A MESSAGE TO EVERY MEMBER.

Notice to Members of Umatilla Project Farm Bureau

The annual payment of $1.00 to the organization is now due. We would like to have all old members, and as many new members as possible, in good standing by June 1. Membership in the Umatilla Project Farm Bureau also entitles the holder to a year's subscription to the Hermiston Herald.

CHICK BRONCHITIS CAUSING TROUBLE AMONG POULTRY RAISERS IN THIS AREA

Considerable difficulty has been encountered this year by local poultrymen with a disease commonly called chick bronchitis, according to Assistant County Agent M. E. Knickerbocker. The disease affects the larger air passages of the chicks, causing them to extend their necks and gasp for air with their mouths open. In acute cases a white cheesy mucous collects in the chicks' larynx, which may completely close the air passage and cause the chick to die from suffocation. A pneumonia condition also usually shows up in the lungs on post mortem examination.

Losses are usually relatively light, but if the chicks become chilled or for any reason are constitutionally weakened, heavy losses may occur. The disease usually runs its course in ten days to two weeks under normal conditions. Extreme care should be used in going from an infected brooder house to the laying pens, because the disease is readily transmittable to other flocks, and while it usually does not cause a heavy loss of older birds, their egg production may be considerably decreased, according to Mr. Knickerbocker.

Another bad feature of the disease, brought out by Mr. Knickerbocker, is that chicks that have the disease and recover apparently become healthy carriers and may infect susceptible birds at any time even though they show no symptoms of the disease themselves. Definite recommendations for the future handling of infected flocks will be made by Noel Bennion, extension poultryman of the O. S. C. experiment station, who plans to be in the Hermiston district Friday or Saturday of this week.

Of particular interest to local turkey growers, Mr. Knickerbocker believes, is the fact that neither chick bronchitis nor its companion disease, laryngotracheitis, is transferable to turkeys.

FARM BUREAU AUXILIARY MEETS

Mrs. Rosine Stewart gave a very interesting talk at the meeting of the Farm Bureau Auxiliary at Columbia park club house Friday. The park board set another day for clean up. A fair crowd was out for the clean up last week but the men were kept busy on the club house and the work on the park was not completed. The new date will be Wednesday, May 24.

The next meeting of the group will be held on Friday, May 19, with Mrs. Jesse Corman and Mrs. Margaret Blahm on the program committee and Mrs. Edna Udey, Mrs. Bertha Knox and Mrs. Emma Upham on the refreshment group.

out any addition of foreign matter. This experiment showed the possibilities for more uses of alfalfa and may tend to greatly reduce feeding costs of chickens and turkeys.

The machine has three different dies which will be used for different sizes of pellets which will be used to feed everything from young turkey poults to sheep and livestock.

It has been estimated that compressing the various feeds into pellets will greatly reduce waste and reduce the shipping cost. Henry Sommerer, manager, and Otto Pierce, mill foreman, are well pleased with the performance of the Popick machine.

SEWING CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Columbia Stitchers' Sewing club held a regular meeting Monday, April 29, at the leader's home. Visitors for the meeting were Mrs. Burrell's 4-H club from Hermiston. Guests were Mrs. Hine, Muriel Kingsley, Molly Ann Ripley, Luree Gimble, Lois Williams and the leader. Games were enjoyed after the meeting.

Ice cream and cookies were served as refreshments by Norma Getchell, Ruth McCulley and Margaret Sommerer.

The next meeting will be May 13 at the Sommerer home.

IRRIGON HAS NEW 4-H COOKING CLUB

A new cooking club was organized at Irrigon Friday afternoon. The group is a 4-H organization and will be known as the K. C. Cookery club. Mrs. A. C. Houghton will be the leader. Regular meetings will be held the second and fourth Saturdays of each month the places to be announced each time.

The following are the members who met with Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers Friday: LaVelle Markham, Agnes Caldwell, Lois Markham, Ella Mae Grim, Patsy Markham, Delpha Markham, Vivian Caldwell and Grace Haney. Officers were elected and plans made for future meetings.

BUTTERMILK HAS MUCH FOOD VALUE

"A man may live without bread, without buttermilk he dies," is an ancient proverb of Hindoo origin. Although believed to be true, no doubt, by the ancient Hindoo, today our knowledge of foods and nutrition would not allow us to believe this particular adage.

But we do know that as long as butter has been churned, buttermilk has been a favorite drink. Originally buttermilk was the liquid remaining after the butterfat had been removed by churning. Today, most of the commercial buttermilk is made by artificially souring pasteurized skim milk by adding the proper acid forming bacteria and finally stirring it thoroughly to break up the curd.

Most of us recognize buttermilk as a delicious and refreshing beverage... one of the best of summer-time drinks. It is much more than this although its unusual food value is often overlooked. Containing all the proteins and minerals which are normally present in milk, all the milk sugar with the exception of a small quantity which has been converted into lactic acid, and all the vitamins with the exception of Vitamin A contained in the butterfat, buttermilk really becomes a food of importance. In addition, it has the advantage of its lactic acid content.

CO-OP. BUYING INCREASES

Oregon State College—The Cooperative Managers' association, which is composed of organized student living groups, has made sales this year amounting to $192,000 at an operating cost of only 7.2 per cent. Approximately $21,000 has been returned to the various houses as dividend refunds. The cooperative buying program here, which has attracted nation-wide attention, had its origin in 1916 when fraternities and sororities were troubled by a wood shortage. Sales to date have totalled more than two and a half million dollars with refunds of more than a quarter of a million.

CO-OP. SCHOOL PLAN EXPLAINED

How university students may go to school on a budget of less than $350 a year is described in a new bulletin entitled "Co-operating for an Education," just issued by the University of Oregon student cooperatives at Eugene. It tells the history, purposes, achievements, and membership requirements of the organization which is completing its fourth year this spring.

The cooperatives, now with nearly 200 members, strive for less than average living costs without sacrificing any of the advantages of group living. The average cooperative student budget for a year is less than $350, according to the bulletin. Board and room costs are approximately $19 a month for girls and $20 for boys.

Most of the cooperative students, both boys and girls, earn from one-half to two-thirds of their college expenses while in school. A few are putting themselves through without any outside help. In spite of this the groups have stood at the head of campus scholarship averages consistently the last three years.

Started as a mid-depression experiment with a single men's house and only a handful of members in 1935, the organization has grown to six houses with nearly 200 members.

The cooperative houses have a complete social and athletic program. Additional activity is provided through participation in varsity debate, publications, drama, music, art, campus humor and office holding in numerous campus organizations.

Copies of the bulletin will be mailed on request by the Inter-Cooperative Council, 1213 Hilyard St., Eugene, Oregon.

WESTERN PRODUCTS BOOSTED BY U. P.

Union Pacific's 1939 radio campaign to stimulate the use of western food products by western housewives is meeting with a most enthusiastic response from homemakers, according to officials of the railroad. To date more than 100,000 requests for recipes offered over the radio on Union Pacific's tri-weekly program, "Surprise Your Husband", have been received at the railroad's Omaha research kitchen.

The recipes include many of the choicest dishes of Union Pacific's dining car and restaurant chefs, who supervise preparation of more than six and one-half million meals the railroad serves its patrons yearly. Each recipe is tested and approved by the Union Pacific research kitchen for simplicity of preparation, wholesomeness and attractiveness before being released for broadcast.

Food products which are grown or processed in the west are featured on all programs.
