MORE POWER TO POWER

There are those who believe that our agricultural problems,—in fact, the nation's problems—can be solved by using less power, that is, going back to the more primitive way of doing things. These people forget that America's progress, the many things that we have that are not enjoyed by other nations, are due to a large use of horsepower, combustion engines, and electrical equipment. From an address by Dr. Robert A. Milliken, California Institute of Technology, before the Merchants' Association of New York, we take the following statements:

"In this country there is now expended about 13.5 horsepower hours per day per capita—the equivalent of a hundred human slaves for each of us; in England the figure is 6.7, in Germany 6, in France 4.5, in Japan 1.8, in Russia .9, in China .5. In the last analysis, this use of power is why our most important social changes have come about.

"This is why we no longer drive our ships with human slaves chained to the oars, as did the Romans and the Greeks. This is why 10 times as many boys and girls are in the high school today in the United States as were there in 1890. This is why we have now an eight hour day instead of, as then, a 10, a 12,—or sometimes a 14-hour day. This is why we have on the average an automobile for every family, why unskilled labor gets nearly twice as much in real wages in the United States as in England, three times as much as in Germany or France, and 13 times as much as in Russia."

Those who would change our American form of government to some foreign type because they think government is entirely responsible for the creation of wealth, should reflect upon the differences of the income in this country and Russia. We want a government that permits free enterprise to operate, a government that is an umpire, that each group of citizens and all citizens will have equal opportunity. Government has done little directly toward creating wealth that this nation enjoys, but it is so constituted that it has permitted people to use their initiative for creating this wealth. The success of the farmer depends on using improved machinery that more crops can be grown that greater returns can be obtained than when our forefathers did not enjoy the improved machinery and power we have today.

COLUMBIA NEWS

By Lois Hutchison

George Stephens of California is here for his annual visit with William Nebergall and Baxter Hutchison.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Colpitts and Beulah Ryland visited at Wallowa Paradise and Flora over the Fourth. Al Moody and son Ralph of Pendleton visited Sunday at the Will Rhodes home. Mr. Moody is Mrs. Rhodes' brother.

But Curtis, James Getchell, Mark Foster and Red Van Schoiack spent the Fourth at Bingham Springs.

Joyce McCulley left Wednesday for Pendleton to visit Eileen Orven and from there on to Athena to her summer's job at Joe Cannon's.

J. H. Taber and S. N. Clark made a business trip to Walla Walla Tuesday.

Mrs. Clarence Morris and her brother Charley Harr of Edmonton, Alberta, were recent visitors of Mrs. Mary Harr. They flew from Seattle to Portland. They visited the San Francisco fair and other coast cities before returning to Canada.

Ruth and Otis McCulley returned Wednesday from Milton where they had been visiting the George Norton family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Schultzy and son Don visited Friday at the W. B. Foster home. Mrs. Schultzy is a daughter of the Fosters and they are from Colorado Springs where Mr. Schultzy has been with the city water department for 10 years. He has charge of the several lakes located on the side of Pike's Peak that supply the city water. They live at an elevation of 11,000 feet. They are on a three weeks' paid vacation that will take them to Auburn, Wn., to visit his parents, and to Portland and coast points. On their return trip the latter part of the week they expect to pick up Arilda Foster at The Dalles and again visit here for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conrad left for a visit in Portland Friday in their new car. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Linder accompanied them and will visit the Walter Blessing family.

Elmer Blahm is taking care of the Gus Linder ranch while the Linders are away.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rand, and Mr. and Mrs. Batie Rand and son of Irrigon, visited Friday evening at the W. B. Foster home.

Glenn Warner is working for Forrest Moore this week.

Lester Colpitts, who has been working at the hop yards, has gone to the wheat harvest. Mrs. Colpitts is staying with her mother, Mrs. Elmer Ryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sprinkel and son Dean of Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Matteson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pettersen of Ione spent the Fourth of July at the Adam Blahm home.

Edward Shaw will have charge of the services at the Methodist church Sunday, in the absence of Rev. Stearns Cushing, who is at Suttle Lake.

Harold Buell is home for two weeks. He drives each day to his work with the state oiling crew, now located at Echo.

Cliff Tomblason was a dinner guest of James Getchell, at the Getchell home Sunday.

Who says we need lights in the chicken house? One old hen solved the problem recently by going to the roof where she had light and laying her egg, then arousing the good farmer from his rest at three o'clock in the morning to get the egg before it rolled off the tin roof.

E. R. Craven of Touchet, Wn., were here Monday visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hooker.

Mrs. Victor Stockard, who has been quite ill, is improved.

Mrs. Herman Hurst and son and wife of Milton, were visitors at the H. A. Hooker home on the Fourth.

Mrs. Burchett's brother and family who were here over the Fourth, left for their home at Rainier Thursday.

Mrs. Lucille Weeks and family spent the Fourth at her daughter's home on Cabbage Hill.

Ladies of the Union church gathered at the Porrest Moore home Tuesday afternoon to celebrate Grandma Ellis' 89th birthday. Guests present were Rev. Warner and family, Messdames Hibbard, Clark, Smith, Flannigan, Gerking, Hinefine and Hooker. Ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Mary Harr accompanied Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Loudermilk to Yakima Sunday to attend the West Virginia picnic held there. They returned last evening.

Residents of this district are becoming quite concerned over the condition of Columbia park. While the new drainage system has helped some, it is not all that was hoped for, and the park is not the pleasant place it should be. Can anyone offer a solution?

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mikesell, Mrs. Christley, Mrs. Hooker and granddaughter, Dell Christley, William Nebergall and George Stephens surprised Baxter Hutchison at his home Tuesday evening. The occasion was his birthday. Mrs. Christley baked a lovely white cake and Mrs. Upham another. Punch was also served. Baxter says birthday parties make him feel young again.

CLOVER AND GRASS CUT FOR SILAGE

Astoria — Several Clatsop county farmers have made silage out of the first growth on their hay lands this year and will cut the second growth for hay when weather is more favorable for curing it, reports A. Zun-del, county agent.

Arthur Johnson on Young's river obtained 60 tons of grass and clover silage from eight acres. He added molasses when putting it into the silo. W. E. Lottman of Svenson island cut six acres of red clover early and put it in a stack silo rather than take chances on unsettled haying weather.

Accommodating Elephant

This picture was taken, not at a circus, as one might suppose, but in the factory grounds of an electric refrigerator manufacturer. The obliging elephant is balancing its full weight of over four tons on the top of a 1939 Frigidaire to demonstrate the great structural strength of the one-piece steel cabinet. The testers could have accomplished the same result with several tons of bricks, but they found it a lot more fun to use the elephant. The above scene is entirely genuine, and no trick photography of any kind was used.
