

COLUMBIA GRANGE PLAYS HOST AT JOINT SESSION

Columbia Grange members were hosts at a joint session held Tuesday evening, October 17, in the school building, having Echo, Stanfield and Westland Granges as guests. The program opened with community singing, followed by greetings from Master Corman. Each visiting master was introduced and in turn mentioned agricultural product uses in industry.

Debaters, two representatives from each Grange, on the question, "Resolved: That the success on the farm is due more to the farmer than the location of the farm," kept a 20-minute period popping with some excellent arguments on both sides of the question.

After more community singing, Mr. Dyer and Mr. Moreland from the S. C. S. camp at Stanfield, were introduced and in turn showed slides, explaining the work and services available to farmers by the conservation corps. A dairy film strip, arranged for by M. E. Knickerbocker and Emil Zivney, was shown.

Two lively contests, namely a balloon blowing affair and the umbrella, pall, whistle and chair contest, provided grand recreation for participants and volumes of amusement for the onlookers. Mrs. Seeliger won the turn-bud vases as first prize in the "Article glance, memory" contest.

The Home Ec. club, of which Mrs. Doris Panages is president, served a delightful lunch of assorted sandwiches, interesting and tasty cakes, with coffee.

Claude Hanscom, Pomona Master, was present for only a few minutes, but brought greetings and expressed his pleasure at holding Pomona in Hermiston on Nov. 2 with Westland and Columbia Granges entertaining.

About 50 Grangers were present.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND CHURCH CONFERENCE HERE

BANQUET PROVES POPULAR TUESDAY

The delegates to the eastern division of the Cascade district meeting which was held in Hermiston Tuesday and Wednesday were accorded a rare treat in the fine messages and splendid discussions. These representatives came from 14 cities of Eastern Oregon. There were quite a few laymen as well as ministers.

A lively afternoon of interesting papers and open forum, opened up many avenues of thought and threw a great deal of light upon some of the problems and organization which have resulted from the merger of the three largest branches of Methodism. In the evening after what has been described as "the finest banquet they had ever attended," a large crowd gathered in the main auditorium for another feast—a feast of the spirit.

Ernest W. Peterson of the Oregon Journal speaking on the subject, "One People," pointed out that those called Methodists should realize the tremendous responsibility upon their shoulders as the world looks to them in this matter of Christian unity. This merger has effected the spiritual lives of 20 million people or as many as have been effected by the political efforts of Hitler in Austria, Czech, Sudan and Memmal. Mr. Peterson said that "Once again God has put His finger on the Methodist people" and that we need to advance.

Dr. W. W. Youngson, who holds the position of area secretary and assistant to the Bishop, spoke from the text "No other foundation can man lay." He concluded his stirring message with the challenge to laymen and preachers to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ to a waiting and hungry world.

The conference closed on a high note of enthusiasm for the program of the coming year. Adjournment came at noon following the report of the committee of Findings and Resolutions which is given in part here:

"We wish to thank the fine people of Hermiston for their wonderful hospitality and ministrations to our every need. To the ladies of this church for the bounteous meals so cheerfully served. To the pastor of this church, Brother Cushing, for his efficient leadership and of being the perfect host.

"We have enjoyed this gathering together for our first district conference held since the uniting together of the three largest branches of Methodism. It was once said: 'East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet.' They once said that about the North and South until it was discovered that in Christian brotherhood there is no North or South, East or West. We are united in one fellowship. Thank God."
