UTAH FEDERATION ENDORSES CO-OPS

(Co-op League News Service)

Salt Lake City, Utah—The Utah State Federation of Labor, meeting here for its thirty-third annual convention, endorsed the formation of Consumer Cooperatives and urged their organization by organized labor. The resolution, approved unanimously by the convention, is as follows:

"Whereas, labor unions are economic organizations designed to increase the living standards of workers through obtaining higher wages and improving working conditions, and

"Whereas, Cooperative organizations similarly are economic organizations designed to increase the living standards of workers by lowering prices of goods and services by reducing profits and overcharges, and

"Whereas, Cooperative organizations have throughout the world encouraged labor organizations among their employees and supported organized labor's actions, and

"Whereas, the American Federation of Labor at its 1936 National Convention endorsed the organization of Cooperatives,

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Utah State Federation of Labor in its thirty-third annual convention assembled, does hereby endorse the formation of Consumer Cooperatives and credit unions, and urges their organization among organized labor."

1938 AAA PROGRAM STAYS AS PLANNED

Work in Oregon toward putting into effect the 1938 agricultural conservation program will continue as planned and now under way, regardless of any expected action in Congress on pending agricultural bills, it is pointed out by N. C. Donaldson, executive secretary of the state AAA committee, at Corvallis.

The pending bills will not supersede or displace the present agricultural conservation program, but will, if passed, add to or supplement the present program, it is explained by Donaldson.

With community meetings and elections having been completed in all parts of the state, new county organizations are now being completed preparatory to going ahead with the 1938 program in every county. As soon as the state goals on the total soil depleting acreage and total potato acreage is received, the state committee will set up county goals, after which the county committees will break down the totals into farm goals. As far as known now, none of this work will be materially affected by proposed additional legislation.

Meanwhile, the various county committees have issued invitations to all farmers who have not participated in previous programs to sign work sheets for 1938. All those who had turned in such sheets in 1936 or 1937 will automatically be listed, but there is now opportunity for any others to prepare to participate in the coming year if they so choose. There is nothing compulsory about the participation, of course, and even after the work sheets are signed, there is nothing to compel the grower to apply the program on his farm if he believes it to his advantage to do otherwise.

Thousands of applications for payment under the 1937 program are being handled at the state office, and some 500 have already been passed for payment. First checks will be issued and distributed from the accounting office in the near future.

ALL LIT UP AND A MILLION PLACES TO GO

Electricity in a million more rural homes, or so Uncle Sam hopes, and for that, the R.E.A. came into being. Lighting up a farm home has a far reaching effect; it means more than to be able to turn a switch and flood the dark corners of that home with glorious light, it means more than to be able to take the drudgery from the labor on that farm. It means that home must be wired, and that means work for the factories which manufacture the materials for that job. It means that the wireman will have work as well as the men in the factories. It means that the farmer and his wife will probably buy a washing machine, a refrigerator, a percolator, and a toaster, to say nothing of milking machine, a new separator and a pumping plant. After the pumping plant is installed, Mrs. Farmer will want a sanitary bathroom. This will mean more work for the factory and the plumbers. It has been estimated that for every dollar spent for wiring, one and a half dollars will be spent for equipment.

It has been argued that the farmer can not afford electric lights and power. So it was thought before the automobile became popular. But statistics show that regardless of the fact that the farmer has to buy gasoline, and that he can raise the feed for the horse, there is a car on almost every farm in the United States, however small that farm may be.

There has been much ado about cutting the laboring man's week to thirty hours, but it has been proven that the average farm wife works from sixty-five to seventy-seven hours a week, in homes where there is no running water. Only one farm home in ten has running water, because of the absence of electricity to operate a pumping plant.

Today, as the R.E.A. is preparing to plant the poles and swing the wires that will bring to our farm homes the electricity current that will make lighter our labors, there is joy in the hearts of many farm women, for the promise of a well deserved, more abundant life.

CHICAGO CO-OP BUSINESS UP 37%

(Co-op League News Service)

Chicago — Consumer cooperatives in Chicago and its metropolitan area including Waukegan, Gary and Aurora, increased their business 37 per cent over last year, according to the "annual co-op census" just completed by the Chicago Co-op News.

Although there are only 26 cooperatives in operation as against 29 at this time last year, the membership of the cooperatives has grown from 5,790 to 6,400, an increase of 12 per cent.

Fastest growing are the Evanston Consumers Cooperative which quadrupled its business during the year and Consumers Cooperative Services, Hyde Park, which reported volume for October twice that of last year. Cooperative Trading Company, Waukegan, rolled up its largest monthly business in its 26 years of operation with an October gross of $76,000. The Cooperative Wholesale, established last year to serve co-op stores and buying clubs in the Chicago area, hung up a new sales record in October. The Co-op News estimates the yearly volume for the Chicago area at $1,630,000 compared to a similar figure of $1,194,000 for the previous year.

CONSUMERS BACK LIBERAL DOCTORS

CHICAGO — America's organized consumers last week took their first official stand in the current medical battle when they approved the action of a group of 430 leading physicians who two weeks previously took exception to the position of the American Medical Association and declared that health protection is a concern of all the people.

The Board of Directors of the Cooperative League of the U. S. A., representing 800,000 members of consumer cooperatives in all sections of the country, meeting here November 16-17 adopted a resolution directing the "Medical Director of the Bureau of Cooperative Medicine to communicate to the Committee of Physicians that we endorse the principles and proposals set forth by the said committee in its published statement of November

7." The resolution further stated, "We look to the said committee for the development of an enlightened leadership in the medical profession. . . . We further ask that the Committee of Physicians assist in evolving plans which shall help the people in their access to the best medical service available in both the fields of preventive and curative medicine and in the promotion of medical research."

In sharp contrast to the position of organized consumers as represented by the Cooperative League, and disregarding universal approval from press and lay groups, the A.M.A. in their Journal of November 20 again attacked the 430 doctors who constitute the Committee of Physicians. The editorial declared, "Members should realize that the policies of the A.M.A. are established by the House of Delegates which . . . took definite action opposing most of the proposals here offered."

SEED LOAN EXPERT COMING

March, April Chicks Said Best.

HILLSBORO—Both early and late hatched chicks generally present problems to the poultryman, so that it is ordinarily unwise to order birds from either of these groups, Noel L. Bennion, extension specialist in poultry husbandry from O.S.C., told Washington county poultrymen at a recent meeting. March and April hatched chicks usually give the best results, he said. He also discussed the factors involved in fall and winter egg production, but emphasized the fact that it is impossible through management to make birds produce well at any time of the year unless they have inherited the ability for high egg production.

Malheur to Grow More Beets.

ONTARIO—In spite of a decrease in the average yield of sugar beets this year, attributed to a heavy infestation of leaf hoppers in July and August, growers feel that this condition is not likely to recur, and there is every indication that the acreage will increase materially in 1938, probably running as high as 12,000 to 15,000 acres, reports R. G. Larson, county agent. The Amalgamated Sugar company has announced plans to start work soon on a refinery just east of Nyssa.

Three Boys Get 991 Coyotes.

LAKEVIEW—Three Silver Lake boys entered in the Lake County Predatory Animal contest sponsored by the county court took a total of 991, coyotes, reports County Agent Viv Johnson. Darrell Ferns was first with 483, Kenneth Emery next with 293 and Claudis Lumdy third with 215.
