Following is a list of the members: Bill Corpe, Bernard Corpe, Donna Saylor, Russell Hartley, Geo. Hartley, Marie Hartley, Rodman Hartley, Kenneth Bense, Bob Attebury, Audrey Null, Leo Borthwick, Irene Borthwick and Virginia Borthwick.

The next meeting was scheduled for March 21 at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Bill and Bernard Corpe. The local leader for the club will be selected at the next meeting.

The Columbia Winner's Dairy club will hold a meeting at the home of Henry Sommerer Jr., Tuesday, March 22, at 7:30 p. m. Boys and girls in the Columbia district, who are interested in joining a 4-H dairy club should plan to attend this meeting.

By Catherine Kennedy.

The Streamline Seam Stitches held their regular meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. Kennedy, Saturday, March 12, with all but two members present.

Miss Frances Clinton, Miss Lane and Miss McClure of Pendleton were visitors for the afternoon.

Miss Clinton took charge of the meeting to show the girls samples of materials which are used in second, third fourth and fifth year club work. She also displayed some first year work, and advised the girls how to arrange color schemes. Among other samples were different kinds of button holes, several seam finishes, plackets and neck lines.

The first year work has been divided into two classes this year, one for girls under ten years of age in class "A", and one for girls over ten years of age in class "B." First year girls will be in class "B." Girls are required to embroider a sample which will be something new for 4-H club girls.

A lunch of jello and doughnuts was served following the meeting. The next meeting was announced for March 25.

Members of the Happy Hour Cooking club of Umatilla remained after school last Friday to discuss plans for the coming year. After enjoying several games the girls held a business meeting, called to order by the president, Grace Bense. The members decided to have a password which will be changed every meeting by the vice president, Mary Margaret Kennedy, and one other girl whom she chooses to help her. At the next meeting on March 25th, members will witness the first passwords, S-M-I-L-E.

Since the first meeting new members have joined. They are Joan Byrnes, Pauline Roach, Frances Chapman making a total enrollment of ten members. A camp cookery club was organized under the leadership of Grace Bense.

Officers elected were Kathleen Hower, president; Dorothy Hiatt, vice president; Frances Chapman, secretary; and Maxine Thompson, treasurer. Other members are Pauline Roach, Grace Bense Violet Huxoll, Sara Wurster, Louise Dexter, Alice Davis, Fern Bray and Joan Byrnes.

DEMONSTRATION TEAMS, BEEF CLUBS

The beef clubs met at the home of Kenneth Bense last Monday evening when members decided to divide the club into demonstration teams in order that they might enter into competition with other beef clubs between now and the Pacific International Livestock show in Portland.

The plan is to work out two teams for each demonstration and in this way furnish competition for the boys. No teams will be sent to the state fair this fall but they will compete at the local fair and at other club shows in the district before going to the Pacific International in Portland.

Refreshments were served by the host at the close of the meeting.

F. B. Auxiliary Attendance Good.

The Farm Bureau Auxiliary meeting was well attended Friday, March 4, when Mrs. Essie Turnblad and Mrs. Monte Prindle and Mrs. Carson Linder acted as hostesses. The next meeting will be held Friday, March 18, with Mrs. Mary Buell and Mrs. Edna Dunning on the program committee, and Mrs. Zoe Linder, Mrs. Emma Epperson and Mrs. Edna Udey on the refreshment committee.

COLD STORAGE FOOD LOCKER OPERATORS TO CONFER AT O.S.C.

In establishing cold storage lockers for individual family use, Oregon and the Pacific northwest appears to have started something which is sweeping the country like the proverbial prairie fire. Recent reports from the United States department of agriculture indicate more than 2500 plants for renting family lockers are now in operation with about 50 new ones opening up each month.

To discuss the many problems that have arisen in connection with this new industry, the Frozen Locker Association of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, has issued a call for its members and all other operators interested in the subject to meet at Oregon State college March 14 and 15 for a conference with the food products industries section of the horticultural department.

C. M. Duff of Walla Walla, is president of the tri-state association while E. C. Reiman of Corvallis, heads the Willamette Valley group of locker operators. Possibility of forming definite sectional units under the main northwest organization will probably be considered in the conference meeting.

Program subjects for the two-day conference include a number of technical discussions on installation and operation of locker plants, as well as explanations and demonstrations of various techniques in handling the stored food.

E. H. Wiegand and Thomas Osdorff, in charge of the food products work at the college, will give the visitors the results of more than 10 years research work at OSC in preservation of foods by freezing. H. C. Diehl, of the federal frozen pack laboratory in Seattle, will also appear on the program.

Members of the association will discuss the business side of locker operation, and specialists have been obtained to explain legal aspects of the new industry. A feature of the conference will be an all-frozen-foods banquet the evening of the first day.

COOPERATIVE BOOK CLUB ADMITTED TO MEMBERSHIP IN COOPERATIVE LEAGUE

(Co-op League News Service)

NEW YORK — The Cooperative Book Club, organized last November to provide a cooperative book buying and selection service for members throughout the country, especially for those in regions without book stores or library service, was admitted to membership in the Co-operative League of the U.S.A. at the last meeting of the board of directors of the league, according to an announcement this week.

With increasing membership and volume, the Cooperative Book club is planning an unusual program of informal adult education which will include sponsoring local book forums, discussion circles and lending libraries.

The sponsors and directors of the book co-op include prominent educators, authors, librarians, labor and cooperative leaders. Among these are:

Harry Overstreet, Alfred Bingham, Stuart Chase, Henry Pratt Fairchild, Marion Humble, Robert S. Lynd, Jacob Baker, James C.C. Drury, A. Philip Randolph and others. James D. Corsa is managing director. Emanuel Jacoby, graduate of the Cooperative College, is secretary of the membership committee. The Cooperative Book Club moved to its new headquarters at 118 East 28th Street, January 15.

C.B.C. operates on Rochdale principles. Membership is open to all, control is vested in the members and books are purchased by its members at market prices with savings returned to members at the end of each business period. Membership in the co-op is $2.00. When C.B.C.'s membership is large enough it plans to offer monthly book selections at specially reduced prices.

U. S. MARKETING CO-OP SHIPS 200,000 BUSHELS OF WHEAT TO BRITISH CONSUMERS

(Co-op League News Service)

North Kansas City, Mo. — Two hundred thousand bushels of wheat shipped from a large American marketing cooperative to the British consumer cooperatives March 10 marks an important step in international cooperative trade and may be the beginning of tremendous inter-cooperative business according to an announcement in the current issue of the Cooperative Consumer.

The Union Equity Cooperative Exchange, a marketing cooperative with headquarters at Enid, Oklahoma, completed arrangements February 20 for the shipment to the Cooperative Wholesale Society, central organization of the English consumer cooperatives. The wheat will be loaded at Galveston and shipped to Manchester. There it will be made into flour in a cooperative mill, baked in a cooperative bakery, and distributed to members of cooperatives through retail consumer cooperative stores. Thirty-two ounce loaves of co-op bread cost co-op members 9 cents a loaf, or about half what consumers are paying for bread in this country.

From midwestern wheatfields to dinner tables of cooperative members in England the process will be cooperative all the way.

Since the cooperative bakeries in England produce one out of every four loaves eaten by English consumers and the Cooperative Wholesale Society is the largest buyer of wheat in the British Isles, it is hoped that this shipment will mark the beginning of extensive trade between American marketing cooperatives and consumer co-ops in England.
