

Co-op Growth

The world today is torn by ideas, beliefs and forces which mark in no uncertain terms unsettled conditions. It is important that each of us should examine, and study, and think, regarding these various ideas and programs in order that we may intelligently evolve a semblance of order out of chaos, in order that we may gradually build out of the jumble of conflicting notions a definite program of growth and improvement that will be for the general welfare.

Congressman Jerry Voorhis of California says in a recent speech—"As I have studied and listened to the stories of the quiet, steady, substantial growth of cooperative associations among the consumers and farmers of America, I become more and more convinced that here is the thing that can, to a very great extent, answer the need we find in our country today. For the interest of the people as consumers is a universal interest—the one universal and therefore unifying economic interest in all modern life."

LOCAL BULLDOGS DEFEAT UMATILLA

Ray Critchfield's Hermiston high school Bulldogs nosed out Umatilla last Friday night on the port town court 29 to 25 after four quarters of close basketball. Umatilla led at the end of the first session 6-3, but Hermiston went ahead at the halfway mark 16 to 15.

This lead was increased 25 to 21 at the end of the third canto and the lead was maintained to the end of the contest. Holloman and Lane were respective high point men for Hermiston and Umatilla with 10 points each. B. Smith, D. Hamm of Hermiston and Macan of Umatilla each scored 6.

The Hermiston Reserves eked out a narrow 16 to 15 victory over the Umatilla Bees.

Lineups:
 Hermiston 29 25 Umatilla
 B. Smith 6 F 10 Lane
 Holloman 10 F 6 Macan
 D. Hamm 6 C 4 G. Rugg
 Tiller 4 G 3 E. Rugg
 Wilcox 3 G 2 Cooney

HEPPNER EKES OUT NARROW VICTORY

Hermiston almost upset the well known apple cart Saturday night at Heppner when they lost a 33 to 31 thriller to the Heppner Mustangs on the latter's court. The Heppner five were heavy pre-game favorites but the Bulldogs made the going rather rough for the home town team. The score was tied with but a few seconds to go when the winning score was made.

The Hermiston Reserves won their contest 23 to 18 in the preliminary.

The lineups:
 Hermiston 31 33 Heppner
 B. Smith 6 F 2 Blakely
 Holloman 4 F 1 Skuzeski
 Hamm 8 C 8 Snow
 Tiller 4 G Crawford
 Wilcox 9 9 4 Pinkney
 Substitutes: Hermiston—Dawson; Heppner—Skuzeski 6, Evans 10, Blakely 2.

Tea No Longer 'Sissy Drink,' Say Statisticians

More Americans than ever before are drinking tea today. And they're drinking it in more different places and different ways.

Actually the statisticians figure 7 out of every 10 Americans drink tea. The United States is the world's second largest tea importing nation. Annually 20,000,000 cups of tea slide down American throats.

One of the oddest facts about tea is the way the younger generation is taking to it.

During prohibition naughtiness was fashionable. But prohibition was repealed and America began to change its attitude.

Then out of Washington's social whirl came word that debutantes were beginning to protest against "teas" which were actually cocktail parties. They wanted tea at their teas. The protest struck a popular chord and rose in volume.

And the good old Victorian, was inclined to consider tea a sissy drink when he was in college. But tea has always been a preferred beverage at the college training table because of its pick-up effect and because it is virtually pure liquid and therefore completely digestible.

And today more than 70 per cent of the coaches of winning American football teams serve tea to their gridiron warriors.

What America has done to tea, of course, is typical of what America would do to tea, once it gets around to it. It has gone to the roots of the matter and, in that typical American manner, "discovered" tea (a beverage 4,000 years old).

New Instrument Provides Musical Accompaniment

Nine out of ten pianists—from the banging menace to the finger-ripping charmer—have wished at some point during their key-thumping careers that they had an orchestra to accompany them. Well, now they can have one. And right in their own home, too.

A recently invented musical adjunct for the piano which goes under the name "solovox" can do almost everything in the way of reproducing harmonious and varied sounds except sing to you. Tell it (by fingering its piano-like keyboard) to "take the melody" and it becomes your instrument soloist. You accompany its theme on the piano.

The "solovox" is a miniature 36-keyboard which attaches to the right hand side and below the regular keyboard of any piano—upright or grand. The position of the "solovox" keyboard allows the pianist to use his right thumb to "pick out" the desired solovox—i. e., solo voice—while leaving his left hand and right fingers for the piano accompaniment.

In a manner somewhat similar to an organ's reproduction of various orchestral instruments, the solo voice can be, alternately, a violin, saxophone, flute, horn, and so on. The solovox's complex mechanism was the brain child of Laurens Hammond, inventor of that jack of all musical trades—the novachord.

Experimental Tests for Cancer

Speaking before the section of dermatology and syphilology in the Commodore, Dr. Albert Strickler of the Skin and Cancer Hospital of Philadelphia, reported recently the first results of an experiment to find a test for determining the existence of cancer within the body.

Dr. Strickler said that after the urine of normal people and those with various degrees of the disease had been treated with ultraviolet rays and injected intravenously into rabbits, there were mostly negative results from the normal people and those with benign tumors. Rabbits injected from cutaneous and mammary malignancy cases, however, showed reactions of strong intensity in more than 80 per cent of the cases.

"It is our belief," he said, "that should an enlarged experience confirm the results we have obtained, the way would be paved for the diagnosis and recognition of malignancy in its early localized state."

Long-Lived Tire

An automobile tire which ran for 80,000 miles in road tests under conditions which wore out an ordinary cotton cord tire in 3,000 miles, was recently announced by William H. Bradshaw, director of research for E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co. The use of a rayon instead of a cotton ply produced the difference, he claimed. The 26-fold increase in length of wear was attributed to the fact that the new rayon is a "continuous filament," while a length of cotton contains "at least 60,000" twisted fibers, which "means 60,000 breaks in the continuity of the structure."

School for Meat Cutting

Said to be the first of its kind in this country, the state department of industrial relations, has started apprenticeships in meat cutting, with headquarters in San Diego, Calif.

The youths—34 have already enrolled—study at the San Diego Vocational school, and then apply what they learn on jobs in meat establishments in the city, who are co-operating in the program.

More than 1,000 youths are enrolled in the apprenticeship program which includes plumbing, electrical work, carpentry, brick-laying and sheet-metal working.

COLUMBIA SCHOOL NEWS

The operetta entitled "At the Court of Santa Claus" was presented by the boys and girls of Columbia school Friday evening, January 3, to a fine appreciative audience. The costumes and characterizations were intriguing. The solos of Ruth McCulley and Cecil Hunt were pleasing. The chorus numbers were catchy, fast moving melodies.

The cast for the operetta was as follows: Santa, Creston Buzzard; Mrs. Santa, Danda Townsend; Two Heralds, Dulcinea Panages and Wilma J. Tuttle; Four Pages, Franklin Thompson, Teddy Shaver, Donald Holman and Clifford Panages; Court Jester, Cecil Hunt; The Spirit of Christmas, Ruth McCulley; Eight Sprites, Trained Bunnies and Bluebirds; and Poor Family, Marian Linder, Patsy Holman, Claude Melton and Kenneth Hooker.

Hot lunches are being served daily, free to all boys and girls in the school. One hot dish is served. Friday is dessert day.

Since this week marks the close of semester, review and tests are being conducted in the intermediate and upper grade rooms.

SWINE ERYSIPELAS WARNING GIVEN

Swine erysipelas in turkeys is a relatively new disease that may show up in this district, according to information obtained from a letter from Dr. E. M. Dickinson, associate veterinarian of Oregon State college, and released through the assistant county agent's office. All Oregon outbreaks so far have been in the Willamette valley but reports of this infection in turkeys have come from investigators in several different states ranging from California to Massachusetts.

The organism which causes this disease is apparently the same as the germ which causes swine erysipelas in hogs, and consequently, the disease could be introduced to the community in this manner. If any sudden losses among turkey flocks are observed, especially in the case of males, which, upon examination appear to have large blotch hemorrhages under the skin in the muscle, and various visceral organs, such as the
