GARDEN CLUB CHATS

Those who visited the flower show of Umatilla Garden club last week were rewarded by seeing a very fine display. This is the club's first venture and was a credit to those who worked so hard to make it a success. Roses were outstanding, many varieties being shown that are not so familiar to many on the project. The rose "Dainty Bess" was admirable, and a novelty was the so-called "green rose." Miniatures were numerous and well deserving of praise. The show was held in the community hall at Umatilla, and the room was beautiful and fragrant with flowers exhibited and others placed for decoration of the hall. A program was given and tea served during the afternoon.

It is said that a good weeding in April is worth a dozen any other time, but if you missed it in that month and must catch up before you and your flowers are completely swamped, find the best tools to work with easily. An old hoe that has seen its best days may be ground down to a narrow, sharp tool, the handle shortened to a foot or less, and will be found to do good work. An asparagus knife is good for many things besides asparagus and dandelions; it gets all deep-rooted weeds.

We hate to work with gloves on, but they're pretty good things to use around the rock garden or while weeding the rock wall, for that's where the black widow spider loves to lurk.

About this time of year you will notice that large, smooth leaves have round or oval pieces cut out of them very neatly. It's annoying, but if it has ever been your good fortune to see the nest of the leaf-cutter bee which does this damage, you will be perhaps a bit more tolerant of his work in your garden. To this writer there is no more perfect piece of architectural construction in the insect or bird world than the home of the leaf-cutter bee.

If you have an unusual flower, shrub or tree in bloom, or one that is just plain too beautiful to keep to yourself, tell us about it for this column, so that others may know and visit your locality and learn about it for future plantings on their own places.

When your oriental poppies cease blooming remove the flowering stalks and most of the leaves. In their place plant any shallow-rooting annual, one that you will be willing to pull out ruthlessly when the new growth of the poppies starts in September. Annuals suggested are schizanthus, alpiglossis, clarkia and sweet sultan.—Better Homes & Gardens.

When pyrethrums are through blooming, cut back to rosettes of foliage and they will bloom again to some extent in the fall.

Next meeting, June 5th, and it promises to be a fine one. Come and bring a friend.
