'ROARING 20S' TO COME TO OASIS

In France, as the war ends, three soldiers (played by Cagney, Jeffrey Lynn and Humphrey Bogart) make joyful plans for their return to America. One plans to go back to his job as garage mechanic, another is going to start his law practice, the third, scoffing at talk of Prohibition, intends to go back to saloon-keeping. Cagney is also looking forward to meeting the girl who has been writing him cheery letters throughout the war. But, in the world to which they return their plans are no longer feasible. Cagney, whose job has long since been filled, has to drive a cab, and this soon puts him on to the boot-legging racket. Meanwhile he has met his unknown sweetheart. He has also made contact with his wartime buddies and Bogart, who has been working with a rival bootlegging gang, joins up with him. He retains Lynn to handle the somewhat shady legal end of his transactions. Riding on the crest of the wave, they all rise to the top with him but in the crash, Cagney goes under first.

"The Roaring Twenties" starts Sunday at the Oasis theatre. The Louis-Godoy Fight pictures will be shown also.

Fabric Alone or With Straw Is Millinery Theme for Easter

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ONE glance at the new hat fashions for spring, year 1940, and forthwith you feel your spirits mount high for you know in a flash that milliners are turning out creations of the flattering sort.

Perhaps the most outstanding news in regard to hats that will grace the Easter millinery picture is the wide use being made of fabric, especially jersey (for wrapped turbans and snoods) and silk prints as gay and colorful as an artist's palette. See the hat centered below in the illustration. Here is a bright and shining example of what is being done with silk print. This wondrously chic little pillbox with shirred crown is made of a bordered silk print scarf. Its patterning of overlapping disc motifs achieves a dashing color alliance. The manner in which the draped matching scarf is attached to the back of the hat by means of snaps so that it can be removed at will is both unique and practical. The fact that the hat can be worn alone with its detached scarf translated into a neckerchief, knotted in place or held with a gay pin, adds greatly to its interest.

One of the big attractions offered to style-seeking women this season, is the print dress and hat ensemble or the print blouse that sells with a matching turban. You will find as the season progresses that the theme of the matching hat of printed silk will prove fashion's favorite spring song.

Now that the pastel color craze is taking the world of fashion by storm it has become a reigning vogue to wear a classic draped turban made of the identical pastel material that fashions the dress. The striking dinner gown pictured in the inset oval illustrates this new trend. Sand beige silk jersey is the fabric that fashions this charming costume. The bodice is softly gathered from high neck to high waistline. The flowing skirt is pleated into a wide wrapped girdle. An elaborate ornament set in gold trims the rajah turban of self silk jersey in the manner of a regal potentate.

Sailors are with us again. Milliners report they are better than ever this season. Dusty pink suede forms the bandeau of the navy blue straw sailor shown at the top to the right. The ends of the suede jut through the crown and are stitched to give stiffness. A lovely model this, to wear with the very new and smart navy costume on Easter day.

Another type that maintains style prestige is the postillion. Lime green straw and a cactus blossom trim gives a springtime air to the postillion illustrated below to the right. This simple model will make an excellent fashion "first" to initiate your spring style program.

The new collections include many hats that are made of ribbon. A high-crowned chapeau of golden mustard-colored ribbon swathed in black net veiling, as shown above to the left, is a youthful headpiece that tunes ideally to midseason and early spring wear.

Do You Know What Your Automobile Insurance Covers? ? ?

HUMAN hands are not the only agency that can steal or damage your car. Flood waters, lightning, tornado, hail, explosion can cause equally costly damage.

Our modern comprehensive automobile insurance covers practically every peril except collision, and costs only a trifle more than ordinary fire and theft protection. Also—like all the policies we sell—it is non-assessable and backed by a paid-in capital and surplus. Because it is placed with a strong capitalized (stock) company.
