WOOL GROWERS TO TACKLE PROBLEMS AT LAKEVIEW MEET

LAKEVIEW—A considerable number of problems affecting Oregon sheep growers are scheduled for discussion at the forty-fourth annual convention of the Oregon Wool Growers association in Lakeview, December 1, 2 and 3. The program just announced by Mac Hoke, president, and Walter A. Holt, secretary, both of Pendleton, calls for committee meetings starting at 1:30 o'clock December 1, with the opening of the main convention at 10 o'clock Monday, December 2.

Six committees have been arranged in advance to handle the subjects of predatory animals, legislation and taxation, public lands grazing, general resolutions and organization, transportation and marketing, and national forest grazing.

Our revival meeting will continue all next week.

The evangelist's sermon for Sunday morning will be "The Old Rugged Cross." The special music Sunday morning will be an anthem, "The Great Heart of God," by the choir, and a solo by J. A. Clarke.

The sermon for Sunday evening will be, "Why Does the World Continue in Unbelief?"

Tuesday—"Five Important Conversations."

Wednesday—"What You Take With You."

Thursday—"The Unpardonable Sin."

Friday—"The Climax of Human Drama."

Saturday—"Shadowed."

LOCAL MINISTERS TO ATTEND MEET

A regular meeting of the County Ministerial association will be held in the Pendleton Episcopal church Tuesday, December 3. The Hermiston group will attend the meeting in a body. Rev. Grayden Loree, pastor of the local Baptist church, is secretary of the county association.

Rev. I. George Mace, president of the Oregon Council of Churches, will be present at the Pendleton meeting.

METHODIST CHURCH

Stearns Cushing, Pastor

"Man's Greatest Tribute to God is Service to Man." We cannot pay tribute directly to God, but we can serve His creature, our fellowmen. How are we doing this? Are we accepting the responsibility for the task of building God's Kingdom on earth? There is no challenge to man as great or as promising as that. What will you do?

The church school meets at 10 o'clock. There is a good beginning place. Could you teach and don't?

The Epworth League will have its fellowship hour at 6 o'clock, followed by the devotional hour with the topic, "Move On, Youth."

Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Carelle announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Jeannine Monterastelli to Albert G. Kennings of Yreka, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Kennings of Hermiston. Miss Monterastelli, who is the daughter of Mrs. Carelle, attended St. Joseph's Academy and is a graduate of St. Mary's School of Nursing, Walla Walla. Mr. Kennings attended Oregon State college and is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta. The wedding will be an event of the holiday season.

HERMISTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Grayden D. Loree, Pastor

Our text for Sunday morning will be Isaiah 1:18, "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool."

Our Sunday School begins at 10 o'clock. If you are not attending elsewhere we invite you to meet with us. The young people meet at 7 p. m. At 8 o'clock the pastor will bring a message dealing with the story of Naaman.

Rev. Cushing Attends Meeting

The Rev. and Mrs. Stearns Cushing and daughter Charlene spent Thanksgiving with their parents in Oregon City and Salem. While there Mr. and Mrs. Stearns Cushing Sr. celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary. Rev. Cushing returned home Friday but Mrs. Cushing remained until Tuesday when she returned with Rev. Cushing who had gone to Portland to attend an institute council of Methodist churches.

Atteburys Entertain At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Attebury were hosts to a family dinner Thanksgiving day. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Dale Emory and Gale and Jo of Pendleton, Harry Emory of Fairbanks, Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Harris, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Patten, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Attebury and sons Bob and Ronald.

F. B. Auxiliary Meets

At a recent meeting of the Farm Bureau Auxiliary it was decided to rent the club room for private socials and dinners sponsored by clubs and societies at a reasonable rental, either for afternoons or evenings. The next meeting of the group will be Friday, December 6, with Mrs. Udey, Mrs. Sink and Mrs. Baragar in charge. The subject for discussion will be Christmas cooking and needlework.

PAYMENT OF AAA CHECKS AHEAD OF LAST SEASON

Payment of benefits under the 1940 AAA program in Oregon is ahead of last year at this time in total number of applications received and approved for payment, although the total amount paid is below that of a year ago, according to a report just made by N. C. Donaldson, executive officer at the state AAA headquarters.

A total of 3689 applications had been approved for payment to November 20, amounting to $495,571.74. A year ago only 1565 applications had been approved, although the amount involved was $555,780.52. Because of the reduction in wheat and some other payments the total cash benefits this year will be under those of a year ago.

F. S. GREEN WINS EASTERN OREGON CORN CONTEST

The hybrid corn growing contest, in which yield and cost of production are considered, and in which three acres are a minimum requirement, was won this year by F. S. Green of Stanfield, with a yield of 125.69 bushels per acre, produced at a cost of only 19.5¢ per bushel. L. O. Gorman of Crabtree won in western Oregon with a yield of 67.16 bushels per acre, at a cost of 26.8¢ per bushel.

A young man, Clayton Nyberg, 22, who spent seven years growing corn as a 4-H club project, emerged with the sweepstakes trophy, also at the fourth annual Oregon State Corn show held in Corvallis. Mr. Nyberg exhibited 20 ears of hybrid corn of Wisconsin 525 variety, which placed first in his district, won the championship of the hybrid class, and then went on to take sweepstakes over all classes. His entry had been selected from an acre of corn which yielded 112 bushels as measured by a disinterested party, although the yield did not figure in the award won.

This year's show was probably more widely attended than any yet held, and the quality of corn was unusually high, according to Oregon State college representatives who staged the show and did the judging. The show was sponsored jointly by Oregon farm organizations, Portland business interests, the state department of education, and Oregon State college.
