A WORTHY ENTERPRISE

We had the opportunity to attend the Stanfield CCC camp open house Sunday afternoon and were pleased to note the beautiful surroundings, the well kept barracks and the apparently well organized departments. We were greatly impressed with the entire arrangement at the camp and were reminded of fraternity days at the university. There seemed to be a general spirit of friendliness among the boys—a type of friendship that can only be found among a group of healthy, clean-cut fellows. Mr. F. D. R. may get a lot of criticism from all corners but in this instance it is money well spent. The boys are learning how to live, how to cooperate, how to work and how to be true blue citizens of this great United States.

HONEST TO GOODNESS CHAMPS

A champ is a greater champ when honors do not affect him. Such is the case of Charles Kik, Kenneth Bensel and Harry Lewis, Hermiston boys who won distinction at the San Francisco exposition on their calves. The impressions that these boys left on members of the Commercial club and guests Tuesday night will linger long. Each of the boys declined to accept all the honor and gave credit to their parents and M. E. Knickerbocker, assistant county agent. In our minds such a characteristic is admirable and is bound to reward in more distinction in time to come.

In each issue of The Herald readers will find a column headed Garden Club chats. These items are written by Mrs. Charles Taylor and are creating much interest among amateur gardeners in this locality. Mrs. Taylor is doing a splendid job and the editors of The Herald wish to express their appreciation for her work.

What with the advancing cricket plague, it might not be a bad stunt for our government agents to sponsor a cricket-eating contest among our college boys who are devouring anything from gold fish to angleworms.

AGRICULTURE AID TO STATE EMPLOYMENT

Salem—Oregon's "back to work" movement jolted the placement barometer up 43 per cent during March and 70 per cent of the 4173 regular placements were in private industry, the state unemployment compensation commission announced, following compilation of the monthly reports from the state's 22 local employment offices.

Agriculture provided 18 per cent of the new jobs, an increase in the state total of 11 per cent. Lumber manufacturing noted a 7 per cent jump to 23 per cent of the state total. Personal services rated about the same but public construction dropped from 36 per cent of the total to 28 per cent, although still leading the field in actual numbers. Pendleton, covering Umatilla and Morrow counties, accounted for 100, or 2.4 per cent, of the state total. Newport, Salem, Klamath Falls and Astoria registered the largest increases. The Portland figure dropped from 30 per cent of the state total to 19 per cent.
