The combination of all 4-H club exhibits in one place where there is adequate facilities for show and display, and the uniting of all funds for premium purposes, should greatly increase interest in club work throughout the county. The Rotary Club of Pendleton is to be commended for its endorsement of the new plan and the directors of the Umatilla project fair will respond with greater effort to make the enlarged show a greater success.

No Traffic Accident is Necessary.
 Usually the Congressional Record is rather dry reading. But the speech of Senator Charles O. Andrews of Florida in the U. S. senate May 9, which was recorded in the Congressional Record, was unusual. His subject was "National School Safety Patrols," and during the course of his remarks he made the significant statement: "No traffic accident is necessary. There should never be a time when the driver of an automobile is in such a hurry that he will take a chance of sacrificing a human life. When we consider that more American citizens are killed each year than were killed in the great World war, we must realize what a serious problem automobile recklessness is, and do what we can to help carry on the good work the school patrol is now doing."
 In concluding his speech, a plea for traffic safety, he quoted the following editorial, which appeared in the Eufaula, Alabama Tribune:
My Little Girl
 "Today my daughter, who is 7 years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is Coot, sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved good-bye and started off to the hall of education. Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, the girl with yellow curls, and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head, and about the trees in the school yard, and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital, unimportant things; and then we studied spelling, reading, arithmetic—and then to bed.

 She's back there now—back in the nursery sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's a doll) cuddled in her right arm.
 You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut or her head gets bumped, I can fix it—but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.
 She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time; I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me to look out for her. Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections—and please remember that children run from behind parked cars.
 Please don't run over my little girl."

It would be well for every automobile driver to clip the above editorial, paste it to a piece of cardboard so it will not wear out, and read it once a month—or oftener.—La Grande Observer.

What is a Newspaper Man?
 Has that question ever been put up to you. If it has, have you been able to answer it? The other night I was introduced to some folks and in the course of the ensuing conversation the fact that I was a newspaper man was mentioned. "Yes," said one of my party, "he's one of the nuts."
 Just what is a newspaper man? He's the kind of a fellow who will take abuse from a man all his life and then write in his obituary that nothing but friends were numbered among the acquaintances of the deceased, who was never known to utter a disparaging remark nor make a single enemy.
 He is the kind of fellow who will tell how lovely the bride looked when she walked up the aisle and wish her a lifetime of happiness and success in spite of the fact that her wedding invitations were sold to her by a city printer.
 He is the kind of fellow who will meekly say, "Yes, ma'am," and "I'm sorry" for not mentioning this and that to an irate subscriber who has been getting the paper for years without making any payments for the subscription.

 He is the kind of fellow who pushes every community enterprise, who puts the baseball team and basketball team on the map, but is called a chiseler if he expects any complimentary tickets.
 He is the man who praises you to the skies when you do something good, covers up for you when you do something wrong and gets the first kick when you are in a bad temper.
 He is the kind of fellow you run to first for help and think of last when he needs help. If he's not "nuts" what is he?—Delano (Minn.) Eagle.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"MIND" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 21.
 The Golden Text was, "Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any; he is mighty in strength and wisdom" (Job 36:5).
 Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things; to whom be glory for ever" (Rom. 11:33,36).
 The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is Mind, and that Mind in God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience,—that is, all power, all presence, all Science. Hence all is in reality the manifestation of Mind" (p. 275).

College for Poor White Orphans
 Girard college at Philadelphia, Pa., is an institution for the vocational education and maintenance of poor white male orphans, as the donor of the trust fund expressed it. The college was founded under the will of Stephen Girard and opened January 1, 1848. By a provision in the will no ecclesiastic, missionary, or minister of any sect whatever is permitted to hold office in this institution or to enter its premises at any time or for any reason. That provision should, however, not be interpreted as a reflection upon any sect or person; on the contrary, the founder's desire was, as he himself stated, simply that the minds of the boys reared by the institution should be kept free from the confusion of denominational controversies so that on their entrance into active life they may adopt such religious tenets as their natural reason may enable them to prefer. The purest principles of morality were to be instilled into the minds of the scholars.

Hudson's Bay Company Ruled
 For nearly 200 years the Hudson's Bay company ruled huge portions of Canada. Wherever it established a trading post it had the right to govern, says the Washington Post. Company men trapped and hunted for some furs, bartered with savage Indians for others. They lived in isolated fort-like posts, often saw other white men only twice a year. They had to be fighters. Disgruntled Indians, competing traders frequently attacked their posts.

Famous Cathedral in Havana
 The cathedral of Havana is a famous church. It is built of native limestone; it is also the most noteworthy architecturally. It was erected between 1656 and 1724 and was long believed to shelter the bones of Columbus. Historians dispute about his tomb, some holding that it is in Santo Domingo, whence his bones were supposed to have been taken some decades after his death, some holding that it is in Havana and some in Spain.
