

New Model Insurance

Yes—there are new models and important improvements in insurance policies as well as in motor cars.

For example, automobile liability insurance recently has been liberalized to cover—at no extra charge—husband and wife while driving another person's car.

Notable new plans in insurance are available in other lines also—greater protection at less cost in many instances and written with strong capital stock companies—your guarantee of security.

METHODIST CHURCH

Stearns Cushing, Pastor
Church Loyalty campaign begins this Sunday and will continue through the month of January. We are urging members and friends of our church to be present for one service each Sunday.

The church school has just the right class for you. You can not afford to neglect your study of the Christian way of living. The hour is 10:00 a. m.

The Epworth League meets at 7:00 p. m. with Miss Rebecca Pierson leading. The subject is "Personality." A warm welcome awaits you.

PILGRIM HOLINESS CHURCH

C. R. Bennett, Pastor
Sunday school, 10:00 a. m. Lesson Jan 5, Jesus and Human Affliction. Luke 13:1-5; 10-17. Morning devotional preceding the Sunday school hour. Message by the pastor.

Y. P. S. at 6:30 p. m.
Evening worship at 7:30 p. m. Church prayer meeting January 8 at 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Friday night at 7:30.

Attend Sunday School next Sunday. We invite you to join in the services with us. "If the Sunday had not been observed as a day of rest during the last three centuries, I have not the slightest doubt that we people should have been at this moment a poorer people and less civilized."

The district superintendent will be with us January 6 and 7. Services at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited.

PENTECOSTAL TABERNACLE

S. E. Graves, Pastor
The holiday season is fast coming to a close and we are beginning a new year. Let us start it right by beginning this next Sunday to attend Sunday school and church. You will enjoy the fellowship, singing and preaching. We should appreciate very much having you a visitor with us.

10:00 A. M., Sunday School.
11:00 A. M., morning worship. Also at this time we will have a Junior Church.
7:30 P. M., evening service.
Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., a real inspiring Bible study. Everyone invited.

HERMISTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Grayden D. Loree, Pastor
We regret to announce that our evangelistic campaign has been indefinitely postponed due to the illness of Mr. Haslam, the evangelist. This does not mean, however, that our evangelistic spirit shall be quenched in the least. Our regular Sunday services shall continue to be evangelistic. The Sunday morning topic will be "Looking Backward, or Pressing Forward."

Our B.Y.P.U. is starting out a new year of service under the leadership of Gilbert Dyer as president. This organization meets each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. At 8 o'clock the pastor will bring a message entitled "My New Year's Resolutions."

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST

You are summoned to appear in court—maybe tomorrow. The Bible tells of a great judgment going on at the bar of justice in heaven. It tells about the jury, the witnesses, the attorney. It tells when the court session starts. You must know when.

This important subject will be discussed at the weekly Friday evening lecture in the Seventh Day Adventist chapel, Fourth and Ridgeway streets. There will be special musical treats, your Bible questions answered, gifts to some, and valuable information to all. Come early and join the song service at 7:45.

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

C. Warner, Pastor
This is the season of the year when we are naturally thinking, inventing, profit, loss, etc. Our sermon topic for the Sunday morning worship will be, "A Partnership With God." At the Sunday evening at the 8:00 o'clock worship service, "The Local Church."

The General Council, the members of all groups, will meet at the church for the regular monthly meeting Wednesday, January 8. The church board will meet Monday evening, January 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clarke.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD RALLY

Friday evening a group of Baptist young people from various parts of the county met at the local Baptist church for their mid-winter rally. The program consisted of singing, special music, and an inspirational address by Rev. S. E. Anderson of Pendleton. Following this a social hour was conducted in the basement of the church, and refreshments were served.

Postponed Christmas Operetta Friday

The Columbia school is going to render its Christmas operetta Friday night, January 3, at the school house. The operetta was previously scheduled for December 20, but was postponed because of the flu epidemic in the community. The operetta is free to the public and everyone is invited to attend.

UMATILLA COUNTY SENDS MANY STUDENTS TO U. OF O.

Umatilla county has sent 49 students to the University of Oregon for the term just concluded, to help swell the total enrollment for this year to a new record high of 3622, according to word received here today. This is an increase of almost 100 over the figure of 3526 at this time a year ago.

Among the students from Umatilla county, classes and major subjects are: From Hermiston—Robert C. Jackson, freshman in science; Nina McCulley, sophomore in arts and letters; Jim W. Stuart, sophomore in physical education; Cecil R. Warner, sophomore in physical education. From Echo—Dorothy K. Reese, freshman in science.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

(A CHRISTMAS STORY)

By Roger Wheeler

EDITH'S drab room overlooked a snow-covered roof. Not the clean, cheery snow like they had back home on the farm but a murky gray covering on which rested the soot of a thousand city chimneys.

"So this is Christmas," she moaned, leaving her chair to pace the floor. "Oh! What I'd give to be back home tomorrow!"

But then, Edith had two Christmas presents to which she could look forward. Today, Christmas eve, the mailman MUST bring her annual package from home. And tomorrow there would be Christmas dinner with Ken—dear Ken who was working so hard these days that he could hardly take time off to think about Christmas.

Edith heard the bell ring downstairs and she skipped to her door, opening it softly and waiting tensely while the old landlady, answered.

Yes, it was the mailman! And then came the thrill cry: "Miss Harris! Mail for you!" Edith practically leaped down stairs, for there would be her package from home. Then her heart sank, for the landlady handed her only two letters, a greeting card from her friend Margie and (of all things at Christmas!) a bill from the department store.

Edith climbed sorrowfully back to her room and wept. Something was wrong, for Mother and Dad never forgot her at Christmas. She cried spasmodically the rest of the day, while downstairs she heard the other roomers shouting Christmas greetings as they arrived and departed.

But finally Edith consoled herself, for she could still look forward to Christmas dinner with Ken tomorrow!

He was due at two o'clock that day, and after church Edith hurried home to get ready. At 1:30 she was seated restlessly awaiting the doorbell.

She was still waiting at 2:30, for Ken did not arrive. And Edith was getting hungry.

Three o'clock passed, and Edith frowned. "What could have happened to him?" she asked herself.

At four o'clock she cried. It was too much! First her family had forgotten, and now Ken had chosen Christmas day to tell her in this painful fashion that he didn't care!

At 6 p. m. misery began mingling with the pangs of hunger. Edith put on her coat and started to the corner restaurant. But she never got past the door. There she ran into a breathless Ken.

"Edith, dear!" he cried. "Sorry to be so late, but I knew you'd understand when you got my note."

"But—" Edith was confused, "I didn't receive any note, Ken."

"What? But I sent a special delivery message when the boss asked me to finish that laboratory experiment this afternoon. What happened to it?"

The blundering old landlady answered him. "Please come in or go out, and close the door," she barked from the hall. Then—

"Incidentally, Miss Harris, I forgot to give you these things. They arrived this afternoon."

She handed Edith the missing special delivery letter—and a huge package from home! Edith tore into the Christmas box and found a note from Mother. They'd had a blizzard; couldn't get to town; she hoped Edith would get the package Christmas day.

A few minutes later a happy Edith sat across the table from her Ken in the little restaurant around the corner.

"And now, dear," he began very carefully. "How about your Christmas present for me?"

"But I gave you the fountain pen, Ken," she protested.

"Yes, silly one, and I appreciated it. But if you want to make me still happier, listen to this. The boss came in tonight and said I'd done such a fine job on that research project that he was raising my salary. Know what that means?"

"Not the faintest idea," Edith lied. For, after all, you can't take the words out of a man's mouth when he's about to propose!

Badger Feast

One of the strangest surviving Christmas customs is the badger feast held at Ilchester, Somerset. It was started by poachers in Norman times, says the Montreal Herald, and has continued without a break. The lads of the village catch a badger, kill and dress it some time before the feast. On Christmas eve it is strung on a spit over a huge fire at the inn and cooked slowly. When it is ready the party attack it with fingers and pen-knives; no cutlery other than this is allowed.

Annual Meeting Scheduled

The annual meeting of members of the Hermiston Cooperative Cannery and Laundry will be held Saturday, January 18, in the American Legion hall, according to Mrs. Henry Sommerer, secretary. The meeting will begin at 2:00 p. m. Coming up for action is the election of three directors and such other business as is necessary at an annual meeting.
