first meeting with the then Irene Foote, who persuaded him to give up cheap comedy in favor of dancing.

How the two married on the proverbial shoestring, went to Paris and nearly starved before they got a start as a team, is revealed in delightful fashion. Their meteoric rise to fame in dance engagements which took them across two continents until their reputation was established as the outstanding dance duo of their time; the breaking-up of the team when Vernon enlisted with the British forces on the outbreak of the World War; and his untimely death in a Texas air crash, are main ingredients in a story which is depicted in impressive and tuneful fashion against typical backgrounds of the period.

"The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle" starts Sunday at the Oasis theatre.

TEMPORARY GRAIN PERMITS DECLINED

Ormond R. Bean, Public Utilities Commissioner of Oregon, desires to call to the attention of operators of motor trucks who propose to transport grain for compensation, either as a common or contract carrier, that no temporary permits will be issued this season for this hauling.

Persons who intend to engage in this type of transportation service are requested to communicate immediately, either with the commissioner in Salem or Field Auditor Roy J. Ford, who is located in the Umatilla county court house, city of Pendleton, and secure the information necessary in order to obtain the required authority.

COLUMBIA GRANGE NOTES

The 66th session of the Oregon State Grange closed Friday evening, June 16th, after a memorable convention lasting five days. Corvallis was the meeting place for the fifth time since Grange institution in Oregon.

In the opening remarks of State Master Fay Gill's annual address, he said, "It is especially fitting that the state Grange should assemble here at the home of the land grant college. In a large sense, the National Grange was the father of the movement which brought to us the land grant college and the extension services, including the county agent system."

Oregon now has 377 Subordinate Granges with a membership roll of 22,583. Every county in Oregon, with but one exception, has an active Pomona Grange.

National Secretary Harry A. Canton, Coshocton, Ohio, divided his time on the coast so that he might attend both the Washington and Oregon conventions.

Other distinguished guest speakers included Gov. Chas. Sprague, Pres. Geo. W. Peavy of Oregon State College, Dean Wm. Schoenfeld of the college, dean of the school of agriculture, Mayor H. W. Hand of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin E. King, Mr. King being Master of the Washington State Grange, Mrs. Harry A. Creek, wife of the secretary of the Washington State Grange, L. D. Federation of Labor, State Grange officers and Pomona masters.

In addition to the important sessions for hearing reports, business meetings, adopting and rejecting in some instances of proposed resolutions, there was time for the many Grangers to "play." On Monday evening, twenty recreational leaders directed group games, contests and get-acquainted stunts among the hundreds present at the football field. Later the same evening there was a dance in the Memorial Union building. On the week's program were luncheons, banquets, teas, tours, drill team presentations, etc.

The annual 4-H summer school session was in progress on the campus during this busy Grange week. More than 2000 boys and girls from all over the state were there. Many of them were enjoying Grange scholarships.

Columbia Grange could not be represented at the State Grange convention, but by the issuing of a scholarship we made it possible for Marian Ott, an active 4-H clubber, to enjoy the summer school session. We hope in the near future to have Marian tell us about her busy week in Corvallis.

The State Grange will meet in Salem for its 1940 session.

Remember, Columbia Grangers, the regular first meeting of July has been postponed until July 11th. Let's increase our summer attendance. The presence of each and every member makes the meeting seem so much more worthwhile.

Don't forget Field Day Saturday, July 1. Bring basket lunch. Come at 10:30.
