FARMERS UNION CO-OP

REPORTS LARGEST MONTHLY BUSINESS IN ITS HISTORY

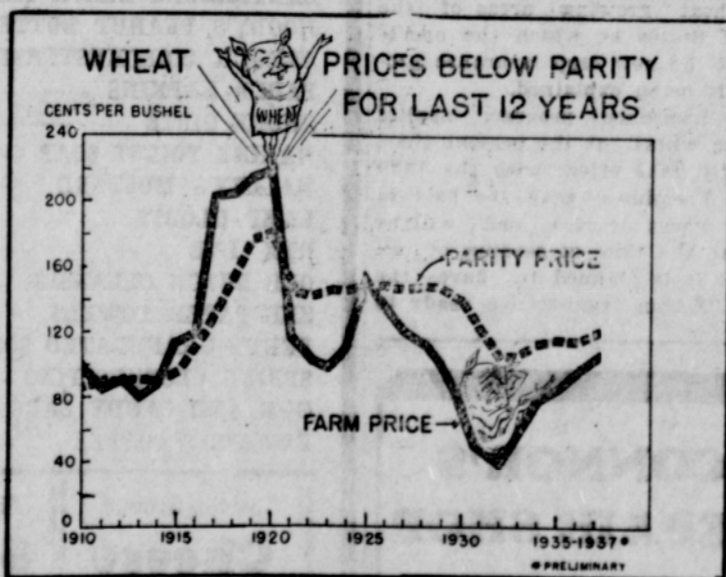

(Co-op League News Service) ST. PAUL, Minn.—Cooperative business not only refuses to go down during the current depression, but in many fields cooperatives are setting new records, according to a report from the Farmers Union Central Exchange.

The Farmers Union Co-op wholesale handled more than 5,000,000 gallons (623 tank cars of gasoline, kerosene and distillate at its warehouses at St. Paul and Billings, Montana, during the month of March. In addition it shipped to its affiliated co-ops in North Dakota and Montana 317,000 gallons of lubricating oil, and 284,300 pounds of grease.

As cooperative rural electric lines are completed the volume of sales of washing machines, radios, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and other electrical appliances is expanding. The Exchange is now handling two carloads of refrigerators per week.

The current disparity between prices for wheat and prices farmers pay is causing renewed interest in the "parity" price principle which Congress has used as basis of agricultural adjustment legislation during recent years. In the case of wheat, parity prices are prices high enough so that a bushel of wheat will buy as much of the commodities farmers purchase as during the 1910-1914 prewar period, extension economists at Oregon State college explain.

Wheat prices at the average farm in Oregon were 72 cents a bushel at mid-March, according to the latest report on the agricultural situation by the OSC extension service. In the whole country the average farm price of wheat was 91 per cent of the 1910-1914 average, while the farm cost index was around 126, giving wheat a current purchasing power of approximately 72 per cent of "parity".

The accompanying chart shows that wheat was well above parity in price during the world war. This stimulated world production of wheat, export demand fell off, stocks accumulated, and prices remained below parity for 15 years, except for a short period. Export demand is still low, but production in the United States is increasing and stocks are accumulating again.

SHARP CONTRAST IN POLICIES OF CO-OP AND PRIVATE PROFIT

By E. M. Holmes, for the

Cooperative League News Service

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Two recent government reports throw into sharp contrast the results of private and cooperative operation of telephone systems.

Following a three year investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, Paul A. Walker, member of the Federal Communications Commission, told the FCC that the Bell System could cut rates 25 per cent "without interrupting existing net earnings". The cut, he said, could be accomplished through the elimination of "unnecessarily high costs".

Miss Florence Parker of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, upon completion of a survey of cooperative telephone systems, reported that there are now in operation 3,728 cooperative telephone companies with 330,000 members and a total of 460,000 patrons. The preponderance of cooperative associations, Miss Parker reports, collect only enough revenue to cover expenses. The co-ops own 45,000 miles of telephone lines. The cost of service of a typical association is from 64 to 92 cents per month per member for 24 hour service.

Cooperative telephone associations represent a very small segment of American telephone users as compared to the gigantic A.T. & T. The 15,336 co-ops which submitted reports to the Bureau of Labor Statistics showed a gross revenue of $1,486,761 in 1936 and a net gain (for 494 associations) of $99,030.

The average age of all associations is 26 years, and 45 per cent of the co-ops are in the state of Minnesota. Nearly two-thirds of the cooperative companies are of the service line type, without a switchboard; about one-third are local associations, each having its own switchboard; and somewhat less than 4 per cent are federations of local companies, serving in some instances an entire county, with a membership as high as 4,025 persons.

Most of the cooperatives were organized because private profit systems, of which there were a number at that time, would not serve rural areas except at exorbitantly high installation and service charges.
