

Pray for World Peace

Men may choose to wage war in the world, to fight one another and hate, but no amount of human conflict can alter the truth that all men are brothers. Men are brothers because God is the Father, and men are all His sons.

Our old world filled with strife and confusion as it is today, needs prayer; prayer for peace. God is still on the throne and would have mankind at peace, but peace must come according to His law. This peace is not limited to one group or nation, but is universal. Logically the only cure for war and the road to peace is love, the love that makes all men one in the spirit of universal brotherhood.

There are, I believe, no people on earth as capable or as free to perform this service of praying and working for world peace as we of America. May we who can still see, not be blinded and confused by propaganda or hysteria, but let us be wise enough to think clearly and truthfully and act sanely.

PINE CITY NEWS

By Mrs. Bernice Wattenburger

JOHN HARRISON

John Harrison, 40 years of age, died at St. Anthony's hospital at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. He had been ill since Friday when he was stricken with appendicitis. Funeral services were held Monday, Sept. 28, at Folsom's funeral parlors in Pendleton. Pall bearers were Mr. Loveland of Pendleton, Emery Cox of Hermiston, Sam Nye and Walter Wigglesworth of Echo, and Marian Finch and Burl Wattenburger of Butter Creek.

Mr. Harrison, a native of near Pilot Rock and living in this county all his life, was foreman at the Tom Boylen ranch, and was well known in Hermiston and surrounding communities.

Survivors include his widow, Princess, a son, John Edward, 12, and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs.

Dick Kirchoff, Junction City; D. B. Harrison, Milton; Clint Harrison; Mrs. W. H. Harris, Portland; Mrs. Floss Wilkinson, Pendleton, and James Harrison of Pilot Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Cox and family of Hermiston and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wigglesworth of Echo were Sunday dinner guests at the E. B. Wattenburger home.

Shirley McGreer passed her fifth birthday Sunday. Monday afternoon a group of children came for a party in honor of Miss Shirley. Ice cream and angle food cake were served by her mother and aunt. Guests were Miss Shirley, and Janet Myers, Edward McDode, Jenny Myers, Jaunita Ayers and Shirley White.

A number from Butter Creek attended the fair in Hermiston Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Moore were dinner guests Monday at the E. B. Wattenburger home.

R. E. McGreer has taken over the Tom Boylen Jr. ranch at Pine City. John McCulley has been appointed ranch foreman to take Mr. Harrison's place.

TOWNSEND CLUB NEWS

By Mrs. Joe Udey

A vote of thanks goes from the Townsend members to the fair board for giving the Townsend club a space on the grounds for a Townsend booth. Also a vote of thanks goes to the committee who worked so faithfully on the float. Through their effort the Townsend float won third prize.

A flash from headquarters—Dr. Townsend has chosen Thursday, October 10, at 10 a. m. as the time of prayer for peace. At exactly 10 a. m. on this day, all workers at Townsend national headquarters, and other Townsend officers throughout the nation, all national representatives, all club officers and club members, Townsend followers and friends and all true Americans who wish to take part in this mass prayer, will stop from whatever task they have been performing for one minute, all will bow their heads in prayer and ask Almighty Guidance.

"Let this cup pass from us" will be the thought that echoes throughout the nation and as they pray, these millions of devout Americans, will look deep into their own hearts and weigh the righteousness of their own convictions, and they will dedicate themselves to redouble their efforts in behalf of peace.

The next club meeting will be Friday, October 11, at the Legion hall.

There will be a song service at 7:30 followed at 8 o'clock by an address from Dr. W. E. Henry.

STATE CORN SHOW DATES ANNOUNCED; PRIZES INCREASED

Dates have been set for the fourth annual Oregon state corn show and advance arrangements completed to make this year's show bigger and more widely attended than last year's and with more premiums offered, says C. W. Smith, county agent leader at Oregon State college and chairman of the cooperative committee in charge of the show.

This year's dates are November 22 and 23, the two days immediately following Thanksgiving, and the location will be the same as last year, in the Museum building at Oregon State college. The state corn husking contest will be held again in the armory nearby.

The state corn show committee met recently and decided on a number of changes in this year's premium list which will be issued soon. Most important of these changes is the creation of a new class for hybrid corn. This will provide a separate class for the 10-ear samples of hybrid corn and eliminate competition with the open pollinated varieties.

The exhibit for the hybrid class this year will include eight pounds of shelled corn in addition to the 10 ears, as judging will be based more on the corn as feed rather than on a seed corn basis. This hybrid corn class will be in addition to the hybrid corn growing contest requiring complete records of production on a minimum area.

A total of $500 in cash prize money is again being supplied for the show by the First National Bank of Portland, which was one of the original boosters for increased corn production in this state. Each of the general farm organizations, Grange, Farmers Union and Farm Bureau, is supplying one or more class trophies and is represented on the corn show committee.

The agricultural committee of the Portland Chamber of Commerce is taking the responsibility of raising the necessary expense money and the extension service is being responsible for the actual management and staging of the show. Both the 4-H club and Future Farmer organizations are represented on the committee and special classes are provided for these groups.

WAR ON CRICKETS GETTING RESULTS

Generally lighter infestations and better methods of control marked the campaign against Mormon crickets and grasshoppers in eastern Oregon this last season, reports Lloyd D. Cowden, area supervisor of the control program for the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine.

Cowden conferred recently with Dr. Don C. Mote, entomologist at Oregon State college and state leader of the project, on plans for setting up a similar cooperative program next year such as has been carried on the past two seasons under a three-way arrangement by the state department of agriculture, the state college, and the federal bureau.

Use of poison bait on a large scale for the first time this summer proved to be a big help in control, Cowden reported. He found that both the poison dusting and bait are necessary for effective control as the dust gets best results early in the season when weather is cold, while the bait is most effective later. It is possible to cover much more area in a given time with the bait than with the dusting method and it was found to give up to 95 per cent kill.

Penney Employed With NYA

R. G. Penney of Stanfield is employed with the N.Y.A. school in Pendleton under a three-month appointment which became effective September 1. The movement is intended to find work for unemployed high school graduates. Several boys from Hermiston are enrolled in the classes which are being held in the high school building.

Duvals Are Entertained

The Young Married Peoples class of the Central Church of Christ Sunday School entertained Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Duvall to a farewell party Monday night, with 22 guests present for the occasion. The affair was held at the Dale Blackstone home. The Duvals are leaving soon to reside at The Dalles.

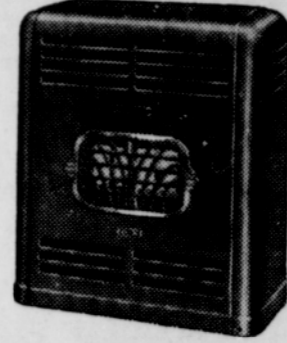

Women's Council To Meet

The Women's Council of the Central Church of Christ will hold a general meeting next Wednesday, October 9, with Group 3 furnishing the noon meal. According to Mrs. Fred Hibbard, president, a business session will follow the dinner, with a program concluding the day's meeting.
