

FARM CO-OPERATIVE DIVISION

A MESSAGE TO EVERY MEMBER.

ANNUAL PROJECT FARM BUREAU MEETING

The annual Umatilla Project Farm Bureau will hold its annual meeting Saturday, December 18, at the Union church. The meeting will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock, H. J. Ott, president, announced today. Election of officers and project leaders will be held. Every member is urged to be present.

NEXT TURKEY POOL DECEMBER 12 - 13

The next turkey pool sponsored by the Eastern Oregon Turkey Growers' association will be held December 12 and 13. Birds are being received on Sunday during this pool to enable the shipment to reach markets to supply the Christmas trade.

Another pool will be held within three weeks, according to John Jendrzejewski, president of the association.

CANNING ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Hermiston Co-op Cannery will be open for canning meat, squash or any other product you may have, on Wednesday, December 15. Please have your product in the can not later than one o'clock.

Anyone that has canned goods in the cannery at present, please call for them at once.

O. L. BARLOW, Manager.

Dance at Ione.

There will be a dance at the Legion hall in Ione Saturday, December 11th. Music will be furnished by the Troubadours.

Westland Dance.

The Westland Grange will sponsor a dance at the Westland school house, Saturday, December 11, with music by Bert Mitchell and his orchestra. Modern and old time numbers will be played. Admission will be 40 cents and 10 cents, and the public is invited to attend.

CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Farm Bureau Auxiliary plans a Christmas party at its next meeting which will be Friday, December 17, in the club house, when an exchange of gifts will be made. Miss Martha Walther and Mrs. H. F. McCulley are on the program committee, and Mrs. Claude Upham, Mrs. Emma Christley and Mrs. J. H. Reid on the refreshment committee.

All members and friends are especially urged to attend this meeting.

The last meeting was held December 3rd with Mrs. P. H. Corman and Mrs. Doris Panaves on the program committee, and Mrs. Wm. Mikesell, Ms. Jackson Harr, and Mrs. Al Cable on the refreshment committee. The meeting was well attended and a fine program enjoyed.

IRRIGON GRANGE JOINT INSTALLATION

Joint installation of officers of the Boardman and Irrigon Granges will be held at Irrigon on Saturday night, December 11th.

Officers for the Irrigon Grange are as follows: Wm. Graybeal, Master; G. O. Swearingen, Overseer; Stella Poulson, Lecturer; Forrest Hunting, Steward; A. C. Houghton, Assistant Steward; Maude Swearingen, Chaplain; F. D. Brace, Treasurer; Marguerite Houghton, Secretary; Ed Adams, Gatekeeper; Mrs. G. S. Arnberg, Ceres; Mary Smith, Pomona; Alice Kik, Flora; Ida Braae, Lady Assistant; Minnie McFarland, Executive Chairman.

700 ATTEND CO-OP SUMMER CAMPS

Columbus, Ohio—Ohio cooperators held twenty cooperative educational conferences for young people, co-op managers, and cooperative executives this summer, according to the report of William Winemiller, educational director of the Ohio Farm Bureau Cooperative association.

More than 700 persons attended the co-op camps located in several of Ohio's beauty spots and took part in conferences which combined general cooperative education, recreation and specialized training in certain fields. Nine of the camps were held for cooperative youth, three for managers, three for co-op employees and secretaries, four for adult leaders and one for co-op insurance managers and their wives.

THE COOPERATIVE CHRISTMAS

by J. P. Warbase
An historic date was the 21st of December, 1844. On that shortest day of the year an event of far-reaching importance occurred. Twenty-eight poor weavers in Rochdale, England, had succeeded, after a year of effort, in saving a total sum of $140. On that date, they opened their cooperative store. It signaled a new era in business. The customers became their own merchant. A cooperative star shone in the economic firmament at that dark Christmas time.

People who need things have learned how to use the Rochdale method to supply their needs. Cooperative stores have multiplied. Great wholesales—some of the largest in the world—have developed. Manufacturing in consumer-owned factories is producing the things cooperators use. Services, such as banking, insurance, housing, medical care and recreations, have been developed in the non-profit cooperative field to an extent that astonishes students of economics.

Around that small star of Rochdale, and around the world, now is to be seen a galaxy of cooperatives. More than 200,000 cooperative societies with 150,000,000 members represent one-fourth of the families of the world. Their yearly business of 30 billion dollars is carried on by people who are learning how to serve themselves and thus to get better access to the things they need. Without destroying the prevalent method of business, without cataclysm or chaos, cooperative business steadily grows and takes the place of profit business. Consumers are training themselves as they go, and quietly introducing the service motive in business in place of the profit motive.

A disturbed world may view with hope and satisfaction this stabilizing cooperative business in which invested capital and the positions of employed workers are more secure than in profit business and in which mutual aid is the guiding principle.

PROMINENT MAN TO HEAD BOOK COOP.

NEW YORK (CLNS)—Harry Overstreet, head of the department of philosophy and psychology of the College of the City of New York and author of "Influencing Human Behavior" this week stepped out of his role of author and as "a plain lover of good books" became president of the newly organized Cooperative Book Club.

Stuart Chase, economist, and Robert Lynd, sociologist, also dropped their mantles as scribes and as consumers of books became members of the board of directors of the book co-op which has tackled the problem of book distribution. Under the present system less than 1 percent of the people in the U. S. buy books regularly.

The Cooperative Book Club, from its headquarters at 5 East 57th Street, New York, has issued its first edition of the Readers Observer, with recommendations of the fifty best books of the fall season. Although the co-op will make monthly recommendations members may buy through it any book they wish. Membership which is $2 entitles consumers to one vote in the control of the organization, as in all Rochdale cooperatives, as well as to patronage dividends on savings at the end of each business period.

The Book Coop reports a very encouraging response to the first issue of the Readers Observer. Memberships and book orders have come in from many states Mexico and the Canal Zone.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING ENDORSED BY CANADIAN COOPERATIVE CONGRESS

MONTREAL, Canada (CLNS)—While relations between the Canadian Cooperative Movement and the Canadian Trades Union Movement have always been cordial, the Canadian Cooperative Congress meeting here October 27, 28 and 29, gave its first formal recognition of the social importance of trade unions. It also endorsed the organization of farmers and other primary producers in marketing cooperatives and declared that it recognized the aim of both movements of producers to raise their living standards by organizing to secure reasonable compensation for their labor.

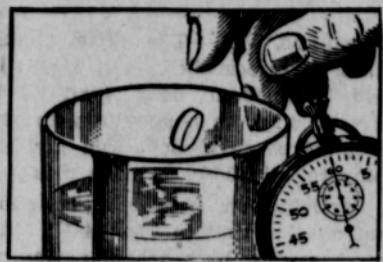

The resolution approved by the congress of Canadian consumers declared:

"The economic and social welfare of Canada demands that there should be a more equitable distribution of the national income and to that end it is desirable that farmers, fishermen, and other primary producers should be organized in collective bargaining associations or agencies, or in cooperative marketing associations; and urban wage and salary workers should be organized in trade unions to insure that they have an effective voice in determining the compensation which shall be paid them for their services to society."

R. J. Tallon, secretary of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada brought greetings to the Cooperative Congress from organized labor. He urged closer relation between farm and industrial producers and joint action as consumers to build a Cooperative Commonwealth.

Drivers with one year's experience are nearly four times as likely to have accidents as those with six or more years' experience, a study made by Secretary of State Earl Snell shows. He concludes that the mere holding of a license should not lead the driver to feel he has nothing more to learn about handling his car in traffic.

READY TO BRING YOU RELIEF IN MINUTES

THE REASON BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a tumbler of water.
By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating.
This speed of disintegration enables genuine BAYER Aspirin tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

YOU can pay as high as you want for remedies claimed to relieve the pain of Headache, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc. But the medicine so many doctors generally approve—the one used by thousands of families daily—is Bayer Aspirin—15¢ a dozen tablets—about 1¢ apiece. Simply take 2 Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Repeat, if necessary, according to directions.

Usually this will ease such pain in a remarkably short time. For quick relief from such pain which exhausts you and keeps you awake at night—ask for genuine Bayer Aspirin.

More than 10,000 traffic accidents occurred in Oregon during the last three months of 1936, an all-time quarterly record. Cutting that total is the purpose of a campaign now being waged by Secretary of State Earl Snell to make the last quarter of 1937 the safest instead of the most perilous on Oregon roads.
