This council is composed of representatives from all the recognized independent social organizations on the campus. Over 2400 independent men and women students are represented by the council.

Groups included in this council are the five clubs in the men's dormitory, the two women's halls, Waldo hall and Margaret Snell hall, the two co-ed cooperative houses, the Beaver cooperative house, and Rosswood association, a social organization composed of independent men living outside of the dormitories.

Jendrzewski has taken an active part in student activities during his three years at O.S.C. He is now a member of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military society, Mu Beta Beta, national 4-H club honorary, and Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity. During the past year he has served as manager of the Agricultural Journal, as treasurer of the agricultural club, and as treasurer of Cauthorn hall. In addition to this he has served on numerous class and student body committees.

POPPIES RECEIVED BY LEGION AUXILIARY

Poppies for the annual poppy sale May 29th have been received by the Hermiston American Legion Auxiliary Unit from the veterans' hospital at Roseburg where they are made by the disabled veterans. Money received for the manufacturing of these poppies is in most cases all the spending money the veterans have during the entire year. "Honor the war dead and aid the war's living victims," is the Auxiliary's poppy day appeal.

CLACKAMAS GIRL
4-H CHAMPION

CORVALLIS—A new national 4-H honor has come to Oregon with the selection of Rose Lena Anderegg of Clackamas as the national champion 4-H Holstein club girl for 1936, according to word received at the state club office.

Rose, who has now completed her seventh year in the dairy club project, has twice been named state champion 4-H Holstein club girl. During 1936 she owned seven purebred Holsteins on which she won numerous awards, including five first places. She has not confined her 4-H activities to dairy club work, however, but has been a member of pig, corn, gardening and sewing clubs and has taken part in judging, demonstration and health contests.

She has served as local leader of clubs in her community for the past three years, and is directing several groups this year.

F.F.A. CONVENTION BIGGEST YET

CORVALLIS—The "Little International" livestock show is being revived by Oregon State college students in animal husbandry, and is being held Saturday, May 1, in connection with the final day of the ninth annual convention of the Future Farmers of America. Students transform the big college armory into a livestock pavilion for this occasion and compete in lively contests.

Ray Gill, master of the Oregon State grange, is the principal speaker at the annual F.F.A. banquet Friday evening on the college campus. The three day convention this year is the largest in many years, with more students entered in the various convention contests than ever before.

Water in Ditches.

All the irrigation canals are now full of water and the season of 1937 is on in earnest. Farmers are spreading the water in all parts of the project. It has been found that most of the land was in need of water following a few days of drying winds. The feed canal is running full head and the reservoir will be filled. A larger supply of water will be available this year than for several of the past seasons.

essence of the Portland statements was monopolization of power by industry. Their proposed amendment would have cancelled requirement for reservation of power for cooperative districts. Yardstick not mentioned.

"The General stated that he gave us Bonneville; the Mayor also claimed it; I claimed it was due to the vision and courage of President Roosevelt. The Portland Chamber of Commerce conception of the use of Bonneville is to fiddle and hold it tightly in its lap. Mine is to spread its benefits as far and as wide as possible. The General and his group testified for two days. I was ready to answer but had less than one-half hour, therefore, requested postponement, offering to make a brief statement immediately. The Committee Chairman desired the postponement. I shall delight in meeting the arguments advanced by the Portland group, and shall send you copy of my reply."
