turn purple and attain ripeness. In mountain areas the ripening time is delayed several weeks. Have you ever made Oregon grape jelly, using apple as a base?

Of all the state flowers only one is parasitic, the mistletoe of Oklahoma.

Next Monday afternoon, July 17, the Hermiston Garden Club will hold its only meeting of the month. There is a large membership roll, and it would be splendid to hear "present" as each name is called. Won't you try and be there? Bring a civic improvement suggestion.

How are your zinnias growing? Remember there's to be a special division in the fall flower show for flowers grown from Frazer's Seeds.

Won't you share some of your flower bouquets with others by taking your display to the window the Hermiston Herald has offered for that purpose?

COLUMBIA GRANGE NOTES

Fifteen officers and members of Columbia Grange were present at the July 11 evening meeting. Following the business meeting a social time was enjoyed. Marian Ott, who attended 4-H summer session at Corvallis on a Columbia Grange scholarship, told some most interesting highlights of the campus activities. A contest entitled "Time Marches On" followed with Mrs. Ott, Mrs. Goodrich and Lloyd Fix tying for high scores.

Sunday, July 23, has been set aside for a day of picnicking to take the place of the second July meeting. The time, place and plan will be decided upon at the Home Economics meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Ben Fix Friday afternoon with Mrs. Lloyd Fix as hostess.

Mrs. Doris Panages and Mrs. Tucker served delightful refreshments Tuesday evening. We regret that more members could not be present.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL STARTS AT OASIS SUNDAY

Out of the stirring past of this great nation emerges a drama of accomplishment that symbolizes the tradition of America—the story of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone. His is the dramatic romance of one who dreamed and struggled, loved and achieved. Simple, human and inspiring, the magnificent motion picture starting Sunday at the Oasis theatre, pays homage to his genius and to a woman's devotion. Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Story of Alexander Graham Bell," with Don Ameche (in the title role), Loretta Young and Henry Fonda sharing stellar honors, tells with power, with humor and with profound humanity the drama of a great man and the love that inspired him.

Bell's is a story that belongs to America—the obscure young scientist, his discouraging struggles, his invention of the telephone, his desperate battle against public ridicule and powerful opponents, his ultimate triumph, the flame of his genius kept alight by the love and faith of the woman he adored.

A NEW KIND OF TIRE

AMAZING LIFE-SAVER TREAD GIVES YOU SPLIT-SECOND STOPS ON WET, SLIPPERY ROADS

Stops You Quicker, Safer

That's why the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown will stop you quicker, safer—on a wet pavement—than any tire has ever stopped you before! That's why a "Silvertown Stop" can easily be a LIFE-SAVER to you on slippery, rain-drenched roads.

Double Protection

And, adding one safety feature to another, this new Silvertown is also the only tire that gives you the Golden Ply—the famous Goodrich invention that resists the terrific blowout-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds. By resisting this internal heat, the Golden Ply protects you against those high-speed blow-outs.

No Extra Cost

Remember, many tires cost more than Silvertowns; but no other tire—at any price—can give you this two-way protection against skids and blow-outs. Unless you make your next tires Silvertowns, you'll be cheating yourself and your family out of the greatest tire safety ever offered. See us before it's too late.

GARDEN CLUB CHATS

Now that the cheery Goldenrod lends interest along the roadsides, wild roses continue to send forth dainty, fragrant blossoms and many yards boast of Yucca lilies, let us a use to consider these as well as the many other flowers which can be grown on the project as "state flowers."

Many of the state flowers are cosmopolitan in their habits, so that it is possible to cultivate them satisfactorily under a wide range of conditions. Of the 48 officially designated flowers, there are 36 distinct genera represented. These 36 may be roughly classified as trees, eight; shrubs, eight; perennials or foreground plants, 16, and exceptions, four.

Perhaps nowhere among the state flowers are utility and beauty more gracefully combined than in the fruit trees. In the apple of Arkansas and Michigan, the orange of Florida, and the peach of Delaware are found the utmost in adaptability for human use. Their blossoms are inspirations for festivals and ceremonies, fruits for the table, homes for the birds and choice places for retreat to happy children.

Of the eight which are classified as shrubs, the Mockorange of Idaho, the Purple Lilac of New Hampshire, and the Mountain-Laurel of Connecticut are perhaps best known to us. The Lupine, found abundantly in eastern Oregon during the month of June, is the nearest relative to Texas Bluebonnet.

The possession of the Goldenrod, of which there are many species, is shared as a state flower by Nebraska, Kentucky and Alabama.

The rose group holds the signal honor as having the greatest number of delegates among the state flowers, being represented by the American Beauty of the D. of Columbia, "the rose", New York, the Wild Prairie Rose of North Dakota, the Cherokee Rose and the Wild Rose of Iowa.

Although New Mexico's Yucca is not identical with the hardy specie grown here, its characteristics are similar enough to warrant mention.

Arizona boasts of the Giant Cactus, Carnegiea gigantea, which has beautiful night-blooming rose-like white flowers. The writer had the opportunity of visiting the Oregon State college greenhouse a week ago and marveled at the cacti display, many of which had the choicest of bloom.

That distinctive cup-of-gold, California poppy, belonging to our neighboring sunshine state of California, grows almost too profusely to be appreciated in some of our gardens.

Even though Washington claims the Rhododendron, one couldn't find more gorgeous specimens than in the Mt. Hood area. Many lovely pink flower clusters are still clinging to greet the many out-of-state visitors Mt. Hood welcomes at this time of year.

The aggressive spirit of Oregon, like that of California, crops out in its flower name, the Oregon holly-grape. In the early spring the interesting plants with their waxy, holly-like leaves, and their fragrant clusters of tiny yellow blossoms, are lovely for house-bouquet value. In sunny places where the Oregon grape grows, the berries are beginning to
