FACTS FOR DRIVERS

An infrequent but highly exasperating experience which all drivers suffer at one time or another is that of being caught in a huge jam of cars, as at a big football game or other public event.

Application of a little logic will add greatly to one's piece of mind, and reduce the chances of one's getting a smashed fender in such circumstances.

To begin with, entrance and exit space, as well as approach space, is strictly limited. Only a certain number of cars can be handled in a given period of time. This number can be increased in proportion to the smoothness and orderliness with which the cars move. Even so, a definite length of time must pass before the huge mass of cars can be moved through the narrow channels onto divergent highways.

The wise driver will therefore go to his car promptly, move it into line at the first opportunity, and drive ahead as smoothly and rapidly as conditions permit. The careless, thoughtless driver may wait until the congestion is at its height, and then find it necessary to be several blocks away almost immediately. He will charge into line without waiting for the driver behind him to pause, will try to take short cuts through opposing lines of traffic, will pass in the lane reserved for approaching traffic and will perform all these with one hand resting heavily on the horn button. If he is lucky, he may save himself one or two minutes; but he will, at the same time, waste precious minutes for hundreds of other drivers who must wait for him to get out of the way.

FOOTBALL FANS WILL SEE GAME

A party of Hermiston football fans will motor to Portland this week end to see the University of Oregon football team which is determined to break forever the Southern California jinx when it goes against the Trojans in Portland's Multnomah Civic stadium Saturday afternoon.

Although only a sophomore Jim Stuart is putting up a battle for a permanent berth on the squad, Stuart is a graduate of Hermiston high school and son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stuart.

Those in the party planning to attend the game will be Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Harkenrider, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hale, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald White, Mr. and Mrs. James Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Simons.

HOME RATES FOR BONNEVILLE POWER

How much will Bonneville power cost in your home—for lighting?—for cooking?—for heating?

Administrator J. D. Ross today answered this question by providing an "objective" rate schedule for public power districts, cities and cooperative associations. This is in compliance with the Act of Congress which reserves 50 percent of Bonneville power for such agencies until January 1, 1941.

The home schedule, which ranges from 2½ cents down to one-half cents a kilowatt-hour, is neither a maximum nor a minimum rate. It is, in the words of the administrator, "a mark for public bodies to shoot at, a standard which they can attain . . . and exceed!"

The rates, which are far below any existing private company schedules, are intended to increase the use of electricity on the farm and in the home. The minimum bill for householders is set at 50 cents, which will pay for 20 kilowatt-hours. The minimum bill for householders is set at 50 cents, which will pay for 20 kilowatt-hours a month. The proposed "objective" schedule to be reached and bettered by cities and power districts is as follows:

- First 50 Kilowatt-hours a month—2½ cents per KWH.
- Next 150 Kilowatt-hours a month—2 cents per KWH.
- Next 100 Kilowatt-hours a month—1 cent per KWH.
- Next 170 Kilowatt-hours a month—½ cent per KWH.
- Excess above 2000 Kilowatt-hours a month—three-fourth cents per KWH.
- Minimum monthly bill—50 cents per meter.

"At the start most public agencies will have to charge more than the objective rate," Administrator Ross said, "and they freely will be allowed to do so. This is particularly true where there is uneconomic competition—duplication of distribution facilities. Two systems cost twice as much as one, and until a public monopoly is secured in such areas, higher rates necessarily will prevail. As districts and cities build their loads and eliminate wasteful competition and duplication of equipment, rates rapidly will drop to the objective level, and below it."

The Bonneville chief emphasized that the resale schedule will be the uniform pattern for northwest districts. It will not apply, however, to private utility systems. Resale conditions for power company contracts are being developed and will be issued later.

"PROBATION After Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 23.

The Golden Text was, "God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil" (Ecl. 12:14).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John 5: 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is deathless. Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death" (p.487).

HENRY L. HESS
 Democratic Candidate

Governor

He is a Legionnaire, having served 18 months during the World War.

He began life as a mill hand; was always a hard worker and the young men on the log carriage recognized that he would make a success of life.

As State Senator he procured amendments to the Workmen's Compensation law in favor of injured workmen and their dependents.

He helped save the homes of hundreds of workers and small businessmen from foreclosure when he sponsored the HESS TAX law, surrendering interest and penalty on delinquent depression taxes.

He was born in Fremont County, Idaho, October 12, 1890. His parents were pioneers of the Old Oregon country.

Besides the Hess law, which dealt effectively with Oregon's $27,000,000 tax delinquency problem, he sponsored, with other members of the legislature, Oregon's first old-age pension law and worked subsequently to liberalize the provisions of the law.

Elect HENRY L. HESS GOVERNOR OF OREGON
