BOOSTER NIGHT PROGRAM TOPS

More than 75 Grangers and their friends attended the Westland Grange booster night Thursday, October 13, in the Odd Fellows hall, and enjoyed a program arranged by Mrs. J. D. Corliss, Grange lecturer. The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. F. B. Belt, who gave a well received talk on the subject of diabetes.

Others who spoke briefly were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hanscom of Pendleton, Master and secretary, respectively of the Umatilla Pomona Grange, and Roy Penney, Past Master of the Stanfield Grange. The Grange speakers were introduced by Don Sherwood, Westland Grange Master, who gave a brief address of welcome. Frank Seeliger and Floyd Laird, Past Masters of the Westland Grange, were also introduced.

The musical portion of the program was featured by solos by Mrs. Alton Kingsbury, who was accompanied at the piano by Golda Mamma. Harold Laird sang to his own accompaniment on the guitar, and Wanda Dunning played a piano solo. Mrs. Margaret Seeliger, and Mrs. Phillip Power entertained with a skit entitled, "And the Car Stopped."

Jay T. Pierson, assistant county agent, introduced Grace and Frank Benseel who gave a demonstration on the proper methods of grading and candling eggs. This was a 4-H club demonstration, and the youngsters hope to compete for the right to give their demonstration at the World Poultry Congress next summer.

Grange Booster nights are held each year by Granges throughout the country in commemoration of the founding of the Grange, this being the 73rd anniversary of that event.

The next regular meeting of the Westland Grange will be October 27. A short Hallowe'en program has been arranged by the lecturer, and members are urged to attend.

Agricultural Development

From prehistoric times rudiments of the science of agriculture—of cultivating the soil for the purpose of obtaining food—have been known to man. In ancient Egyptian tombs sealed shut 6,000 years ago have been found grains of a cultivated type of wheat; upon the walls of these tombs are portrayed date trees and the Egyptian farmer afield with crude plow and harrow. Early Chinese history indicates an advanced agricultural system, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. The Greeks used fertilizers on their lands and knew the value of allowing a field to lie fallow. The early Roman was adept at two arts—war and farming. The first American colonists learned agricultural methods adapted to the new world from the Indians, first farmers of America. Throughout the history of colonization and expansion westward, behind the scouts and restless pioneers always have come the hordes of land-eager settlers, ready to convert the wilderness into farmland.

Battleship Drenched With Blood

The deck of the Lawrence, Oliver H. Perry's ship in the battle of Lake Erie, was so bloody that sand had to be sprinkled on the wood so the fighters still alive could stand. Eighty-three men on the ship fell from the bullet fire of the British vessels. Surrounded by six enemy ships, the Lawrence was battered until it tipped to one side. Her rigging and spars were shattered and her sails were down. When it looked as though Perry must surrender, he and his small brother and four seamen dropped into a rowboat and started under cover of gunsmoke for the Niagara. Before they reached the other ship, the British spotted the little boat and began pounding it with bullets. None of the men was hit, but one bullet went through the side of the rowboat, causing a leak. To save the boat from filling with water and sinking Perry took off his coat and stuffed it into the hole. The men reached the Niagara safely.

Size of Rain Drops

Drops of water formed in the atmosphere by condensation of aqueous vapor and falling rapidly by virtue of their weight are known as rain. Smaller, finer particles, falling more slowly, are known as mist or fog. Drops of rain one-fourth to three-tenths of an inch in diameter have been measured. The smallest drops of rain measure one-twentieth of an inch in diameter.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"DOCTRINE of Atonement" was subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 16. The Golden Text was, "God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him" (I The. 5:9,10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you; But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partaker of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy" (I Peter 4:12,13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The nature of Christianity is peaceful and blessed, but in order to enter into the kingdom, the anchor of hope must be cast beyond the veil of matter into the Shekinah into which Jesus has passed before us; and this advance beyond matter must come through the joys and triumphs of the righteous as well as through their sorrows and afflictions" (p.40).
