

COOPERATION

is simply a number of people working to the same end. Instead of being satisfied to accept whatever quality, whatever prices and whatever service private business wishes to impose on them, they reason that it is better to be in business for themselves. They own the business that furnishes them with goods and services, they control the policies and share the profits. By democratic processes they actually run their own business.

The immediate savings are by no means the only benefits accruing from this system. In every community where cooperative enterprise exists, it operates as an effective control of monopoly, and as a safeguard against exploitation. Thus the whole community benefits because a group of its citizens has the courage and the initiative to strive to better their condition collectively by cooperative enterprise.

NEED OF DAM AGAIN STRESSED BY RAYER

That the Umatilla dam will be needed for power within ten years was again stated yesterday by Paul J. Rayer, administrator of Bonneville and Grand Coulee, before a meeting at Lewiston of the Inland Empire Waterways association. Rayer made the same statement at Eugene recently and twice previously at other meetings. He states that all the power of Bonneville and Grand Coulee will be in use within ten years and that by that time the Umatilla dam should be ready to supply additional needs.

Just a few years ago the power of the Umatilla rapids dam was not considered as necessary for nearly 50 years. Recent claims of government engineers and officials are that the Umatilla dam will be needed for not only navigation, but for flood control, power and irrigation.

It is estimated that it will require 7 to 10 years to build the dam and necessary works for these purposes.

WEATHER TURNS SOMEWHAT COOLER

COLUMBIA GRANGE NOTES

Next Tuesday evening, October 15, will occasion the second meeting night of the month for Columbia Grange. It is sincerely hoped that all officers and members make a special effort to be at the usual meeting place before 8 o'clock, so the business meeting may begin promptly, and a social time be enjoyed afterward. Attendance is bound to increase if promptness will be our new watchword.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING LIVELY

W. E. Logan, local postmaster, made a short report of his office and stated that to date the receipts are somewhat ahead of last year. However, to remain in the second class rating no let-down can be had as the final months of 1939 were quite high.

Henry Sommerer presented the case of the proposed Umatilla port district and requested a sum of $25 to be used in sponsoring the project. Following his explanatory remarks, it was moved and seconded that $25 be set aside for this purpose.

The park question again came up

GARDEN CLUB CHATS

by Mrs. Vera Doyle

Indian summer and autumn are working hand in hand to give us colored landscapes far beyond description by word.

Shrubs, vines and trees are putting on their last dress-up appearance for us in crimson and gold before retiring for the winter. Mother nature does not go by the rules of flower arrangement in proportion and odd numbers are unheard of. Her colors are beautiful and only by ourselves can we make the well arranged and designed picture. Examples may be seen in the October 7 issue of Life magazine on the table in the Hermiston public library. The pictures are taken by experts who know the artistic standpoints which make a picture outstanding.

But drat it all, after the dress-up parade the leaves fall and the back breaking job of raking begins. We even hate to save the leaves for the compost bed and glory in the fire and the pungent aroma of burning leaves in the air.

Now that important events have passed and we are settled down to routine work, let us remember to continue our work with the Hermiston Garden club. Visitors, new members, and the regulars are always welcome. The ideas, voting, and working committees depend upon each of you. Real honest to goodness committee work must begin now if we wish to keep the club in activity. Our year's calendar will be made up at this meeting and we need your ideas, too. We are making committee appointments and that means your attendance, please.

The meeting will be in the Hermiston library basement today (Friday) at 2:00 p. m.
