BOARDMAN

By Maryetta Thomas

Miss Wilma Myers, Boardman high school graduate in '37, has been awarded a $150 scholarship for two years to Pacific University by that institution for her high scholastic average. The scholarship will be divided equally in the two years. Miss Myers was valedictorian of her class. Aside from a high scholastic average, Miss Myers was chosen outstanding senior girl, for which she received a medal and her name engraved on a permanent bronze plaque at the school house.

Miss Myers also received a gold pin for highest achievement award in athletics and a letter for points received in student body activities. Miss Myers was treasurer of the student body and also treasurer of the girls' athletic association. She took an active part in dramatics and was a member of the glee club for four years. Miss Myers has gone to Pendleton where she will work until school opens this fall.

A large number of Boardman Grange members attended the all day Pomona Grange and picnic held Sunday at Irrigon. Seven from Boardman were initiated into the Pomona Grange. A business meeting was held in the morning, a lunch at noon, and initiation at night.

A demonstration on the uses of raw wool was given at the school house Monday afternoon. The team members, Lillian Gear and Jacqueline Morton, were the Oregon State champions at the 1936 state fair. They demonstrated washing, dyeing, and carding wool, and making it into hooked rugs. Accompanying the girls were Miss Helen Cowgill from the Extension Department at Oregon State college, and Miss Irene Etter of Pilot Rock, president of Associated Women Students at Oregon State college for next year. Preceding the wool demonstration were two demonstrations by 4-H club girls at Irrigon. Deloris Brown and Lois Markham demonstrated making a breakfast cloth. The second demonstration was given by Lucile Jones and Lorena Allen of the 4-H Room Improvement club. They made a crocheted rag rug. Miss Lucy E. Rogers, county superintendent of schools from Heppner, attended the demonstration.

SO THAT THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

The following presentation of our principles should not be construed in any manner as a forerunner of third party activity or as a reflection on any political party. But we do declare that the principles enunciated below must of necessity be accepted by the American people, regardless of religious or political affiliations, if we are to avert national disaster and maintain a democratic form of government. As long as I live, the fight will go on for these principles.

Principle No. 1—The Townsend Plan is based on a universal transaction tax embracing all sales and services of whatever character. This, as is well known, comprehends the greatest movement ever enunciated in America for democratic principles and humanitarianism.

Principle No. 2—We must restore to the government, where it legally and constitutionally belongs, control of national credits and the issuance and circulation of money. Only by a sound money and national credit system controlled by the government, can the many millions of young people and unemployed hope to have restored their opportunity of home ownership, property rights, and a higher standard of living. Let us stop for all time the ownership of national money and credits by private interests.

Principle No. 3—We demand immediate drastic immigration laws, excluding competition from unutilized foreigners with American labor. Our motto, "United States jobs and opportunities for United States citizens."

Principle No. 4—Buy American. Stop importing products that America can manufacture and produce in sufficient amounts to supply our needs. The home market must be saved for American labor and manufacture, and the American farming interest must at all times be protected against the competition of a world-wide market that compels the farmer to sell his products at pauper prices and lowers his level of living to that of the peasantry of Europe.

Principle No. 5—Homes and farms must not be confiscated through erroneous theories and methods of valuation and unjust taxation. A correct state and municipal system of property taxes must be made immediately operative, whereby property will be taxed justly on the basis of the annual income or use value and only be charged a tax proportionate to that income or use value. The right to ownership of private property and the profits thereof is the safeguard of American liberty.

Principle No. 6—We demand a minimum standard of wages for labor equivalent at all times to the retirement annuity for the aged, as proposed under the Townsend plan.

Principle No. 7—No change vital to the American form of government affecting the liberties of the people must ever be suggested by the Congress or the president of the United States except through constitutional submission to the American electorate.

On these principles we stand unequivocally and request the financial and moral support of all Townsend club members and all United States citizens who are interested in security and the preservation of life, liberty and justice under our constitutional form of government.

The above statements are but the skeleton outlines of our civic and economic principles which will be elaborated upon in subsequent issues of the paper.

To these principles I dedicate my life in the firm belief in the future destiny and greatness of the American people.

Let every member of every Townsend club write me personally, lending their moral and financial aid. Be sure to make all remittances payable to me personally and send them to 720 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago. This will prevent your money from falling into the hands of the enemies.

DR. F. E. TOWNSEND,
Founder and President.
