

FARM CO-OPERATIVE DIVISION

A MESSAGE TO EVERY MEMBER.

FIRST JERSEY JUBILEE, MAY 31ST

The Jersey Jubilee, an annual affair sponsored by the noted Jersey breeders in the state of Oregon, will start a series of shows at the state fair grounds in Salem, May 31st, where 60 head of Jersey cattle will compete for ribbons and special prizes. A similar show will be held at the county fair grounds in Gresham, June 1. Seventy head are scheduled to show at this fair. Washington county will sponsor a jubilee show at Hillsboro, June 2. The Linn-Benton county group, which alternates between Corvallis and Albany, will put on their show at Albany on June 3. Yamhill has selected Carlton for its show June 4. Polk county will show the following day in the Hop Bowl at Independence. The series ends with the Clackamas county show June 7th, at Canby.

The State of Oregon holds 11 of the 18 world records for fat production and 5 of the 18 for milk. Some of the cows, as well as their offsprings, will be seen at these various shows.

W. D. Putnam Jr. of Hillsboro, secretary of the Oregon Jersey Cattle club, will sponsor the event. T. R. Warren, western field man of the American Jersey Cattle club will also be in attendance. Farmers who are interested in seeing good Jersey cattle should plan to attend one of these shows.

Jay T. Pierson, assistant county agent, states that if there is sufficient interest among the breeders in the west Umatilla, Irrigon and Boardman areas, means of transportation can be provided to take a delegation.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Twenty boys and girls were present at a 4-H dairy club fitting and showing demonstration held on the lawn of the reclamation building Sunday, May 16. J. T. Pierson, assistant county agent, demonstrated the procedure necessary in fitting a dairy calf for show ring.

Particular emphasis was placed on teaching the calves to lead in order that they might show to the best advantage for the boys and girls. Boys and girls were urged to start immediately fitting their calves if they contemplated showing at the Eastern Ore Livestock show to be held at Union June 10, 11 and 12. Mr. Pierson pointed out that all calves should be clipped, horns dressed and ears tagged, at least three weeks before fair time and that they should be brushed and blanketed in order that the natural oil of the skin be brought out to give the hair a lustre; also to remove all chaggy or dead hair on the calves. Calves that have a tendency to be wild should not be allowed to run with the rest of the herd and should be staked out on a rope, thus enabling them to become accustomed to the halter.

It was also pointed out that the boys and girls should lead their calves and teach them to pose as every opportunity. Another good policy would be to remove the window sashes from the shed where the calves are housed and darken the house by tacking muslin or gunny-sacks over the windows. This practice eliminates the difficulty encountered from flies and also makes it possible for the calf to have a cool place to go during the heat of the day.

New Dairy Club Organized.

A new dairy club was organized in the Stanfield district Monday evening, May 17. James Barber was elected president, Newell Anson, vice president, and Owen Anson, secretary-treasurer. Other members are Clemma Barber, Wayne Barber, Raymond Patch, Rueben Patch and Anna Patch.

W. R. Barber was chosen local leader. Members elected to call the newly formed club the "Cold Springs Dairy Club."

Lois Hutchison Vice President.

At a meeting of the pig club held at the assistant county agent's office Saturday evening, May 15, Lois Hutchison was elected vice president, filling the vacancy left by Bernard Jendrzejewski, who resigned two weeks ago. During the last week sixteen Duroc Jersey weaner pigs were purchased for members of the pig club to be shown at the local and state fairs. Two purebred Poland China gilts were also purchased for boys who will carry the gilt project this year, and the sow and litter project next year. All weaner pigs purchased were given a treatment for worms as a precautionary measure before they were put on clean ground. This is a measure which follows good hog lot sanitation practices. Boys and girls planning to show a pen of four fat hogs at the Pacific International were urged to make arrangements to get their pigs not later than June 1.

Russell Hartley was elected secretary-treasurer of the Grand Champion Dairy Calf Club, filling the vacancy of Bill Lindner, who resigned.

18 COLLEGES TEACH CO-OP. COURSES

Eighteen American colleges are teaching special courses on the cooperative movement and consumers cooperation in economics and sociology on 131 campuses, according to a survey just completed by The Cooperative League of the U.S.A.

The findings, based on 135 replies to questionnaires sent to heads of economics and sociology departments, show a tremendous increase of interest in academic circles when compared of findings of a similar survey two and a half years ago. In the fall of 1934 only 24 of the 101 colleges reporting taught courses in the economics of consumption in which the consumers cooperative movement was discussed.

Of the 18 colleges offering special courses on the cooperative movement, seven include courses on the organization and management of co-operatives. On a large number of campuses students are operating co-operative book stores, eating clubs, dormitories and buying pools in order to cut the costs of education.

Colleges offering full courses on the cooperative movement include: Kansas State College, University of Minnesota, University of Wisconsin, Connecticut State College, Louisiana State University, Teachers College, Columbia University, North Dakota State College, Antioch College, Hamlin University, American International College, University of Maryland, Butler University, College of the City of New York, Ohio State University, Lewis Institute, University of Newark, St. Vincents College, and Baylor University. Of these the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin, Kansas, Louisiana and Connecticut State Colleges, Antioch and St. Vincents Colleges include special courses on the organization and management of co-operatives.

CO-OP BANK LEADERS VISIT NORTHWEST

Spokane, Wn.—To gain an intimate acquaintance with northwest cooperative activities and visit some of the northwest's agricultural centers, presidents of the 12 banks for cooperatives from all sections of the country will participate in a six-day field conference trip in Oregon and Washington beginning May 31, it is announced by A. C. Adams, president of the 12th district bank at Spokane who will act as leader and host.

Headed by Cooperative Bank Commissioner S. D. Sanders and Assistant Commissioner J. D. Lawrence of Washington, D. C., the party of 12 regional co-op bank presidents will leave their train at Eugene, Oregon, and drive to Spokane bank headquarters by way of Portland, Hood River, Vancouver, Olympia, Tacoma, Seattle, Yakima and Walla Walla, visiting and contacting cooperative groups enroute.

"This is the first time such a field conference has been held," Mr. Adams points out, "so we are naturally pleased that our northwest country was chosen for the initial trip, along with California where the tour is starting. It is significant, of course, that the Pacific state farmers have gained national recognition in the development of cooperative marketing and cooperative purchasing. After hearing so much about our associations the co-op bank presidents wanted to see these accomplishments for themselves. The only regret is that time will not permit a more extensive visit throughout the four northwest states where many other cooperatives are rendering a splendid service to their farmer-members."

The cooperative banks, units of the farm credit administration, are making loans on a helpful business basis to cooperatives which qualify as to sound management and efficient operating programs. The district bank at Spokane is serving 102 individual cooperative associations in its four-state district of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Presidents who will take part in the field conference are: George W. Lamb, Springfield, Mass.; F. B. Bomberger, Baltimore, Md.; V. R. Judson, Columbia, South Carolina; John E. Brown, Louisville, Ky.; J. J. Watson, New Orleans, La.; D. M. Hardy, St. Louis, Mo.; Hutzler Metzger, St. Paul, Minn.; Jerry H. Mason, Omaha, Neb.; Ralph Snyder, Wichita, Kans.; Sterling C. Evans, Houston, Texas; and Dr. E. A. Stokdyk, Oakland, Cal.

Some of the members of the party plan to visit Coulee dam after the break-up of conference at Spokane, June 6.

WALLOWA PARK TO BE OPEN MAY 29

Wallowa Lake park at the head of Wallowa lake and at the entrance to the far-famed Wallowa primitive area of 223,000 acres, will be opened for the 1937 season Saturday, May 29, according to an announcement just made by John T. Conwell, associate manager of the lodge and park.

During the past several weeks extensive improvements have been made in a number of the cabins operated in connection with the lodge. Several have been enlarged in preparation for the coming season, which gives promise of being one of the largest in the history of the park.

Attaches in the lodge and in the park who will be in charge this season, have been on the ground for several weeks getting everything in readiness for the opening. Horses have been brought in from the lower Wallowa and Grande Ronde valleys for those who wish to explore the mountain trails; boats are being placed on the lake; grounds have been put in order and all traces of the heavy winter are being removed.

FOREST SUPERVISOR TRANSFERRED

Lawrence K. Mays, who has been employed in the office of the Forest Supervisor in Pendleton since 1934, during which time he was in charge of all fire control work in the Umatilla National Forest, has been promoted to the Division of Operation in the Portland office of the United States Forest Service, according to Supervisor A. D. Moir, who states that Mr. Mays will henceforth be employed on forest fire studies in all forests in the states of Washington and Oregon.

Mays will be succeeded in the Pendleton office by Junior Forester C. T. Brown. Mr. Brown has been employed as Assistant Ranger of the Walla Walla district of the Umatilla forest since August of last year, and is well qualified to handle fire control work on account of several years' experience in the Columbia National Forest.

WE NOTICED ON FLUNK DAY-

(From the Bulldog)

That Darrel industriously tried to impress Helix and Pilot Rock mermaids.

That Miss Morrison was seen making a three point landing while mountain climbing Friday.

That the Pankows have already begun to furnish their future home. Hugo had the unbelievable luck to win a most indispensable article of home furnishings at the carnival in Pendleton Saturday night. If you ask him, he will be glad to let you see this piece of furniture. (We think.)

That Wayne rated a car with all girls in it. Some people have all the luck.

Jim and Floyd seemed to have profited by all the pounds of bananas and weiners that they managed to down while at Bingham. Especially so when each took a swing at a ball and broke the only two bats in the group. Some people don't know their own strength.

Our editor seemed to be a target for most everything, including indoor balls thrown by very competent pitchers during the games of soft ball played Friday and Saturday. It's possibly a good thing that the bats broke and that the balls weren't baseballs.

That two senior girls used a little bit of strategy and rated a triple ride on the ferris wheel at the carnival in Pendleton. Let Bonnie Jean and Opal tell you how this was accomplished.

That Willie seemed to have gotten over m.a.v. of his forward ways after barging headstrong into the girls' cabin after his suitcase. We hope that it wasn't too much of a shock, Willis.

Jim Stuart seemed to have room for an amazing amount of bananas, weiners, and other food during these two days of rollicking fun. We understand, Jim, that mountain air certainly produces the appetites, but we hope the after effects were not too severe.

That Bernard's and Harold's cars arrived in Pendleton after Coach—when Coach left last. Who can explain this? Probably any one of ten people.

That Floy was with Dayton most of the time.

That some of them just couldn't take it until the weiner roast was over. Namely: Bonnie Jean, Rosemary, Vivian, Mary, Dorothy, Margaret, Darrel, and Bill.

That Mary and Roberta would make good opera singers. This was found out when their bed partner rolled in with ice cold feet.

That Willis acted as "handy man" between the cabin and the bonfire.

That Miss Morrison and Mrs. O'Neil were the chief cooks and bottlewashers and we thank them.

That while Margaret Clarke was playing first base in softball she admitted that she was sitting on the can.

That Floy, Opal and Helen were the last ones to bed and the first to rise.

That the seniors felt like hell—plunging some poor soul Friday night. Especially a group of serenaders over by the river bank.

We'll have to quit this as we can't tell you everything—That's the fun of "Flunk Day." There have to be a few secrets.
