributed among the various club members simplifying the method of keeping accurate records.

Another project closely connected with crops is that of the identification of weeds. This will be carried in connection with the crops projects in an effort to make a survey of the entire West Umatilla area. In order that a complete survey of the West Umatilla area may be made it is necessary that 25 or 30 boys and girls enroll in this weed project. Boys and girls may enter and carry this as a special 4-H club project if they do not have the land available for the production of a forage crop. In addition to the regular prizes given to those carrying the regular crop projects, prizes will be awarded to every boy and girl who participates in the weed project. Special prizes will be awarded to the girl and boy turning in the best record in the weed project.

H. K. Dean, superintendent of the experiment station, and Emil Zivney, agent of the Bureau of Plant Industry, will assist the assistant county agent and club leaders in the progress of the crops projects and the weed eradication survey. The Umatilla Project Farm Bureau and all grange should encourage the crop and weed projects among boys and girls in their communities.

Other projects such as sheep and poultry are being organized. If insufficient numbers are available for a club, those interested will be carried as individual clubs. Two additional dairy clubs will be organized this week for their second year.

County Council.

County Council date has been set for April 10, in the Stanfield Grange hall. The meeting will open at 10 a. m., with a pot luck dinner served at noon. All grangers and grange officers should be there.

MANY TO ATTEND C. E. CONVENTION

CORVALLIS—More than 1000 Oregon boys and girls from 10 to 18 years old are expected to attend the forty-seventh annual State Christian Endeavor convention for which Corvallis and Oregon State college will be hosts April 15 to 18. Many of the sessions will be held on the college campus.

Registrations are coming in fast, with the largest delegations so far from Tillamook, Grande Ronde and Lincoln county unions. Oregon has 500 Christian Endeavor societies, with a total of more than 10,000 members, and each society is a member of one of the 18 unions into which the state is divided.

The delegates will be housed in private homes in Corvallis, Albany and Philomath, according to Mrs. O. M. Locke, Corvallis, placement chairman, and arrangements are being made for the women's groups of three churches to serve meals to the visitors.

Six major contests are planned for the convention, with prizes for individuals, societies and unions. In the oratorical contest speakers may choose a topic from the general convention theme, "Thy Kingdom Come," as it applies to the home, school, community, nation and world, and the winners on each of the five topics will speak before the separate sessions of the convention.

A big event of the convention will be the parade, in which a state-wide flag race now in progress will determine the positions of the unions. Songs, regalia, marching, banners and floats will be considered in the judging. Floats may not cost more than $3.00 and must emphasize some phase of the convention theme. Prizes will also be awarded for registrations of 10 or more, provided they are in the mail not later than April 7.

A contest for posters advertising the convention and its theme will be another feature, with a union prize offered for the best group of posters and for individuals.

Each union is also entitled to enter one playlet in the high school and intermediate drama contest, in which judging will be based on stewardship appeal, interpretation and costumes. Plays are limited to five characters and 15 minutes presentation time. Awards for the oratorical and dramatic contests include full and half scholarships to the summer conference camp.
