The assessor of Josephine county, Oregon, announces that public utilities will pay 36.4 per cent of the tax monies collected by that county in 1939. Under public ownership, such utilities would be tax exempt and Josephine county citizens could add 36 per cent to their tax bill, plus the additional expense of financing such utilities. What a blessing that would be!

KOFOID TO LEAD SCIENCE MEETING AT OREGON STATE

Oregon State College—Dr. Charles Atwood Kofoid, emeritus head of the department of zoology at the University of California and one of the world's leading biologists, has accepted an invitation of Phi Kappa Phi, all-school honor society here, to lead a biology colloquium Saturday, March 4, on the theme, "Recent Advances in Biological Science." Invitations have been sent to scientists and science students throughout the state to attend the conference. The school of science and Sigma Xi, research honorary, are cooperating in what is expected to be the most notable meeting of its kind here in years.
