LEGION COMMANDER MAKES PLEA TO ALL WAR VETERANS

By Sam Moore, Commander
As we review the accomplishments of the Legion for the past and reflect upon the possibilities for the future, is it any wonder that we of the Legion become increasingly more proud of our organization. Every benefit received by a veteran or his dependents, be it local, state or federal benefit, let it be known that it came to them through the efforts of the American Legion.

Does it not then seem a pity that such a few of us each year must sacrifice our time and car expense to contact and almost beg those for whom we have done so much, to join our organization? We need YOU today, need you as never before for that which the Legion, not has done, but rather for that which the Legion can and will do. The American Legion today needs within its ranks every eligible veteran: every eligible veteran needs the American Legion today, as never before.

In a short time our war department will call on the Governor of this state to set up a system of home defense units and as you know the American Legion has gone on record that they will form these units. Today we have the sum of eleven members in our Post. In the War of '17 and '18 it took ALL of us and it may need ALL of us again, so don't sit back and wait. Pay your dues to the Adjutant Glen Ripley, now.
