ACC PROPOSED POTATO GOAL

The Umatilla County Agricultural Conservation committee has been asked to conduct a referendum with respect to the proposed potato goal under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program which is being set up in Washington.

This program applies to all potato growers who have normally raised three acres or more of potatoes in the county during the years 1936 and 1937. Rate of payment will be established in a manner similar to that used in establishing rates for cotton, corn, tobacco, rice, peanuts, and other crops for which special goals may be set up.

Interested potato growers should send their ballots to the assistant county agent's office on or before Saturday, September 25, in order that the administration in Washington may have an expression from potato producers in this area. If you do not wish to mail your ballot, they will be accepted at the assistant county agent's office until 5:00 p. m., Saturday, September 25th.

POULTRY MOVIE WILL BE SHOWN

To Members of the Umatilla Project Farm Bureau:

The meeting which was postponed from September 17th will be held Tuesday, October 5th, at 8:00 p. m. E. W. Engstrom, field representative for the Washington Cooperative Chick association, will present a series of motion pictures of special interest to poultrymen. There will also be a short additional program and refreshments served following the program.

C. M. JACKSON, Secretary.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Twenty-two boys and girls in the livestock clubs were present at a meeting held in the assistant county agent's office Tuesday night in which plans were made to attend the 4-H club show to be held in Pendleton, Saturday, September 25. This was the most enthusiastic meeting of the year as it marks the wind up of local shows and will give the boys in this area an opportunity to compete against other boys and girls in livestock clubs in Umatilla county. The Pendleton show will determine the 4-H champions in the respective livestock clubs in Umatilla county. Ten head of beef animals, 25 head of dairy animals, seven head of hogs, and eight head of sheep will be exhibited at Pendleton by the boys and girls from this section Saturday.

Kenneth Bense and Eugene Rugg, state dairy demonstration champions, will give their demonstration at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at the Round Up grounds. This will be the last that this demonstration will be held locally. The boys will compete at the National Dairy Show at Columbus, Ohio, on October 10th, for sectional honors and a $500 agricultural college scholarship. Should they place in this contest they will compete for national honors against the winners of the sectional contest for an additional $300 agricultural college scholarship.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS SPEAKS

PARIS—Delegates from cooperatives in every section of the world meeting here for the Fifteenth Triennial Congress of the International Cooperative Alliance September 6 to 9, reaffirmed their belief in democracy and peace and took concrete steps to put their ideals into practice.

The International Cooperative Wholesale Society, a federation of 27 national cooperative wholesales meeting before the I.C.A. convened, voted to open a cooperative buying agency in London to facilitate the flow of goods to cooperatives which last year distributed $20,000,000-000 worth of commodities and services.

The international meeting of young cooperators set up an International Federation of Cooperative Young which will train future leaders for the cooperative movement and promote the cause of peace through the international cooperation of the peoples of the world.

American delegates to the congress proposed the formation of an International Cooperative Petroleum Wholesale which would make available greater support for the processing and shipping of oil from American cooperatives to co-ops in Europe. The foundation for such an enterprise has been laid by recent shipments from Consumers Cooperative Association, North Kansas City, to co-op wholesales in Scotland, France, Belgium and Estonia.

The ICA approved at its general sessions the report of a special commission on Rochdale principles now universally used as the criterion of cooperation. The principles approved were (1) open membership; (2) democratic control; (3) Distribution of savings in proportion to purchases; and (4) limited interest on capital. Two practices previously considered among the Rochdale principles - cash trading and political neutrality - were dropped at the insistence of British cooperatives which have built tremendous credit businesses in household furnishings and have launched a Cooperative Party to combat legislative attacks against the co-ops.

WOMAN MERCHANDISING DISTRIBUTOR

NEW YORK—The board of directors of Cooperative Distributors, meeting in the new headquarters of the mail order cooperative at 116 East 16th Street, Monday, September 13th, selected Miss Olga Hourwich, merchandising expert, to succeed Ira Cotins, retiring manager of the four year old cooperative.

Miss Mourwich was a member of the planning department of R. H. Macy and Co., New York's largest department store, from 1924 to 1929 and associate buyer for the same organization from 1929 to 1936. In the fall of 1936 she took a position as merchandise manager for the Gross Strauss Co., Worcester, Mass. Miss Hourwich was educated at Wellesley, Columbia and the University of Berlin. During the past year she has advised CD on merchandising problems.

Ira Cotins, retiring manager, has taken a position in private business but will continue as management consultant in the cooperative.

WESTLAND GRANGE BOOSTER NIGHT

The Westland Grange will observe Booster Night at its regular meeting Thursday, September 30th, with a special program and entertainment. The meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows hall in Hermiston which is being used as a meeting place. This Booster Night program will be open to the public and anyone interested is invited to attend. Following the program refreshments and dancing will be enjoyed.

TRIED POULTRY METHODS BEST

A policy of sticking to sound established production methods until new proposals are thoroughly tried was urged upon Oregon poultrymen by staff members of the Oregon experiment station, even as they gave progress reports on numerous research projects to several hundred who attended the recent fourteenth annual poultrymen's convention at the state college.

Numerous interesting and potentially profitable practices are being investigated, although a number of new methods which have been reported from other regions have shown no advantage here as yet.

The use of fall-hatched pullets, in an attempt to bring about greater production during the seasons of better prices, has been investigated for the past six months, but no conclusive recommendations can be made until at least two more years research is carried on, said H. E. Cosby, head of the poultry department. It is possible that they may be a profitable procedure, although observation already indicates that fall hatched pullets make slightly smaller adult birds, and produce correspondingly smaller eggs, it was reported.

The feeding of dried yeast has not yet shown any advantage in egg production, nor has the use of battery housing proved as profitable as having the laying flock on regular floors.

Dr. J. R. Haag, animal nutrition chemist, reported on the use of trace elements such as iron, copper, manganese and iodine in poultry feeds, but cautioned against the attempt to add such minute amounts on the farm, as the use of too much could easily prove harmful.

The Oregon Poultrymen's association, at its annual business meeting following the educational program, re-elected all of last year's officers, including the following: Lloyd B. Smyth, Canby, president; P. A. Gent Eugene, vice president; H. E. Peterson, Junction City, and V. A. Parker, Blachly, directors, and Frand L. Knowlton, Corvallis, secretary-treasurer. It urged the appropriation of $5000 for an Oregon exhibit at the world's poultry congress in Cleveland in 1939.

OREGON POTATO CONTROL PLAN

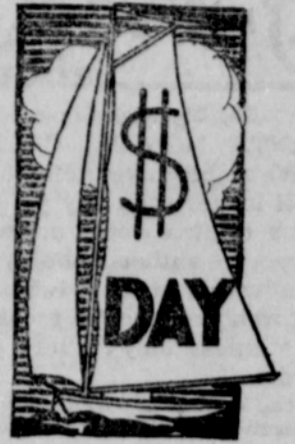

All potato growers in 18 Oregon counties who normally harvest three acres or more of potatoes will be asked to cast a ballot not later than Saturday, September 25, on the question of establishing voluntary regulation of commercial potato acreage under the AAA. Arrangements for the referendum have been completed by the extension service at Oregon State college at the request of Washington officials.

The referendum is being taken only in counties where, according to the 1934 agricultural census, there are located 50 or more farms on which 200 bushels or more of potatoes were produced. Oregon counties coming under this classification are Baker, Clackamas, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Deschutes, Hood River, Klamath, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Malheur, Marion, Multnomah, Umatilla, Union, Washington and Yamhill.

The question on which the growers will be asked to ballot is, "Are you in favor of establishing a potato acreage goal for each commercial potato farm in connection with the 1938 agricultural conservation program?"

The proposed goal system would have the county committee in each designated commercial county recommend a potato acreage goal and average per acre yield of potatoes for each farm which normally plants three acres or more of potatoes. These goals would be based on average acreages and yields for 1936 and '37, with such adjustments as

When Winter Comes What Do You Do?

The Thrifty Sail Into Winter Prepared!

If the roof leaks, they fix it . . . they also lay in their winter fuel. The farmer harvests his crops and makes all necessary preparations to take care of his family and stock through the long winter months. ALL WISE PEOPLE DO THESE THINGS!

Now, What Do You Do?

The Pioneer Service Company is offering a suggestion. Don't overlook your credit rating with your local merchant, doctor and hospital. When you are making your other preparations for winter, be sure that you DON'T OVERLOOK YOUR CREDIT, as it is your GREATEST ASSET when winter comes.

When you receive one of our PIONEER SERVICE COUNTY CREDIT BOARD STATEMENTS, bearing our Registered Trade Mark, try to pay, part pay or satisfactorily arrange to pay at once on your Past Due Accounts, so you can get credit that you may be forced to ask for. Remember the wise ones prepare for winter, so why not do as other thrifty folks do.

REMEMBER When you lose your credit you lose something you may never regain.

necessary to compensate for abnormal weather or other conditions in these years. Farmers who accepted such a goal and did not exceed it in 1938 would qualify for payments under the agricultural conservation act, while those who exceeded it would have deductions made from any other payments due under the agricultural conservation program.
