GULLIVER'S TRAVELS STARTS SUNDAY

With the amazing adventure of Jonathan Swift's famous character, the shipwrecked Gulliver in Lilliput Land as a theme, this grandest of all full length cartoon pictures, blends uproarious comedy, charming romance, and heart tingling tunes into the most wonderful hour and twenty minutes of entertainment the screen has ever known.

Prince David and Princess Glory are the gayest of lovers. King Little and King Bombo are the most amusing of monarchs. Gabby, the town crier, is the bravest coward who ever ran away to fight again another day. Sneak, Snoop and Snitch, King Bombo's three spies, are such frightful fellows they frighten themselves. And the whole population of Lilliput are as wonderful as the adventures into which they lead their giant friend, Gulliver.

"Gulliver's Travels" starts Sunday at the Oasis theatre. "Everything Happens at Night" with Sonja Henie and Ray Milland, is the other feature which will be shown with Gulliver's Travels for your entertainment.

COLUMBIA SCHOOL NOTES

The spring activity schedule went into effect March 1, which provides for indoor baseball, basketball, volleyball, line soccer, contests and relays, and free play periods. A date in April will soon be set for a kite tournament. The Columbia school directors recently put up new basketball standards, a baseball wire netting backstop and new posts for the volleyball court.

The seventh and eighth graders will present the puppet show, "Arthur's Old Schoolmate" at the Hermiston grade school assembly Friday afternoon.

JAMES FRANKLIN LANE

James Franklin Lane was born in Woodford, Ill., January 27, 1886. When he was six years old the family moved to Western Washington where he grew to manhood. In 1917 Mr. Lane came to Stanfield and with the exception of three years spent in Parkdale, Ore., has resided here until his death Wednesday, March 6, in St. Anthony's hospital.

Mr. Lane, active in civic and community affairs, was well and favorably known, having served for six years as city marshal, four years as manager of the Stanfield Irrigation district, and for the past year has operated the local Pastime. At the time of his death he was a member of the city council, treasurer of the Commercial club and a Past Master of the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are his widow, a daughter Marie and two sisters, Mrs. Scott Armstrong of Mt. Vernon, Wn., and Mrs. Rose Santmeier of Seattle.

Funeral services were held Friday, March 8, at 2:00 p. m. from the Presbyterian church, with Rev. J. K. Griffiths officiating and with Folsom's in charge. Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke sang "Some Day We'll Understand." Interment was in the Stanfield cemetery with services conducted by the Masons and with the following members of that order as pall bearers, N. D. Bard, M. Refvem, M. C. McCall, M. C. Barager, L. Jouannault and John Heckman.

Mrs. F. A. Shelton was hostess to the Pollyanna club at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Jack Lawrence and son Melvin, Mrs. Margaret Daughtry, Mrs. M. Refvem and Mrs. Ed Brown were Pendleton visitors Tuesday. Mesdames Refvem and Brown of the county health committee, attended the health conference at which Mrs. Roe Cloud was the principal speaker.

Bill Comstock and Bob McCarty have gone to Seattle from where they will sail November 15 for Seward, Alaska. From there they plan to go to Anchorage for an indefinite stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Daniels (Margaret Wood) were called to Vulcan, W. Va., Monday because of the serious illness of the former's mother, Mrs. Betty Daniels.

At the regular Ladies Aid meeting Thursday afternoon, plans were made for serving the dinner for the Masonic lodge convention to be held here March 21. Mrs. F. A. Shelton served during the tea hour.

Mrs. J. K. Griffiths conducted the Tuesday afternoon devotional service with a dozen ladies in attendance at the L. Jouannault home. The annual congregational meeting has been called for the evening of March 25 when, as is customary, a hot luck dinner will be served followed by the business meeting.
